

The background of the book cover is a landscape painting. The upper half features a sky with a gradient of orange and red, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. Below the sky is a dark, silhouetted horizon line. The lower half of the image is a green field, possibly a lawn or a field of grass, which is slightly out of focus.

Coping with Terrorism Rafael Reuveny, William R. Thompson, 2010-11-05 Terrorism is imprinted on Western society's consciousness. Nearly every week a terrorist attack occurs in the world. The academic world in attempting to understand terrorism has often been limited to descriptive work rather than analysis and has produced surprisingly few mainstream collections on the subject. Coping with Terrorism offers a collection of essays that ask who are terrorists, what are their goals, who supports them, and how can we combat their tactics. The essays are scholarly rather than journalistic or ideological in their approach. As such, they scrutinize a much-discussed and prevalent subject and bring it into the mainstream for international relations. This book is freely available in an open access edition thanks to Knowledge Unlatched, an initiative that provides libraries and institutions with a centralized platform to support OA collections and from leading publishing houses and OA initiatives. Terrorism and the State William Perdue, 1989-08-07 Terrorism and the State is a volume on the political economy of terrorism. Emphasizing the role of ideological systems in the definition of political violence, this book is theoretical, historical, and critical. It first presents and refutes the two most commonly expressed definitions of terrorism: the absolutist view, a simplistic picture of international deviance on the part of fanatics, and the liberal relativistic view, one man's terrorist is another man's freedom fighter. Both views focus on the definition of behaviors rather than on the real relations of domination and subjugation embodied in the social structure. Neither view can be used as a vehicle when analyzing institutionalized forces of domination through fear. The author suggests that there is presently a double standard of terrorism: one for the state and the other for its opponents. Terrorism and the State reframes the terrorism debate. A historical review supports a revisionist position that places the issue in the context of global relations. Attention is given to the role of the media in the selective selling of international terrorism. Having established his framework, the author proceeds through the investigation of historically grounded cases to systematically analyze state terrorism, the coercive power of today's nuclear weapon state, global apartheid, terror-noia, settler terrorism, holy terror, and finally surrogate terrorism. Terrorism and the State develops its framework for the terrorism debate within the first three chapters: The Ideology of Terrorism, Terrorism and the State, and Mediaspeak: The Selling of International Terrorism. The remainder of this volume concentrates on historically grounded cases: The Real Nuclear Terrorism, Racial Terrorism, Apartheid in South Africa, Terror-noia, and Zonal Revolution. The Case of Libya, Settler Terrorism, Israel and the P L O, Holy Terror, Iran and Irangate, Surrogate Terrorism, The United States, and Nicaragua.

A Political Organization Approach to Transnational Terrorism Kent Layne Oots, 1986-03-19

Digital Privacy, Terrorism and Law Enforcement Simon Hale-Ross, 2018-07-06 This book examines the UK's response to terrorist communication. Its principle question asks: has individual privacy and collective security been successfully managed and balanced The author begins by assessing several technologically based problems facing British law enforcement agencies including use of the Internet the existence of darknet untraceable Internet telephone calls and messages smart encrypted device direct messaging applications and commercially available encryption software These problems are then related to the traceability and typecasting of potential terrorists showing that law enforcement agencies are searching for needles in the ever expanding haystacks To this end the book examines the bulk powers of digital surveillance introduced by the Investigatory Powers Act 2016 The book then moves on to assess whether these new powers and the new legislative safeguards introduced are compatible with international human rights standards The author creates a digital rights criterion from which to challenge the bulk surveillance powers against human rights norms Lord Carlile of Berriew CBE QC in recommending this book notes this particular legal advancement commenting that rightly so the author concludes the UK has fairly balanced individual privacy with collective security The book further analyses the potential impact on intelligence exchange between the EU and the UK following Brexit Using the US as a case study the book shows that UK laws must remain within the ambit of EU law and the Court of Justice of the European Union s CJEU s jurisprudence to maintain the effectiveness of the exchange It addresses the topics with regard to terrorism and counterterrorism methods and will be of interest to researchers academics professionals and students researching counterterrorism and digital electronic communications international human rights data protection and international intelligence exchange Terrorism H B Mishra,1999 Countering Terrorism and Insurgency in the 21st Century James J. F. Forest,2007-06-30 The attacks of September 11 2001 inaugurated a new global era of counterterrorism policy and activity led by the United States Countering Terrorism and Insurgency in the 21st Century analyzes the most significant dimensions of combating terrorism including considerations of strategic and tactical issues hard power soft power and counterintelligence the need to thwart sources and facilitators weak governments ill conceived foreign policy and trafficking in drugs guns and humans and the incorporation of lessons learned thus far from combating terrorism around the globe Since the dawn of the new millennium combating terrorism has become a primary focus of security professionals throughout the world The attacks of September 11 2001 inaugurated a new global era of counterterrorism policy and activity led by the United States while many countries from Algeria and Spain to Sri Lanka and Indonesia have redoubled their efforts to combat their own indigenous terrorism threats In the United States the counterterrorism goals identified in the National Strategy for Combating Terrorism 2006 can only be achieved through significant multinational cooperation These goals are to advance effective democracies as the long term antidote to the ideologies of terrorism to prevent attacks by terrorist networks to deny terrorists the support and sanctuary of rogue states to deny terrorists control of any nation they would use as a base and launching pad for terror and to lay the foundations and build the institutions and structures we need to carry the fight forward against terror and help ensure our ultimate success At this point in the development of the global counterterrorism efforts it is particularly important to pause for reflection on a number of critical questions What do we know about effectively countering terrorism What are the characteristics of successful or unsuccessful counterterrorism campaigns What do we need to learn in order to do this better Countering Terrorism and Insurgency in the 21st Century addresses these and related questions contributing to national security policy as well as to our understanding of the terrorist threat and how it can be defeated Volume 1 Strategic and Tactical Considerations examines issues of hard power soft power and intelligence counterintelligence Volume 2 Sources and Facilitators covers state failure border controls democracy promotion networks and trade and trafficking and societal issues Volume 3 Lessons Learned from Combating Terrorism and Insurgency includes case studies of counterterrorism operations e g the hijacking of the Achille Lauro the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center and the capture of key terrorist suspects like Ramzi Youssef and Khalid Sheikh Mohamad and case studies of long term efforts to combat terrorism e g the Basques in Spain the Tamil Tigers in Sri Lanka Israel s struggle against Palestinian terror organizations Peru and Sendero Luminoso and Japan and Aum Shinrikyo

Negotiating with Terrorists Guy Olivier Faure, I. William Zartman, 2010-02-25 This edited volume addresses the important issue of negotiating with terrorists and offers recommendations for best practice and processes Hostage negotiation is the process of trying to align two often completely polarised parties Authorities view hostage taking as unacceptable demands made by unacceptable means However terrorists view their actions as completely justified even on moral and religious grounds If they are to try and reconcile these two sides it is essential for hostage negotiators to understand terrorist culture the hostage takers profiles their personality their view of the world and also the authorities their values and their framing of the problem raised by the taking of hostages Although not advocating negotiating with terrorists the volume seeks to analyse when why and how it is done Part I deals with the theory and quantifiable data produced from analysis of hostage situations while Part II explores several high profile case studies and the lessons that can be learnt from them This volume will be of great interest to students of terrorism studies conflict management negotiation security studies and IR in general I William Zartman is the Jacob Blaustein Distinguished Professor Emeritus of International Organization and Conflict Resolution and former Director of the Conflict Management and African Studies Programs at the Paul H Nitze School of Advanced International Studies Johns Hopkins University Washington DC He is a member of the Steering Committee of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program at the International Institute of Applied Systems Analysis IIASA in Laxenburg Austria He is author editor of over 20 books on negotiation conflict and mediation Guy Olivier Faure is Professor of Sociology at the Sorbonne University Paris I and a member of the Steering Committee of the Processes of International Negotiation PIN Program at the International Institute of Applied Systems Analysis IIASA in Laxenburg Austria He has served as an advisor to French government on hostage negotiations

Militancy and Violence in West Africa James Gow, Funmi Olonisakin, Ernst Dijkhoorn, 2013-07-18 This volume provides a systematic and cross regional analysis of radicalisation militancy and violence in West Africa Concern about terrorism in or from West Africa has been recognised in academic research and the adoption of militarised approaches to addressing it questioned. However, the basis for that questioning, the need to investigate factors such as the historical and socio-economic roots of militancy, is not developed, nor is it substantiated in existing studies. The significant impact of religiously motivated radicalisation and violence in West Africa upon international security makes it essential to understand the issues of militancy and violence in the region. In this volume, the authors draw upon empirical research in West Africa to develop understanding in these areas. Over the course of several chapters, written by leading experts in the field, the book successfully blends historical and conceptual analysis with new empirical research gathered from focus group discussions and research interviews. Each of these core studies is structured around five interrelated issues: tracing the antecedents of radicalisation, monitoring trends, identifying actors, anticipating possibilities, and analysing the strength of existing preventive mechanisms. This book will be of much interest to students of African security, African politics, radicalisation, political Islam, war and conflict studies, and security studies in general.

Hate Crimes Donald Altschiller, 2015-09-15 Hate crime is a disturbing phenomenon that is the subject of constant debate, discussion, and legislation. This book helps readers understand the complex issue and see how the government and activists are proactively combating hate crime. With the first two editions widely praised by reviewers, Hate Crimes: A Reference Handbook, Third Edition, remains the most comprehensive reference source on bias-motivated violence committed in the United States. The book contains vital history on hate crime legislation, provides a detailed chronology of recent events, and offers the most up-to-date information on its prevalence and the affected religious, racial, and other targeted communities, such as Jewish Americans and Sikh Americans. Dozens of expert contributors, such as Kenneth L. Marcus, president and general counsel of the Louis D. Brandeis Center for Human Rights Under Law, present a balanced range of perspectives on the growing phenomenon, enabling readers to fully comprehend the widespread problem and develop their own informed opinion. Written in an accessible style suited to high school and undergraduate level students, as well as general readers, this book provides an essential, current, and easy-to-read, ready reference on the timely and evolving issue of hate crime in the United States. The material provides an introductory overview of the topic of hate crime, as well as insightful discussion of specific subjects, such as U.S. Supreme Court decisions and federal and state legislation regarding hate crimes, the incidence of hate crimes committed on America's college campuses, and governmental and citizen efforts to combat this disturbing phenomenon.

Sartre and the Moral Limits of War and Terrorism Jennifer Ang Mei Sze, 2010-01-31 Based on the latest debate on Jean-Paul Sartre's works on ethics and politics, this book examines the relevancy and importance Sartre holds for contemporary concerns: the reactionary nature of terrorism, the extremity of counter-violence, and limitations of democratization efforts in our post-9/11 era, all claiming the name of freedom and liberation. It presents a different version of the violent Sartre, which was presented recently as militant and supportive of terrorism by critics who were concerned with the terrorist nature of his writings. Sartre in this project is reconstructed as a philosopher who although gave importance to the notion of violence in his politics was actually more concerned with containing violent means within morally excusable limits He is presented as both a realist who understood the inevitability of dirty hands in political struggles and also an absolutist against terrorism he considered wars that derailed from their purported ends of freedom as morally condemnable Arguing for the need for moral limitations to all violent struggles and the need for seeing others as ends for themselves this project outlines an existential response needed to help us reaffirm our moral compass through the invention of existential humanist ethics
