Work of Love Leonard J. DeLorenzo, 2017-02-02 The saints are good company They are the heroes of the faith who blazed new and creative paths to holiness they are the witnesses whose testimonies echo throughout the ages in the memory of the Church Most Christians and particularly Catholics are likely to have their own favorite saints those who inspire and speak to believers as they pray and struggle through the challenges of their own lives Leonard DeLorenzo's book addresses the idea of the communion of saints rather than individual saints with the conviction that what makes the saints holy and what forms them into a communion is one and the same Work of Love investigates the issue of communication within the communio sanctorum and the fullness of Christian hope in the face of the meaning or meaninglessness of death In an effort to revitalize a theological topic that for much of Catholic history has been an indelible part of the Catholic imaginary DeLorenzo invokes the ideas of not only many theological figures Rahner Ratzinger Balthasar and de Lubac among others but also historians philosophers notably Heidegger and Nietzsche and literary figures Rilke and Dante to create a rich tableau By working across several disciplines DeLorenzo argues for a vigorous renewal in the Christian imagination of the theological concept of the communion of saints He concludes that the embodied witness of the saints themselves as well as the liturgical and devotional movements of the Church at prayer testifies to the central importance of the communion of saints as the eschatological hope and fulfillment of the promises of Christ

Our Faithful Departed Leonard J. DeLorenzo, McGrath Institute for Church Life, 2022-11-11 Awarded third place in theology by the Association of Catholic Publishers and third place in grief and bereavement by the Catholic Media Association

When someone we love dies it is difficult to look beyond our grief to understand that they are still with us And yet we hear in the funeral liturgy that life is changed not ended

In Our Faithful Departed University of Notre Dame theologian Leonard J DeLorenzo shows us what this means and how we are called to remain faithful in our relationships with the dead Those whom we have known and loved in this life we have only known and loved partially imperfectly DeLorenzo writes In heaven what has been partial shall be made complete and what has been imperfect shall be perfected He explains that the Catholic Church teaches that heaven is not so much a place as it is a perfect communion in Christ where the living and the dead are forever united In this book you will learn that St Teresa of Calcutta thought of her own life as a practice for heaven the Eucharist is a prayer for the dead an offering brought to the altar

Da de los Muertos is an understanding that death is not the opposite of life but part of it Christ wants us to broaden and deepen our notions of the body we can practice communion with the dead by praying for them remembering them by name during the Mass sharing memories of them and celebrating them in devotional practices DeLorenzo relates his own story of the loss of his grandparents and shares heartwarming experiences from other Catholics including Laura Kelly Fanucci Stephanie DePrez and John Cavadini who have felt the connection with their lost friends and loved ones DeLorenzo said that the Church must encourage communion with the dead through public acts such as Eucharistic processions prayer monthly adoration with prayers for the souls in purgatory and by accompanying the grieving with tenderness and compassion

Subordinated Ethics Caitlin Smith Gilson, 2020-08-21 With Dostoyevsky's Idiot and Aquinas' Dumb Ox as guides this book seeks to recover the elemental mystery of the natural law a law revealed only in wonder If ethics is to guide us along the way it must recover its subordination description must precede prescription If ethics is to invite us along the way it cannot lead either as politburo or even as public orthodoxy It cannot be smugly symbolic but must be by way of signage of directionality of the open realization that ethical meaning is en route pointing the way because it is within the way as only sign not symbol can point to the sacramental terminus The courtesies of dogma and tradition are the road signs and guideposts along the longior via not themselves the termini We seek the dialogic heart of the natural law through two seemingly contradictory voices and approaches St Thomas Aquinas and his famous five ways and Fyodor Dostoyevsky's holy idiot Prince Myshkin It is precisely the apparent miscellany of these selected voices that provide us with a connatural invitation into the natural law as subordinated as descriptive guide not as prescriptive leader

Christian Wisdom Meets Modernity, 2016-05-05 The Illuminating Modernity series examines the great but lesser known thinkers in the Romantic Thomist tradition such as Erich Przywara and Fernand Ulrich and shows how outstanding 20th century theologians like Ratzinger and von Balthasar have depended on classical Thomist thought and how they radically reinterpreted this thought The chapters in this volume are dedicated to the encounter between the presuppositions and claims of modern intellectual culture and the Christian confession that the crucified and resurrected Jesus is the power and wisdom of God and is the lord of history and of his church The scholars contributing to this discussion do not assume that Christianity and modernity are two discrete entities which can be readily defined nor do they presume that Christian wisdom and modernity meet each other only in conflict or by coincidence They engage with a variety of great figures Kierkegaard Heidegger Rahner Przywara Guardini Karl Barth and Karol Wojtyla to illustrate the connection between modernism and Christian wisdom The volume concludes with a programmatic statement for the renewal of Christian philosophy that has been able to retain the cosmo theological vision as outlined by Mezei in the final chapter

Race and the Cosmos Barbara A. Holmes, 2002-06-01 Argues that theoretical physics and cosmology can provide a key to overcoming race related problems explaining how they enable a means for discussing individual and communal quests for fulfillment beyond racial ethnic class and sexual barriers Original

Augustine and His Critics Robert Dodaro, George Lawless, 2005-07-28 Examines the arguments of present day critics of Augustine and argues in favour of some of the much neglected historical philosophical and theological perspectives which lie behind Augustine s most unpopular convictions

La Vida Sacra James Empereur, Eduardo C. Fernández (s.j.), 2006-10-12 Presents an insightful approach to the sacraments from the perspective and actual practice of Latinos over the centuries This work offers a distinctive take on the belief and enculturation of the sacraments in the Latino experience and context It is suitable for theology courses as well as directors of ministerial programs and their students

Catechesis for the New Evangelization Brian Pedraza, 2020-06-12 Popes Francis Benedict XVI and John Paul II have called the present a time of New Evangelization for the Church and have stressed the importance of catechesis for this mission John Paul II claimed that this renewal of the Church s mission is grounded in the teachings of the Second Vatican Council Nevertheless approaches to catechesis in the conciliar and postconciliar era have varied greatly as evidenced by the shifts in catechetical practice effected by the modern catechetical movement Just as the dominant forms of theology changed from neo scholastic to anthropological approaches so too did catechesis move from catechism based approaches to more anthropological models based upon human experience In light of this context Catechesis for the New Evangelization examines the theological foundations of catechesis in the Church s understanding of divine revelation and its reception by the human person especially as found in the conciliar constitutions Dei Verbum and Gaudium et Spes After drawing norms on divine revelation from these documents it traces the history of the modern catechetical movement in order to compare this history with the conciliar norms highlighting the renewal s strengths and weaknesses These steps prepare the way for the main part of the book an examination of the anthropology of Karol Wojtya a Pope John Paul II Ultimately his anthropology provides an understanding of the person that can unite divine revelation and human experience in a way that takes what is best from the modern catechetical movement while developing the ministry in a way that can be fruitful for the New Evangelization Pedraza s book is not only an incisive look at modern catechetical history and theory It also touches upon some of the most important theological topics of the past century including the neo scholastic crisis the proper interpretation of the Council the relationship of nature and grace and the modern understanding of the imago dei with the research and competency appropriate for scholarly interest and the accessibility needed for educated practitioners in catechesis

Thomas Aquinas and Teilhard de Chardin Donald J. Goergen, 2022-10-21 In an increasingly divided and secularized world in an age of unbelief we yearn for increased unity for a sense of the transcendent for a humanism that does not force one to choose between God and the world This humanism requires an integration of ancient wisdom with modern learning or one might say faith and reason religion and science Christology and cosmology As the Gospel of Matthew puts it the sage goes into the storehouse to bring out both something old and something new To this Christian humanism both Thomas Aquinas and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin have significant contributions to make One is not forced to choose between them but rather to see in these two visionaries one medieval one modern complementary insights One philosophically precise the other scientifically trained they challenge us to look again at our search for wholeness for holiness Can we see something of what they saw Can we seek something of what they sought
