Selected Practice Recommendations For Contraceptive Use:

Selected Practice Recommendations for Contraceptive Use World Health Organization. Reproductive Health and Research, World Health Organization. Family and Community Health, 2005 This document is one of two evidence based cornerstones of the World Health Organization's WHO new initiative to develop and implement evidence based guidelines for family planning The first cornerstone the Medical eligibility criteria for contraceptive use third edition published in 2004 provides guidance for who can use contraceptive methods safely This document the Selected practice recommendations for contraceptive use second edition provides guidance for how to use contraceptive methods safely and effectively once they are deemed to be medically appropriate The recommendations contained in this document are the product of a process that culminated in an expert Working Group meeting held at the World Health Organization Geneva 13-16 April 2004 U.S.

Selected Practice Recommendations for Contraceptive Use, 2013 Kathryn M. Curtis, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U.S.), National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (U.S.). Division of Reproductive Health, 2013 The U.S. Selected Practice Recommendations for Contraceptive Use 2013 U.S. SPR comprises recommendations that address a select group of common yet sometimes controversial or complex issues regarding initiation and use of specific contraceptive methods These recommendations are a companion document to the previously published CDC recommendations U.S. Medical Eligibility Criteria for Contraceptive Use 2010 U.S. MEC U.S. MEC describes who can use various methods of contraception whereas this report describes how contraceptive methods can be used CDC based these U.S. SPR guidelines on the global family planning guidance provided by the World Health Organization WHO Although many of the recommendations are the same as those provided by WHO they have been adapted to be more specific to U.S. practices or have been modified because of new evidence In addition four new topics are addressed including the effectiveness of female sterilization extended use of combined hormonal methods and bleeding problems starting regular contraception after use of emergency contraception and determining when contraception is no longer needed The recommendations in this report are intended to serve as a source of clinical guidance for health care providers health care providers should always consider the individual clinical circumstances of each person seeking family planning services This report is not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice for individual patients Persons should seek advice from their health care providers when considering family planning options
