New American Cinema:

The New American Cinema Jon Lewis, 1998 Deliberately eclectic and panoramic THE NEW AMERICAN CINEMA brings together thirteen leading film scholars who present a range of theoretical critical and historical perspectives on a rich and pivotal time in American cinema that from the mid 1960s to the present With its range of topics and breadth of critical approaches this anthology illuminates the volatile mix of industrial process and artistic inspiration that comprises American moviemaking 46 photos

New Hollywood Cinema Geoff King, 2002-03-29 New Hollywood extends from the radical gestures of the Hollywood Renaissance of the late 1960s and early 1970s to the current dominance of the corporate blockbuster Geoff King covers new Hollywood dynamically and accessibly in this thoroughly modern introductory text He discusses diverse films as well as the film makers and film companies focusing on the interactions between the film texts their social contexts and the industry producing them Using examples across Hollywood and its genres King reveals how the positions of studios within media conglomerates together with the impact of television advertising and franchising on the New Hollywood shape the form and content of the films

The Hollywood Renaissance Peter Krämer, Yannis Tzioumakis, 2018-06-28 In December 1967 Time magazine put Bonnie and Clyde on its cover and proudly declared that Hollywood cinema was undergoing a renaissance For the next few years a wide range of formally and thematically challenging films were produced at the very centre of the American film industry often but by no means always combining success at the box office with huge critical acclaim both then and later This collection brings together acknowledged experts on American cinema to examine thirteen key films from the years 1966 to 1974 starting with Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf a major studio release which was in effect exempted from Hollywood's Production Code and thus helped to liberate American filmmaking from self censorship Long standing taboos to do with sex violence race relations drugs politics religion and much else could now be broken often in conjunction with extensive stylistic experimentation Whereas most previous scholarship has examined these developments through the prism of auteurism with its tight focus on film directors and their oeuvres the contributors to this collection also carefully examine production histories and processes In doing so they pay particular attention to the economic underpinnings and collaborative nature of filmmaking the influence of European art cinema as well as of exploitation experimental and underground films and the connections between cinema and other media notably publishing music and theatre Several chapters show how the innovations of the Hollywood Renaissance relate to further changes in American cinema from the mid 1970s onwards

The New Hollywood Peter Krämer, 2006-03-17 On December 8 1967 Time magazine put Bonnie and Clyde on its cover and announced The New Cinema Violence Sex Art The following decade has long been celebrated as a golden age in American film history In this innovative study Peter Krämer offers a systematic discussion of the biggest hits of the period including The Graduate 1967 The Exorcist 1973 and Jaws 1975 He relates the distinctive features of these hits to changes in the film industry in its audiences and in American society at large

New Wave, New Hollywood Gregory Frame, Nathan Abrams, 2021 As a period of film history The American New Wave ordinarily understood as beginning in 1967 and ending in 1980 remains a preoccupation for scholars and audiences alike In traditional accounts it is considered to be bookended by two periods of conservatism and viewed as a brief period of explosive creativity within the Hollywood system From Bonnie and Clyde to Heaven s Gate it produced films that continue to be watched discussed analysed and poured over It has however also become rigidly defined as a cinema of director auteurs who made a number of aesthetically and politically significant films This has led to marginalization and exclusion of many important artists and filmmakers as well as a temporal rigidity about what and who is considered part of the New Wave proper This collection seeks to reinvigorate debate around this area of film history It also looks in part to demonstrate the legacy of aesthetic experimentation and political radicalism after 1980 as part of the legacy of the New Wave Thanks to important new work that questions received scholarly wisdom reveals previously marginalised filmmakers and the films they made considers new genres personnel and films under the banner of New Wave New Hollywood and reevaluates the traditional approaches and perspectives on the films that have enjoyed most critical attention New Wave New Hollywood Reassessment Recovery Legacy looks to begin a new discussion about Hollywood cinema after 1967 Movie Journal Jonas Mekas, 2016-04-19 In his Village Voice Movie Journal columns Jonas Mekas captured the makings of an exciting movement in 1960s American filmmaking Works by Andy Warhol Gregory J Markopoulos Stan Brakhage Jack Smith Robert Breer and others echoed experiments already underway elsewhere yet they belonged to a nascent tradition that only a true visionary could identify Mekas incorporated the most essential characteristics of these films into a unique conception of American filmmaking s next phase He simplified complex aesthetic strategies for unfamiliar audiences and appreciated the subversive genius of films that many dismissed as trash This new edition presents Mekas s original critiques in full with additional material on the filmmakers film studies scholars and popular and avant garde critics whom he inspired and transformed Contemporary American Cinema Linda Ruth Williams, Michael Hammond, 2006-05 One of the rare collections I would recommend for use in undergraduate teaching the chapters are lucid without being oversimplified and the contributors are adept at analyzing the key industrial technological and ideological features of contemporary U S cinema Diane Negra University of East Anglia UK Contemporary American Cinema offers a fresh and sometimes revisionist look at developments in the American film industry from the 1960s to the present Readers will find it lively and provocative Chuck Maland University of Tennessee USA Contemporary American Cinema is the book on the subject that undergraduate classes have been waiting for Comprehensive detailed and intelligently organized and written in accessible and compelling prose Contemporary American Cinema will be embraced by instructors and students alike Charlie Keil Director Cinema Studies Program University of Toronto Canada Contemporary American Cinema usefully gathers together a range of materials that provide a valuable resource for students and scholars It is also a pleasure to read Hilary Radner University of Otago New

The New Hollywood Axel Madsen, 1975

The Roots of Modern Hollywood Nick Smedley, 2014 In this insightful study of Hollywood cinema since 1969 film historian Nick Smedley traces the cultural and intellectual heritage of American films showing how the more thoughtful recent cinema owes a profound debt to Hollywood's traditions of liberalism first articulated in the New Deal era Although American cinema is not usually thought of as politically or socially engaged Smedley demonstrates how Hollywood can be seen as one of the most value laden of all national cinemas Drawing on a long historical view of the persistent trends and themes in Hollywood cinema Smedley illustrates how films from recent decades have continued to explore the balance between unbridled individualistic capitalism and a more socially engaged liberalism He also brings out the persistence of pacifism in Hollywood's consideration of American foreign policy in Vietnam and the Middle East His third theme concerns the treatment of women in Hollywood films and the belated acceptance by the film community of a wider role for the American post feminist woman Featuring important new interviews with four of Hollywood's most influential directors Michael Mann Peter Weir Tony Gilroy and Paul Haggis The Roots of Modern Hollywood is an incisive account of where Hollywood is today and the path it has taken to get there
