A Self-reliant Future for Canada Jack Biddell,1993 Canada & Country Canadian Council on National Issues,1994

Energy Futures for Canadians James E. Gander,Fred W. Belaire,1978 Remaking Liberalism Barry Glen

Ferguson,1993 Ferguson considers the thinking of four major Canadian political economists who developed their ideas while building the discipline of political economy at Queen s University He demonstrates that the four clearly argued on behalf of the new liberalism emphasizing individual rights and positive government and suggests that their ideas reveal an intellectual position which differed from the imperialist and continentalist alternatives that dominated Canadian thinking at the time

Gregory J. Inwood,2005-01-01 Free trade has been a highly contentious issue since the Conservative government of Brian Mulroney negotiated the first deal with the United States in the 1980s Tracing the roots of Canada s contemporary involvement in North American free trade back to the Royal Commission on the Economic Union and Development Prospects for Canada in 1985 also known as the Macdonald Commission Gregory J Inwood offers a critical examination of the commission and how its findings affected Canada s political and economic landscape including its present day reverberations Using original research including content analysis interviews archival information and surveys of relevant literature Inwood argues that the Macdonald Commission created an atmosphere and political discourse that made the continentalization of Canada possible by way of free trade agreements with the U S and Mexico Through the use of a suspect research program and with the aid of a select oligarchy within the Commission and the government bureaucracy opposition to continentalism from both the majority of the Canadian population and even several commissioners was ignored Accessible to readers interested in Canadian politics policy or economy Continentalizing Canada offers a thorough examination into the Macdonald Commission and the resulting discourse in the Canadian political economy Constitutional Politics in Canada and the United States Stephen L. Newman,2012-02-01 The Canadian constitutional reforms of 1982 which included a Charter of Rights and Freedoms analogous to the American Bill of Rights brought about a convergence with American constitutional law As in the U S Canadian courts have shown themselves highly protective of individual rights and they have not been shy about assuming a leading and sometimes controversial political role in striking down legislation In clear and easy to understand language the contributors not only chart but also explore the reasons for areas of similarity and difference in the constitutional politics of Canada and the United States The Canadian Annual Review of Public Affairs ,1917 Canadian Chemical Journal ,1918 Canadian Chemical Processing ,1918 The Canadian forum ,1984 Aboriginal Self-government in Canada Yale Deron Belanger,2008 Building on the success of the first two editions this volume briefly recaps the historical development and public acceptance of the concept of Aboriginal self government then proceeds to examine its theoretical underpinnings the state of Aboriginal self government in Canada today and the many practical issues of free trade including private communications from President Reagan and U S trade ambassador Peter Murphy Statements of dissent and some excellent political journalism are included in this volume along with important research on the economic basis of free trade The Free Trade Papers offers a vital immediate primer of one of the most contentious debates in twentieth century Canadian history Parliamentary Government in Canada--a Constitutional and Historical Study Sir John George Bourinot,1892 A History of Canada Sir Charles G.
