Selected Works of Jawaharlal Nehru: pt. 1. 1 March 1951-30 June 1951 Jawaharlal Nehru, 1994 Prophet and Statesmen in Crafting Democracy in India Fabio Leone, 2019-09-05 Drawing on expert works early political and government records and personal correspondence Fabio Leone examines the most commonly cited explanations of the unlikely and puzzling democratization of India He concludes that the creation of Indian democracy is best understood when assessing the combination of capacities and behaviors of the Indian political leadership Through a theoretical framework he demonstrates that Indian democratization was the result of successful interplay between a limited number of key leaders with the main player being Jawaharlal Nehru Prophet and Statesmen in Crafting Democracy in India offers an explanation of the origins of Indian democracy that will interest scholars and students of comparative politics democratization political leadership and South Asian politics and history Gandhi's Emissary Sudhir Ghosh, 2022-01-26 In 1946 at the age of 29 the author was chosen by Mahatma Gandhi to act as unofficial emissary between the British Labour Government and India in the delicate negotiations which resulted in the country's independence His unique position enabled him to give the world a moving and informed account of the principal actors in the drama that led to the division of India and Pakistan and the creation of a parliamentary democracy in India With the resurgence of interest and debate on Partition in India and Pakistan and around the world in the context of current international groupings it is fitting that this book be brought back into circulation Forged in Crisis Rudra Chaudhuri, 2014-03-30 Rudra Chaudhuri's book examines a series of crises that led to far reaching changes in India's approach to the United States defining the contours of what is arguably the imperative relationship between America and the global South Forged in Crisis provides a fresh interpretation of India's advance in foreign affairs under the stewardship of Prime Ministers Jawaharlal Nehru Indira Gandhi Atal Bihari Vajpayee and finally Manmohan Singh It reveals the complex and distinctive manner in which India sought to pursue at once material interests and ideas while meticulously challenging the shakier and largely untested reading of non alignment palpable in most works on Indian foreign policy and international relations From the Korean War in 1950 to the considered debate within India on sending troops to Iraq in 2003 and from the loss of territory to China and the subsequent talks on Kashmir with Pakistan in 1962-63 to the signing of a civil nuclear agreement with Washington in 2008 Chaudhuri maps Indian negotiating styles and behaviour and how these shaped and informed decisions vital to its strategic interest in turn redefining its relationship with the United States Selected works Jawaharlal Nehru, Sarvepalli Gopal, 1994 Selected Works of Jawaharlal Nehru: 1 January 1953-31 March 1953 Jawaharlal Nehru, 1984 This volume covers nearly eleven weeks from October 6 1948 when Nehru left India for London to attend the Commonwealth Prime Ministers Conference to December 19 when the annual session of the Indian National Congress at Jaipur concluded It collects Nehru's addresses and articles related to this stressful time in world history Among his articles are support for the causes of Indonesia and the Africans in their battles against alien rulers arguments for the continued membership of India in the Commonwealth and a piece on the importance of protecting Indian interests in neighboring countries Above all Nehru stressed the need to maintain secular values and the urgency of restructuring the economy to meet the demands of free India

The Tibetans: Two Perspectives on Tibetan-Chinese Relations Chris Mullin, Phuntsog Wangyal, 1983-08-02 This report provides information on the historical and current situation in Tibet with the aim of contributing to public understanding of the problems It consists of two parts The author of part one compares the theoretical basis for relations between the Chinese Government and minority groups with actual practice in the largest autonomous region Tibet His account outlines life in Tibet before during and after the 1950 1959 uprising and describes the situation today regarding education religion language and administration He points out that the professed desire of the government to preserve minority cultures has not worked in practice and that Tibet is the least successful example of relations between the government and a minority group While health and welfare of minority groups may have improved official policy has led to the suppression of Tibetan religion and culture with the aim of integrating the Tibetan people in Chinese culture He contends that political oppression and human rights violations are continuing The author of part 2 describes the history of Tibet and of the Dalai Lamas and of the Chinese invasion and its aftermath including the situation of Tibetans in exile He concludes that racial discrimination is becoming increasingly part of the Tibetan problem and warns that the longer the delay in reaching a settlement the more likely that any traces of Tibetan culture remaining will be destroyed Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues
