The Long Heat Andreas Malm, Wim Carton, 2025-10-07 A scathing critique of proposals to geoengineer our way out of climate disaster by the bestselling authors of Overshoot The world is crossing the 1.5°C global warming limit perhaps exceeding 2°C soon after What is to be done when these boundaries set by the Paris Agreement have been passed In the overshoot era schemes proliferate for muscular adaptation or for new technologies to turn the heat down at a later date by removing CO<sub>2</sub> from the air or blocking sunlight Such technologies are by no means safe they come with immense risks and provide an excuse for those who would prefer to avoid limiting emissions in the present But do they also hold out some potential Can the catastrophe be reversed masked or simply adapted to once it is a fact Or will any such round about measures simply make things worse The Long Heat maps the new front lines in the struggle for a liveable planet and insists on the climate revolution long overdue In the end no technology can absolve us of responsibility for our planet and each other

ever imagined possible Building a mind so strong would take years of effort and discipline but it would propel Kastor to the pinnacle of running to American records in every distance from the 5K to the marathon and to the accomplishment of earning America's first Olympic medal in the marathon in twenty years Let Your Mind Run is a fascinating intimate look inside the mind of an elite athlete a remarkable story of achievement and an insightful primer on how the small steps of cultivating possibility can give anyone a competitive edge

Stars to Steer By Julia Jones, 2025-05-08 The extraordinary stories of the fearless women who set their sights on the sea in an all male world paving the way for the female sailing superstars of today Gender issues are stark at sea Historically a ship's crew is all male and although vessels are referred to as she women's contributions to sailing have been largely ignored if not actively opposed Today's sailing legends such as Tracy Edwards and Ellen MacArthur compete with men on equal terms but they stand on the shoulders of many women before them who had to challenge preconceptions prejudice and even the law in their wish to sail Spanning the 19th century to today Julia Jones dives into the lives of an array of incredible and unconventional women we meet single handed sailors wealthy explorers long suffering wives and penniless chancers with a thirst for adventure Each had to face down barriers of official exclusion family imposed restriction social disapproval and often a resulting lack of self belief In the 21st century British women wear Admiral's uniforms and break global yachting records yet their journey to professional sailing remains challenging and the public face of sailing remains mostly male evident in the lack of female Commodores in prestigious yacht clubs Even as sailing becomes more accessible the remarkable contributions within these stories are a precious source of inspiration to all women facing their own challenges today at the prospect of years in prison without her child She loses hope when the helicopter vanishes and lives inside herself in her own empty place Yet she must still keep alive the fathers good legacy for the sake of the child In her mind she sees an escape she will return to her lover and his crocodile spirit end it all and be free of this misery Her friends and the detective suspect the intentions desperate to help her but powerless to protect her from herself They must keep seeking truth It is a race against time Can the truth be uncovered before the trial ends Susan is increasingly desperate too She wants her escape she must keep the truth hidden the investigation is closing in She must divert them She has a plan her own death will be the diversion and will bury the secret forever
