Rural Settlement Structure And African Development:

Rural Settlement Structure And African Development Marilyn Silberfein, 2019-09-16 This volume is the result of a group of researchers applying their insights and experience to a common theme All the authors are concerned with rural development in Africa and all have focused on the connection between the development process and the arrangement of people and their built environment in rural space Both anthropologists and geographers have contributed to the dialogue on this subject and representatives of the two disciplines are included in this volume The members of this group have never all been in the same place at the same time and so have utilized various electronic modes of communication to link their locations around the world Two conferences were organized however among a subset of the whole in order to generate a group discussion One of these meetings was a symposium on African rural development held at Temple University while a second was organized at the African Studies Association Meetings in Toronto Both opportunities helped raise issues that found their way into individual chapters The audience in each case further stimulated our thinking

Rural Settlement Structure and African Development Marilyn Silberfein, 1998 Property and Political Order in Africa Catherine Boone, 2014-02-10 In sub Saharan Africa property relationships around land and access to natural resources vary across localities districts and farming regions These differences produce patterned variations in relationships between individuals communities and the state This book captures these patterns in an analysis of structure and variation in rural land tenure regimes In most farming areas state authority is deeply embedded in land regimes drawing farmers ethnic insiders and outsiders lineages villages and communities into direct and indirect relationships with political authorities at different levels of the state apparatus The analysis shows how property institutions institutions that define political authority and hierarchy around land shape dynamics of great interest to scholars of politics including the dynamics of land related competition and conflict territorial conflict patron client relations electoral cleavage and mobilization ethnic politics rural rebellion and the localization and nationalization of political competition

Working the Sahel W.M. Adams, M.J. Mortimore, 2005-08-08 This book looks at how people in the semi arid conditions of the Sahel cope with their harsh environment It draws on four years of field research with farmers in the Sahelian region and builds on work with these communities over several decades Reporting on studies of four village communities it shows how people work to achieve sustainable livelihoods and emphasises that there can be development without disaster

Roads Through Mwinilunga Iva Peša, 2019-07-29 Roads through Mwinilunga provides a historical appraisal of social change in Northwest Zambia from 1750 until the present By looking at agricultural production mobility consumption and settlement patterns existing explanations of social change are reassessed Using a wide range of archival and oral history sources Iva Peša shows the relevance of Mwinilunga to broader processes of colonialism capitalism and globalisation Through a focus on daily life this book complicates transitions from subsistence to market production and dichotomies between tradition and modernity Roads through Mwinilunga is a crucial addition to debates on historical and social change in Central Africa Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Future of Africa and Policy Development Tshabangu, Icarbord, 2022-03-11 Despite several idealistic efforts towards a united Africa the term remains a hypothetical concept symbolizing a desired federal state on the continent While globalization and interconnectedness have brought prosperity in some parts of the world Africa has not generally benefited from global decisions These decisions policies and practices have tended to be wholly influenced by the rich and powerful countries and their transnational agencies and corporations in pursuit of their national interests Faced with such enormous external economic and political forces the divided and powerless African states have been unable to bargain for lucrative economic deals or pursue national interests for the benefit of their people hence the need to examine what exists in varied fields and the emerging trends for the future Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Future of Africa and Policy Development addresses critical issues and challenges in Africa and seeks to examine and understand the future trends in Africa through a deconstructive interrogation of present trends Covering a wide range of topics such as sustainability equality and democracy it is ideal for researchers academicians students economists policymakers political parties trade unions and NGOs Settlement Ecology Glenn Davis Stone, 2022-11-08 What determines agrarian settlement patterns Glenn Davis Stone addresses this question by analyzing the spatial aspects of agrarian ecology the relationship between how farmers farm and where they settle and how farming and settlement change as population density rises Crosscutting the fields of cultural anthropology archaeology geography and agricultural economics Settlement Ecology presents a new perspective on the process of agricultural intensification and explores the relationships between intensification and settlement decision making Stone insists that paleotechnic traditional agriculture must be seen as a social process with the social organization of agricultural work playing a key role in shaping settlement characteristics These relationships are demonstrated in a richly documented case study of the Kofyar who have been settling a frontier in the Nigerian savanna The history of agricultural change and the development of the settlement pattern are reconstructed through ethnography archival research and aerial photos and are analyzed using innovative graphical methods Stone also reflects on the limits of ecological determination of settlement comparing the farming and settlement trajectories of the Kofyar and Tiv on the same frontier "The smell of Ujamaa is still there" Daniel Mann, 2017-12-04 Fifty years after the Arusha Declaration this book sets out to reevaluate one of the most important roots of Tanzania's Ujamaa Socialism The Ruvuma Development Association Based on a basic democratic movement of young politicized farmers this organization not only brought together up to 18 cooperative villages in southwestern Tanzania it also became the inspiration for President Nyerere to put his vision of a modern socialist society built on the image of the traditional extended family into a concrete development model on national scale Led by a participative understanding of empirical research this explorative study has analyzed the local history of Ujamaa in three case study villages within Ruvuma Through employing a mix of expert and narrative interviews as well as group interviews and villager questionnaires the study sheds new light on the local perceptions of Ujamaa history and communal development as well as on the interrelations between local and national scale on Tanzania's path of development. It identifies the recent farmers groups vikundi as some of the most important heirs to the Nation's socialist ideology and concludes that in many aspects the smell of Ujamaa is still there.

Chiefs, Power, and Social Change Olufemi Vaughan, 2003. Identifying the institution of chiefship as the focal point of critical discourse on continuity and social change in colonial and postcolonial Botswana, this book offers extensive analysis of the values and aspirations of a rapidly changing twentieth century country. Underscoring the central role of chiefship structures in Botswana's historical state formation, the book also analyses the transformation of the institution in three major areas of Botswana's history including imperialism, decolonisation and the nation state project of the postcolonial period.

The Archaeology of Medieval Villages Currently Inhabited in Europe Jesús Fernández Fernández, Margarita Fernández Mier, 2019-08-29. Archaeological interventions in European rural settlements have largely focussed on villages abandoned during the last millennium. Most hamlets and villages of medieval origin remain inhabited, however, and excavations have been scarce. This book details excavations of inhabited sites in the UK, the Netherlands, France, Scandinavia and Spain.

Urban Life in the Distant Past Michael E. Smith, 2023-03-30. The book describes a novel approach to early cities that is transdisciplinary, scientific, historical and based on social science knowledge.

Disposable Cities Garth Andrew Myers, 2017-03-02. Based on in-depth fieldwork in three cities: Dar es Salaam, Zanzibar and Lusaka, this book provides a critical analysis of the United Nations Sustainable Cities Program in Africa. Focusing on the SCP's policies for solid waste management, which was identified as the top priority problem by the SCP, the book examines the success of these pilot schemes and the SCP's record in building new relationships between people and government. It argues that the SCP has operated in a political vacuum without recognition of the long and problematic histories and cultural politics of urban environmental governance in Eastern and Southern Africa. This book brings these cultural and political histories to the fore in its examination of the contemporary dynamics. In doing so, it not only provides an insightful analysis of the policies and outcomes for the SCP but also puts forward a historically grounded critique of neoliberalism, good governance and sustainable development discourses.

Landscapes of Movement and Predation Brenda J. Bowser, Catherine M. Cameron, 2024. Landscapes of Movement and Predation is a global study of times and places in the colonial and precolonial eras where people were subject to brutality, displacement and loss of life, liberty, livelihood and possessions. The book provides a startling new perspective on an aspect of the past that is often overlooked: the role of violence in shaping where, how and with whom people lived.

Africa's Geography Benjamin Ofori-Amoah, 2019-04-30. Africa's Geography presents a comprehensive exploration of the world's second largest and most culturally diverse continent. Author Benjamin Ofori-Amoah challenges common misconceptions and misrepresentations of Africa from a geographical perspective, harnessing the power of modern geographic mapping technology to explore this unique continent. This text provides thorough coverage of the historical cultural economic and political forces that continue to shape Africa applying geographic context to relevant past and contemporary issues Coverage of economic development climate and biogeography transportation and communication manufacturing and commerce and mining and agriculture provides foundational knowledge of this vast and complex continent Ideally suited for multiple areas of classroom study this text offers an effective and flexible pedagogical framework Coverage of the entirety of Africa enables students to develop a cohesive portrait of the continent as a whole and identify the dynamism of its nations cultures and economies Engaging and accessible narrative strengthens comprehension while examples of historical and contemporary events increase student interest Innovative and unique Africa s Geography is an essential resource for cross disciplinary investigation of this fascinating part of the world In Search of Modernity Paul Tiyambe Zeleza,Ibulaimu Kakoma,2003 Having grappled with the question of modernisation for a long time Africa now faces an issue that with an increasingly knowledge based global economy has only become more urgent in this new millennium This volume examines Africa s scientific and technological literacy production and consumption focusing in detail on the constraints and challenges opportunities and developments and the strategies required to promote the advancement of IT and biotechnology in Africa to help advance our understanding of science and technology developments in Africa

Geography in America at the Dawn of the 21st Century Gary L. Gaile,Cort J. Willmott,2005 Geography in America at the Dawn of the 21st Century surveys American geographers current research in their specialty areas and tracks trends and innovations in the many subfields of geography As such it is both a state of the discipline assessment and a topical reference It includes an introduction by the editors and 47 chapters each on a specific specialty The authors of each chapter were chosen by their specialty group of the American Association of Geographers AAG Based on a process of review and revision the chapters in this volume have become truly representative of the recent scholarship of American geographers While it focuses on work since 1990 it additionally includes related prior work and work by non American geographers The initial Geography in America was published in 1989 and has become a benchmark reference of American geographical research during the 1980s This latest volume is completely new and features a preface written by the eminent geographer Gilbert White Agriculture, Human Security, and Peace M. Taeb,A. H. Zakri,2008 Covering more than the conventional food only role of agriculture the international contributors to this volume detail how the solution to agricultural problems can lead to general socioeconomic and political development in impoverished countries The Winds of History Andreas Zeman,2023-10-24 Based on extensive archival research in six countries and intensive fieldwork the book analyzes the history of the village of Nkhlongue on the eastern Mozambican shores of Lake Malawi from the time of its formation in the 19th century to the present day The study uses Nkhlongue as a microhistorical lens to examine such diverse topics as the slave trade the spread of Islam colonization subsistence production counter insurgency decolonization civil war ecotourism and matriliney Thereby the book attempts to reflect as much as possible on the generalizability and global comparability of local findings by framing analyses in historiographical discussions that aim to go beyond the regional or national level. Although the chapters of the book deal with very different topics they are united by a common interest in the social history of rural Africa in the longue durée. Contrary to persistent clichés of rural inertia in Africa the book as a whole underscores the profound changeability of social conditions and relations in Nkhlongue over the years and highlights how people's room for maneuver kept changing as a result of the Winds of History the frequent and often violent ruptures brought to the village from outside.

Regional Policy in the Southern African Development Community J. Ernst Drewes, Mariske van Aswegen, 2024-03-19. This book analyses regional development policy or the lack thereof in the Southern African Development Community SADC which forms a key trading bloc on the African continent as well as the Global South. It explores the main attributes relevant to the formulation of regional policy in terms of socio-economic policies as well as spatial planning instruments. Further it integrates macro and sectoral policy frameworks and applies the goals and objectives thereof practically through the appropriate and timely application of spatial targeting instruments within the SADC as a developing region. The focus of the research is to reflect on the social economic environmental and political arguments through a focused analysis of relevant planning instruments policies and barriers in terms of the regional policy goals for the SADC region. The book provides insight into the role of the SADC in the context of regional development analyses regional policy on a national regional and continental scale with reference to the SADC and evaluates the inherent potential in the regional economy as well as barriers to regional development. It identifies gaps in the existing regional policy framework of the region and its constituent members and makes recommendations for improved regional policy frameworks and their implementation. The book is targeted at scholars researchers and students studying international trade as well as regional and economic development and urban and regional planning and policy. It will also be a useful resource for policymakers as it provides practical policy guidelines for improved regional planning towards a comprehensive regional policy framework.
