created our Mentorship Program which gets these prolific stories out to the children We wrote the stories with zest but never crossed the line of respect or dignity We wished to capture the hearts of our audience and prove to them that giving was not an option but more so our duty as life forms on our planet Today our book has a theme Inspiring the youth of America This theme was our way of telling the world Lets hold hands and prepare our children for a better life today I continue to write for the Registry My life has irrevocably changed for the better I volunteer for any thing all the time I enjoy moments of quiet and the appreciation of our environment I read these biographies in amazement as everyone else does and it never seems to get uneventful Either way I sincerely hope you enjoy these biographies and use them to strengthen your spirit and confidence about our existence as a species on this planet I patiently wait for divine intervention in order to write my next biography and am happy to serve the brilliant members of the Remington Registry of Outstanding Professionals The Routledge Handbook of Social Justice in Technical and Professional Communication Natasha N. WPA, Writing Program Administration , 1993 The New Normal Denise Tillery, Ed Nagelhout, 2016-12-05 As colleges and universities across the country continue to deal with regular decreases in state funding technical communication programs in particular are being forced to do more with less As budget cuts become the new normal the long term health of technical communication depends on our ability to evolve and adapt to an array of internal external and technological pressures The New Normal Pressures on Technical Communication Programs in the Age of Austerity explores the ways technical communication programs are responding to conditions of economic austerity and investigates how smaller programs or programs situated in smaller institutions use increasingly limited resources to meet the challenges of increased student demand the responsibilities of teaching service courses effectively the technological demands for online education and the constant pressure to prepare our students appropriately for the ever changing needs of the job market in technical communication More specifically the contributors to this collection are overtly conscious of the marginalized peripheral status of technical communication programs within both small and large institutions This awareness allows them to articulate specific ways that austerity has had a direct and local effect on a particular technical communication program and to describe short and long term strategies for creating sustainable futures for a technical communication program despite cuts and marginalization Resources in Education , 2001-10 Tactical Approaches to Technical Communication Hayley McCullough, Hilary A.
