Poetry and Radical Politics in Fin de Siècle France Patrick McGuinness, 2015 Poetry and Radical Politics in fin de siècle France explores the relations between poetry and politics in France in the last decade of the 19th century The period covers perhaps the most important developments in modern French poetry from the post Commune climate that spawned the decadent movement through to the allegedly ivory towered aestheticism of Mallarmé and the Symbolists In terms of French politics history and culture the period was no less dramatic with the legacy of the Commune the political and financial instability that followed the anarchist campaigns the Dreyfus affair and the growth of Action française Patrick McGuinness argues that the anarchist politics of many Symbolist poets is a reaction to their own isolation and to poetry's anxious relations with the public too difficult to be widely read. Symbolist poets react to the loss of poetry's centrality among the arts by delegating their radicalism to prose; they can call in prose for the overthrow of the state and support anarchist bombers while at the same time writing poems about dribbling fountains and dazzling sunsets for each other. This study demonstrates the connections between the anti-Symbolist reaction of the École romane of 1891 in which Charles Maurras first made his name and the far right cultural politics of Action française in the early 20th century. It also redefines many of the debates about late 19th century French poetry by putting an argument forward for the political engagements of the Symbolists while the French intellectual as a national icon was being forged. McGuinness insists on profound continuities between the end of the 19th century and the beginning of the 20th in terms of cultural politics, literary debate and poetic theory and shows how politics is to be found in unexpected ways in the least political seeming literature of the period. The famous line by Peguy that everything begins in mysticism and ends in politics has an appealing sweep and grace. This book has its own more modest and specific version of a similar journey: it begins in Mallarmé and ends in Maurras.

Modernism and Empire Howard J. Booth, Nigel Rigby, 2000-06-10. This is the first book to explore the fascinating relationship between literary Modernism and Empire. The book seeks to begin the task of exploring in a sustained way the relations between the artistic movement and colonialism. The essays range over subjects and figures such as Ireland, Africa, Joyce, Pound, Townsend, Warner, Lawrence and Forster, Kipling, Woolf and Jean Rhys.

London, Modernism, and 1914 Michael J. K. Walsh, 2010-05-06. A new take on the impact of war on the London art and literary scene and the emergence of modernism, first published in 2010.

Modernism and the Aesthetics of Violence Paul Sheehan, 2013-06-24. This book addresses the subject of violence as it features in celebrated modernist works from the early twentieth century. It traces the modernist fascination with violence back to the middle decades of the nineteenth century when certain writers in France and England sought to celebrate dissident sexualities and stylized criminality.

Modernist Nowheres N. Waddell, 2012-07-24. Modernist Nowheres explores connections in the Anglo-American sphere between early literary modernist cultures, politics and utopia. Foregrounding such writers as Conrad, Lawrence and Wyndham Lewis, it presents a new reading of early modernism in which utopianism plays a defining role prior to, during and immediately after the First World War.

De Rerum Natura Titus Lucretius Carus, 2003. First published in 2004. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informal company.

The Oxford Handbook of Film Theory Kyle Stevens, 2022. Poses timely questions about the state of cinema today. Looks beyond canonical film theory and practitioners. Revitalizes an essential part of the discipline's identity. Offers provocative new arguments from leading film scholars.

Book jacket: Heresy and Borders in the Twentieth Century Karina Jakubowicz, Robert Dickins, 2021-03-10. This book explores the shifting and negotiated boundaries of religion, spirituality and secular thinking in Britain and North America during the twentieth century. It contributes to a growing scholarship that problematises secularization theory, arguing that religion and spirituality increasingly took diverse new forms and identities rather than simply being replaced by a monolithic secularity The volume examines the way that thinkers writers and artists manipulated and reimagined orthodox belief systems in their work using the notion of heresy to delineate the borders of what was considered socially and ethically acceptable It includes topics such as psychospiritual approaches in medicine countercultures and religious experience and the function of blasphemy within supposedly secular politics The book argues that heresy and heretical identities established fluid borderlands These borderlands not only blur simple demarcations of the religious and secular in the twentieth century but also infer new forms of heterodoxy through an exchange of ideas This collection of essays offers a nuanced take on a topic that pervades the study of religion It will be of great use to scholars of Heresy Studies Religious Studies and Comparative Religion Social Anthropology History Literature Philosophy and Cultural Studies
