Fuller James L. Fuller, James L Fuller, 2010 Don and Vicki are cousins that enjoy doing things together For the last two years this has included flying hot air balloons During the last year they have been working on a dream They want to set a new record It is to be the youngest and fastest to pilot a hot air balloon from coast to coast across the United States of America They earn their balloon pilot licenses Vicki s Father designs builds and tests a new hot air balloon made from the latest materials for them to fly It took a year to get everything ready The ground crew has the balloon prepared Flight plans are filed Aircraft are assigned to shadow the balloon along its whole flight They check the weather forecasts The weather looks great Everything has been accounted for What could possibly go wrong The balloon flight starts with coverage by local radio and television stations The takeoff is perfect The flight goes as expected for the first few hours Boredom is setting in Then they fly over the Chocolate Mountain Gunnery Range It gives the balloon a twenty one gun salute That is reserved for rulers of countries It must be some mistake What country could Don and Vicki possibly rule The flight continues as expected for nine more hours Then they receive a weather update It says thunderstorms are likely over the mountains A storm catches the balloon before they can decide what to do They lose contact with their shadowing aircraft Updrafts catch the balloon The balloon bounces all around It rises out of control What will the storm do to them If they survive the storm will they get to set the record What happened to them in the storm Was it a dream or real The Lands West of the Lakes Stephen C. Druce, 2009-01-01 The period 1200 1600 CE saw a radical transformation from simple chiefdoms to kingdoms in archaeological terminology complex chiefdoms across lowland South Sulawesi a region that lay outside the classical Indicized parts of Southeast Asia The rise of these kingdoms was stimulated and economically supported by trade in prestige goods with other parts of island Southeast Asia yet the development of these kingdoms was determined by indigenous rather than imported political and cultural precepts Starting in the thirteenth century the region experienced a transition from swidden cultivation to wet rice agriculture rice was the major product that the lowland kingdoms of South Sulawesi exchanged with archipelagic traders Stephen Druce demonstrates this progression to political complexity by combining a range of sources and methods including oral textual archaeological linguistic and geographical information and analysis as he explores the rise and development of five South Sulawesi kingdoms known collectively as Ajattappareng the Lands West of the Lakes The author also presents an inquiry into oral traditions of a historical nature in South Sulawesi He examines their functions their processes of transmission and transformation their uses in writing history and their relationship to written texts He shows that any distinction between oral and written traditions of a historical nature is largely irrelevant and that the South Sulawesi chronicles which can be found only for a small number of kingdoms are not characteristic as historians have argued but exceptional in the corpus of indigenous South Sulawesi historical sources The book will be of primary interest to scholars of pre European contact Southeast Asia including historians archaeologists anthropologists linguists and geographers and scholars with a broader interest in oral tradition and the relationship between the oral and written registers
