The Taittirīya-upanishad, 1903 Running For My Life Dragoș Rouă, 2020-10-13 The spooky thing about depression is that it sneaks in There aren't really trumpets and loud voices announcing Hail hail this is depression entering the room all rise Nope It's slow silent creepy It doesn't even look like depression It starts with small isolation thoughts like Maybe I shouldn't get out today I just don't feel like going out And then it does the same next day And then the day after that and so on And then it starts to whisper louder and louder in your ears Why would you go outside you loser Didn't have enough yet Want more people to make fun of how much of a big fat loser you are And then you start to breathe in guilt and shame instead of air Every breathe you take is putting more dark thoughts into your body Until you get stuck You can't move anymore At all One of the most common sensations I had during those times was me curling down in a corner crushed by the immense weight of a huge invisible fist pushing me down I was feeling like this when I was lying down in the bed when I was walking around in the backyard when I was talking to people on the phone Crushed by an immense invisible fist unable to move in any direction just waiting to be completely destroyed Sometimes I was actually hoping that the destruction will come from that fist somehow because it would spare me the effort of doing it myself Yes there were times when I felt the only viable way out from that nothingness was my physical extinction I think the word many of you use for that is suicidal The book you are about to read is the chronicle of my way out of that space Some parts of it are recorded just as I lived them in the moment journaling style Some chapters are literally pages from my journal blog But some are written once the healing effect of running started to kick in It's not so much about being able to run hundreds of kilometers although a lot of it will be just stories about my races as it is about how to regain balance and overcome anxiety and loss

On the morning of August 5 1984 four of the greatest marathoners of all time lined up for one of the most important and long awaited races in history By then they had dominated their competition for at least five years upending a century's worth of preconceived notions of what marathoners could do By decade's end they had lowered the world record a total of 13 minutes won 27 major marathon titles and swept every Olympic and World Championship held in the 1980s And in their careers only once did all four American Joan Benoit Norwegians Grete Waitz and Ingrid Kristiansen and Portugal's Rosa Mota square off in the same race at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics in the first ever Women's Olympic Marathon Such was their talent that Benoit the world record holder entered the race as the underdog She'd had knee surgery in April and no one least of all Benoit herself was certain she could hold up for 26 miles against her three rivals Waitz the former world record holder was the favorite she had destroyed the field at the 1983 World Championships and had never lost a marathon she had finished Kristiansen who had beaten Waitz twice in the summer of 1984 albeit at shorter distances was considered the fastest woman in the race she held world records at 5 000m and 10 000m and would break Benoit's marathon record in 1985 Mota had beaten Kristiansen at the 1982 European marathon championships and was already earning a reputation for raising her level in the biggest races This is their story and the story of the first women s Olympic Marathon      Run, It Might Be Somebody Ephraim Romesberg,2005-10-24 Book Summary of Run It Might Be Somebody By Ephraim Romesberg The book covers a span of over 70 years starting with the author as a shy sickly boy who was the last of 11 children living on a farm during the great depression and ends with the author as a 74 year old man who still runs ultra distant marathons In the first chapter the author presents stories and anecdotes often in a humorous way to describe some of the joys and hardships of growing up in a large family during the great depression Compared to today life was very different then with no TVs very few radios no computers no running water in the home except in the pantry where there was a hand pump and very few toys or luxuries of any kind Also and perhaps more significantly kids for the most part were given chores and did not have time to get into trouble There were no drugs no gangs and no boredom Being the youngest in the family and somewhat sickly the author was to some extent given some slack on farm chores Even so he had daily chores to do starting from a very early age such as milking cows driving the old model T truck fetching the cows cleaning stables feeding livestock driving a tractor and helping wherever help was needed The book describes the one room school house that all kids in the area attended at that time The authors dad had to quit such a school while in third grade to work on the farm when his father died leaving the family without any money or food His mother completed school through eighth grade which was all that most people considered necessary in those days especially for women So there was little or no pressure from the parents to go to school after that As a result the three oldest boys in the family never went past eighth grade There were other reasons to stay home and the most important one was they had no decent clothing The book tells about the Authors mother removing the white stripes from an old pair of band pants and one of the three boys who never completed high school then removing all the little white threads so that he could wear the pants to school He also had no decent shoes so he added home made soles to the bottoms of a pair of his work shoes by attaching them with roofing nails so that he could make the long four mile walk to the school After several trips the nails poked through the bottoms of the shoes and wore holes in his feet Because of that and the lure of the upcoming hunting season and the need to work on the farm he quit school after only a month or so Except for the three oldest boys all of the kids completed high school and several went on to college The book describes such things as making hay the old fashioned way husking corn by hand hoeing corn and then picking rocks while resting butchering a pig delivering baby pigs and calves threshing to separate the grain from the straw and the authors Mom squirting milk straight from the cows tit at cats and grandkids Also described are how the young boys in the family learned to handle a team of horses when they were only 10 years old how one of the boys accidentally cut off his little sisters finger how an uncle lost his leg to the stump puller how the author when he was only eight years old tried to explain to a blind preacher how to use the out house and the Sears Roebuck catalog which was used instead of toilet paper Also described and a little more on the lighter side one of the authors sisters claimed that you havent lived until you ran barefoot through a cow pasture and felt the warmth of a fresh cow patty ooze up between your toes The early chapters also describe the authors time in the US Navy where he was sea sick every time the ship left the dock Hunting stories tell of deer hunting with more failures than successes One successful      1,001 Pearls of Runners' Wisdom Bill Katovsky,2012-06-05 Presents musings on running by those ranging from the sport s greats Roger Bannister and Wilma Rudolph to author Ernest Hemingway and talk show host David Letterman      A Bibliography of Nathaniel Hawthorne ,1905
