Malcolm And The Amazing Technicolor:

Malcolm and the Amazing Technicolor Waistcoat Hilary Brand,1995-01-01 Nica's Dream David

Kastin,2011-06-20 The first biography of the legendary Rothschild heiress who reigned as New York's Jazz Baroness. It's a misty night in 1950s New York. A silver Rolls Royce screeches to a stop at the neon lit doorway of a 52nd Street jazz club. Behind the wheel is a glamorous brunette, a chinchilla stole draped over her shoulder and a long cigarette holder clinched in her teeth. After taking a pull from a small silver flask, she glides past the bouncer into the murky depths of the Three Deuces. The Jazz Baroness has arrived. Raised in fairy tale splendor, Kathleen Annie Pannonica Rothschild de Koenigswarter, known as Nica, piloted her own plane across the English Channel, married a French baron, fought in the French Resistance, and had five children. Then she heard a recording of Thelonious Monk's Round Midnight. Inspired by the liberating spirit of jazz, Nica left her family, moved to Manhattan, and began haunting the city's nightclubs. The tabloids first splashed her name across the headlines after Charlie Parker died in her hotel suite, a scandal that cast a dark shadow over the rest of her life. She retreated from the public eye, but through her ongoing ministrations to Monk and dozens of other musicians, she became a legend. Nearly a score of jazz compositions have been written in her honor, including two of the most beloved classics of the genre, Horace Silver's Nica's Dream and Monk's Pannonica. Nica's Dream traces the story of a fascinating woman across her thirty-year reign as the Jazz Baroness, but it also explores a transformative era in twentieth-century American culture. Based on interviews with musicians, family members, historians, and artists, David Kastin's probing biography unwraps the life of this enigmatic figure and evokes the vibrancy of New York during the birth of bebop, the first stirrings of the Beat Generation, and the advent of abstract expressionism.

King of Dead Things Nevin Holness,2024-04-16 For fans of Legendborn, Neil Gaiman, and Leigh Bardugo, this electrifying Kirkus Reviews starred review urban young adult fantasy steeped in Afro-Caribbean folklore follows two Black teens searching for a powerful artifact in the hidden magical side of London. Raising the dead is easy. Living is harder. Eli doesn't know who he is or who he came from. Three years ago, he was found by his now best friends, Sunny and Max, who gave him a home in a magical sanctuary doubling as a Caribbean restaurant. What Eli does know is that he can heal a wound with just a touch and pluck magic from a soul like a petal from a flower, and there is nothing he wouldn't do to survive and keep his new family together. Malcolm would do anything to forget where he comes from. Desperate to escape his estranged father's shadow and plagued with an inherited death magic, he doesn't fully understand. Malcolm has just one priority: save his mother, no matter the cost. Malcolm and Eli's paths collide when Eli and his friends are sent to track down the Fang of the Leopard, a deadly weapon that can eat magic. In a job filled with enigmatic nine nights and Caribbean legends, the teens must face their own demons as they race through the magical underbelly of London to retrieve the Fang before an ancient and malevolent power comes back to life.

Martin Scorsese, Woody Allen, Spike Lee James F. Scott,2019-04-01 Directors Martin Scorsese Woody Allen and Spike Lee emerged as filmmakers toward the end of the 1960s when the breakdown of the studio system paved the way for new production partnerships and gave more creative authority to directors actors and writers In what has come to be called the Indie movement these directors were able to explore ethno racial themes with more frankness than previously allowed From the perspectives of their own minority communities Scorsese Allen and Lee dramatized and critiqued the challenges this restless ethno racial underclass posed to the White Republic imagined by the Founding Fathers The three directors whose work is at the heart of this book explore the question of how identity formation is a process of negotiation particularly among America's ethno racial minorities. They emphasize the stresses related to the double burden in the assimilative process of patterning oneself after the majoritarian culture while acknowledging in complex ways the culture of the community of origin. Annie Hall tells Alvie Singer you're a real Jew Buggin' Out instructs his homeboy friend Stay Black Mookie. What implications do these phrases carry? Will Alvie have a chance to modify his identity? Should he? Will Mookie honor his friend's admonition? Is black also susceptible to a cultural makeover? Is identity a personal choice? This book highlights how various films by these three directors explore the ways in which cultural capital musical artistic intellectual athletic etc is used to erase ethno racial taint skin tones supposed biological traits offensive cultural habits. The formula ordains that assimilation and interculturalization will be asymmetrical favoring those groups or individuals who bring with them the most cultural capital.

If It's Purple, Someone's Gonna Die: The Power of Color in Visual Storytelling Patti Bellantoni, 2012-10-02. If it's Purple Someone's Gonna Die is a must read book for all film students film professionals and others interested in filmmaking. This enlightening book guides filmmakers toward making the right color selections for their films and helps movie buffs understand why they feel the way they do while watching movies that incorporate certain colors. Guided by her twenty five years of research on the effects of color on behavior Bellantoni has grouped more than 60 films under the spheres of influence of six major colors each of which triggers very specific emotional states. For example the author explains that films with a dominant red influence have themes and characters that are powerful lusty defiant anxious angry or romantic and discusses specific films as examples. She explores each film describing how why and where a color influences emotions both in the characters on screen and in the audience. Each color section begins with an illustrated Home Page that includes examples anecdotes and tips for using or avoiding that particular color. Conversations with the author's colleagues including award winning production designers Henry Bumstead Unforgiven and Wynn Thomas Malcolm X and renowned cinematographers Roger Deakins The Shawshank Redemption and Edward Lachman Far From Heaven reveal how color is often used to communicate what is not said. Bellantoni uses her research and experience to demonstrate how powerful color can be and to increase readers awareness of the colors around us and how they make us feel act and react. Learn how your choice of color can influence an audience's moods attitudes reactions and interpretations of your movie's plot. See your favorite films in a new light as the author points out important uses of color both instinctive and intentional. Learn how to make good color choices in your film and in your world.
