Canon 1096 on Ignorance with Application to Tribunal and Pastoral Practice Girard M. Sherba, 2001 Before Vatican II marriage was often considered or at least popularly expressed as a union of bodies that is to say marriage was an exclusive contract by which a man and a woman mutually handed over their bodies for the purpose of acts which led to the procreation of children Matrimonial jurisprudence was primarily focused on this marital contract With the advent of Vatican II and its emphasis on the personalist notion of marriage a new age dawned whereby canonists especially auditors of the Roman Rota were henceforth to view marriage as a union of persons Person is more than a body rather a person is an individual consisting of wants needs desires impulses hopes and dreams whose life experience has been shaped by the milieu cultural familial religious from which he or she comes Union is not only simply understood as a contract but also is now once again recognized as a covenant a concept which at least in the Latin Church was prevalent until the 12th century One of the canons of the 1983 CIC although almost identical in wording to its predecessor in the 1917 CIC but which now must be understood and interpreted in light of the teachings of Vatican II is canon 1096 which pertains to the effect of ignorance on matrimonial consent Given the current appreciation of marriage founded in the teachings of Vatican II especially in Gaudium et spes reiterated by Popes Paul VI and John Paul II and described in the Catechism of the Catholic Church complicated by today s western society s stress on individualism and permeated by a divorce mentality what is the impact of this canon on matrimonial consent How can its meaning once understood as being wider than merely the sexual act itself be better utilized by those in tribunal ministry This is the major thrust of the present work The research of the history and development of the concept of ignorance in canonical writings how its understanding broadened especially after Vatican II and our conclusions on how to apply its richness to marriage nullity led us to expand the use of this canon how it can aid in the development of pre marital preparation programs which would not only possibly help prevent couples from being ignorant of the essence of marriage but also help them to appreciate this richness more deeply in their own lives so that marriage truly can become as we read in canon 1055 a partnership of the whole of life which is ordered by its nature to the good of the spouses and the procreation and education of offspring It is our sincere hope that this study with its extensive footnotes and up to date bibliography will not only be of benefit to all who read it but also will serve as a spring board for further discussion and use of this canon as a ground for nullity and other pastoral uses

Mystics of the Christian Tradition Steven Fanning,2005-06-29 From divine visions to self tortures some strange mystical experiences have shaped the Christian tradition as we know it Full of colourful detail Mystics of the Christian Tradition examines the mystical experiences that have determined the history of Christianity over two thousand years and reveals the often sexual nature of these encounters with the divine In this fascinating account Fanning reveals how God s direct revelation to St Francis of Assisi led to his living with lepers and kissing their sores and describes the mystical life of Margery Kempe who took weeping to new decibel levels Through presenting the lives of almost a hundred mystics this broad survey invites us to consider what it means to be a mystic and to explore how people such as Joan of Arc had their lives determined by divine visions Mystics of the Christian Tradition is a comprehensive guide to discovering what mysticism means and who the mystics of the Christian tradition actually were Anglo-Saxon Spirituality: Selected Writings ,2000

The Analysis of Virtue in Alasdair MacIntyre and His View of “The Enlightenment Project” Benjamin Okon MSP,2016-04-15 MacIntyre is greatly discontented with the nature of contemporary morality which according to him has a form i e what appears like morality but lacks essential content He argues that the most common feature of contemporary ethical discourse is that much of it is used to express individual preferences which leads to disagreements among philosophers and eventually results in debates that are interminable in character MacIntyre attributes the cause of this situation to the activities of the enlightenment philosophers of the 17th and 18th centuries who in an attempt to find rational justification for morality repudiated those essential elements that define the essence of morality and give it its contents Such elements include historical narrative tradition teleology and divine law In MacIntyres opinion morality so constructed was destined for failure since it was not founded on the true nature of the human person The obvious consequences of this failure were the birth of diverse post enlightenment ethical theories and a substantial change in the conception of virtue In order to remedy this deplorable condition of contemporary ethics MacIntyre along with other virtue ethicists advocates a certain renaissance of ethical principles that are founded on the true nature of the human person characterized by historical narrative tradition and teleology all grounded on divine legislation Morality thus reconstructed finds its fullest expression in the theory of human character traits i e virtues This is what has motivated MacIntyres construction of virtue theory which has brought him into confrontation with the enlightenment philosophers Our study and analysis of MacIntyres theory of virtue reveals that his account of virtue is inadequate This inadequacy is what has motivated our own project of reconstructing MacIntyres theory of virtue in view of offering an account of virtue that is adequate In this way our own project complements that of MacIntyre
