Selected Papers From The Hall Of Harmonious Wind:

Selected Papers from the Hall of Harmonious Wind Cunren Liu, 1976-01-01 Selected papers from the hall of harmonious wind Ts'un-jên Liu, 1976 Daoism in History Benjamin Penny, 2006-04-18 Over the last decade there has been a marked increase in the study of Daoism especially in Japan China and the West with a new generation of scholars broadening our understanding of the religion Including contributions from the foremost scholars in the field Daoism in History presents new and important research These essays honour one of the pioneers of Daoist studies Emeritus Professor Liu Ts'un-yan His major essay Was Celestial Master Zhang a Historical Figure addresses one of the pivotal questions in the entire history of Daoism and is included here as the final essay In addition a Chinese character glossary bibliography and index conclude the book The first in an exciting new series this book presents brand new thinking on Daoism a field now recognized as one of the most vital areas of research in Chinese history and the history of religions Selected Papers from the Hall of Harmonious Wind Ts'un-yan Liu, 1976 Selected Papers from the Hall of Harmonious Wind Tsun-jen Liu, 1976 The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Zoroastrianism Michael Stausberg, Yuhán Sohrab-Dinshaw Vevaina, 2022-12-12 This is the first ever comprehensive English language survey of Zoroastrianism one of the oldest living religions Evenly divided into five thematic sections beginning with an introduction to Zoroaster Zarathustra and concluding with the intersections of Zoroastrianism and other religions Reflects the global nature of Zoroastrian studies with contributions from 34 international authorities from 10 countries Presents Zoroastrianism as a cluster of dynamic historical and contextualized phenomena reflecting the current trend to move away from textual essentialism in the study of religion

Fictionality and Reality in Narrative Discourse Li-fen Chen, 2000-01-20 This dissertation is an attempt to define a Chinese modernism exemplified by the narrative practices of four major writers in Taiwan today from the perspective of comparative literature and recent development of literary theory I propose that modernity of Taiwanese fiction is not so much a result of Western influences as an evolution of Chinese narrative tradition itself To argue my point I delineate a poetics of Chinese narrative from which I devise a method of reading and a criterion of evaluation for contemporary Taiwanese fiction in defining its achievement and historical significance This study of Taiwanese fiction also aims at providing a better understanding of fundamental aesthetic assumptions of Western modernism in the context of its own literary tradition Chapter One Introduction investigates the theoretical foundation and its line of development in Western and Chinese poetics respectively It first examines the Platonic view of mimesis and Aristotelian aesthetic view of fictionality and their influence on the critical tradition the continuity of the ancient battle between philosophy and poetry as seen in the structuralist and deconstructionist theories then the relationship between subjective fictionality and ironic objectivity in Chinese poetics the continuity of the dilemma in the Chinese novelists in their dual allegiance to the ideal and the real A final section gives a critical overview of the literary scene in Taiwan The following four chapters provide examples of the internal tension between fictionality and ironic awareness in the Taiwanese modernist texts I suggest that instead of stretching the metaphorical potential of fiction to a highly intellectualized abstraction or playing down the interpretive claims of fiction by dramatizing its vulnerability like their Western counterpart the Taiwanese modernists create their texts on the borderline between the high and the low Self assertive as well as self denying each of them confronts his own intellectual vision with paradox and ambivalence In Ch en Ying chen this is expressed as a battle between a lyrical vision of ideological values and an instinctive self clowning in Ch i teng Sheng as a form of competition between pattern and contingency in Wang Chen ho as a celebration and abuse of the fictionality of fiction and in Wang Wen hsing an intense self parody I conclude that the sensitivity to the irrational and contradiction inherent with a resistance to didacticism constitutes the best part of the Chinese humanistic tradition which is continuously enriched with new dimensions by the contemporary Taiwanese writers

Encyclopedia of Chinese History Michael Dillon,2016-12-01 China has become accessible to the west in the last twenty years in a way that was not possible in the previous thirty The number of westerners travelling to China to study for business or for tourism has increased dramatically and there has been a corresponding increase in interest in Chinese culture society and economy and increasing coverage of contemporary China in the media Our understanding of China s history has also been evolving The study of history in the People s Republic of China during the Mao Zedong period was strictly regulated and primary sources were rarely available to westerners or even to most Chinese historians Now that the Chinese archives are open to researchers there is a growing body of academic expertise on history in China that is open to western analysis and historical methods This has in many ways changed the way that Chinese history particularly the modern period is viewed The Encyclopedia of Chinese History covers the entire span of Chinese history from the period known primarily through archaeology to the present day Treating Chinese history in the broadest sense the Encyclopedia includes coverage of the frontier regions of Manchuria Mongolia Xinjiang and Tibet that have played such an important role in the history of China Proper and will also include material on Taiwan and on the Chinese diaspora In A Z format with entries written by experts in the field of Chinese Studies the Encyclopedia will be an invaluable resource for students of Chinese history politics and culture

Asceticism in Early Taoist Religion Stephen Eskildsen,1998-10-01 Using a wide variety of original sources this book brings to light how and why asceticism was carried out by Taoists during the first six centuries of the common era It examines the practices of fasting celibacy self imposed poverty wilderness seclusion and sleep avoidance and it discusses the beliefs and attitudes that motivated and justified such drastic actions Asceticism in Early Taoist Religion demonstrates that although Taoist ascetics pursued austerities that were extremely rigorous they did not seek to mortify the flesh Through their austerities they almost always sought to improve their physical strength and health because they aspired toward physical longevity as well as spiritual perfection Even though they sometimes taxed their bodies severely they believed that their strength and health would eventually be restored if they persevered The highest goal was to ascend to divine realms in an immortal body However certain beliefs that emerged during this period particularly those influenced by Buddhism may have caused some Taoist ascetics to virtually abandon their concern with longevity and to focus disproportionately upon the perfection of the spirit Such ascetics were more likely to purposely harm and neglect their bodies contradictory as this may have been to the cherished ideals of the Taoist religion Eskildsen traces how this problem may have emerged and how it was viewed and dealt with by those who maintained the ideal of longevity

Commodity and Exchange in the Mongol Empire Thomas T. Allsen,1997-07-13 In the thirteenth century the Mongols created a vast transcontinental empire that intensified commercial and cultural contact throughout Eurasia From the outset of their expansion the Mongols identified and mobilized artisans of diverse backgrounds frequently transporting them from one cultural zone to another Prominent among those transported were Muslim textile workers resettled in China where they made clothes for the imperial court In a meticulous and fascinating account the author investigates the significance of cloth and colour in the political and cultural life of the Mongols Situated within the broader context of the history of the Silk Road the primary line in East West cultural communication during the pre Muslim era the study promises to be of interest not only to historians of the Middle East and Asia but also to art historians and textile specialists

Manufacturing Confucianism Lionel M. Jensen,1997 Is it possible that the familiar and beloved figure of Confucius was invented by Jesuit priests Based on specific documentary evidence historian Lionel Jensen reveals how 16th and 17th century Western missionaries used translations of the ancient RU tradition to invent the presumably historical figure who has been globally celebrated as philosopher prophet statesman wise man and saint 13 illustrations
