L. George, Walter Lionel George, 1911 We go The lascar meditatively pressed his face brown and begrimed with coal dust streaked here and there with sweat against the rope which formed the rough bulwark His dark eyes were fixed on the shore near by between which and the ship's side the water quivered quicker and quicker in little ripples each ripple carrying an iridescent film of grey ooze Without joy or sadness he was bidding goodbye to Bombay his city Those goodbyes are often farewells for lascars who must face the Bay and the Channel But the stoker did not care His companion lay by his side lazily propped up on his elbow not deigning even to take a last look at the market place seething still with its crowded reds and blues and golds Dekko cried the first stoker pointing to the wharf where a white man in a dirty smock had just cast off the last rope which came away swishing through the air Elric Swords and Roses Michael Moorcock, 2010-12-28 Foreword by

Tad Williams Feared by enemies and friends alike Elric of Melnibon walks a lonely path among the worlds of the Multiverse The destroyer of his cruel and ancient race as well as its final ruler Elric is the bearer of a destiny as dark and cursed as the vampiric sword he carries the sentient black blade known as Stormbringer Del Rey is proud to present the sixth and concluding installment of its definitive omnibus editions featuring fantasy Grand Master Michael Moorcock s most famous or infamous creation Here is the full text of the novel The Revenge of the Rose a screenplay for the novel Stormbringer the novella Black Petals the conclusion to Moorcock s influential Aspects of Fantasy essay series and other nonfiction and an indispensable reader s guide by John Davey Sumptuously illustrated by John Picacio with a Foreword by Tad Williams Elric Swords and Roses is a fitting tribute to the most unique fantasy hero of all time A Box of Dead Roses Ethel Mills,1998 THE old lady was a most amusing creature and she had a past which was a record amongst pasts Only that she was rich enough to buy the whole district its society would have cut her long ago as it was people only talked about her with meaning looks and whispered condemnation At least the generation to which she belonged did that the younger one only looked and wondered Bent with rheumatism bushy browed fierce eyed and hard featured there remained no trace of the beauty and charm which so report said had sent more than one good man to the devil On sunny days she would have her chair moved on to the wide vine sheltered verandah She liked to see what was going on and she said that in Australia most things happened on verandahs This particular one had been planned and built in early pioneering days and had no doubt seen many ups and downs of varied incident One could listen to her by the hour when she was in the vein for remembering pages from her own life or from other lawless lives of early days when all country west of the station was unknown Australia Like most old people she was given to repetition but she told me a story once which neither I nor anyone else could ever induce her to tell again
