Srebrenica in the Aftermath of Genocide Lara J. Nettelfield, Sarah Wagner, 2014 This book traces the reverberations of genocide forced displacement and a legacy of loss in Bosnia and abroad

Christianity and Migration Peter C. Phan, Oxford Editor, 2025-10-07 This book essays a not the Christian theology of migration The phenomenon of human migration that is the movement of people to and settlement temporary or permanent in a new area or country its causes and reasons and its historical anthropological social political legal and cultural dimensions have been widely studied and reasonably well understood and the next chapter will discuss them in detail By contrast theology as an academic discipline seems least capable of illuminating this human phenomenon It appears to most people outside the church and its educational institutions to be at best an esoteric subject and at worst a convoluted and useless mumbo jumbo especially when liberally sprinkled with Greek and Latin phrases Why not leave the study of migration to scholars in history sociology anthropology economics politics and law who albeit no less infected with highfalutin language than theologians do at least try to offer practical policies and effective strategies either for or against immigration Provided by publisher

Diaspora Conversions Paul Christopher Johnson, 2007-09-03 I m extremely impressed by Johnson s book Diaspora Conversions offers an outstanding combination of theoretical acuity erudition and ethnographic prowess It is bound to become highly influential in the study of religion in motion Manuel A Vasquez co author of Globalizing the Sacred Religion Across the Americas Johnson s work bursts through the present conversations on African diaspora and brings us onto entirely new ground shattering simplistic ideas and replacing them with critical distinctions This smart and talented ethnographer succeeds in combining detailed and rich ethnographic fieldwork with an unrelentingly critical and sophisticated analysis Johnson s work brings to life one of the most central perhaps the most central classic question of African American anthropology How is Black culture constituted even through dislocation and displacement Elizabeth McAlister author of Rara Vodou Power and Performance in Haiti and Its Diaspora Diasporic Conversions convincingly breaks new ground by showing how the meaning of homeland is fundamentally a product of historically situated and contested forms of collective imagination What will make Johnson s book a benchmark in the study of the African diaspora and diasporic situations more generally is that it is not just a richly documented and rigorously argued ethnography but a genuine anthropology of historical consciousness

A Road to Nowhere? Julius H. Schoeps, Olaf Glöckner, 2011-02-07 Europe is in the midst of a rapid political and economic unification What does this mean for the Jewish minority numbering less than 2 million people and still suffering from the aftermath of the Shoah Will the Jewish communities participate in Europe s bold venture without risking total assimilation Are they vibrant enough to form a new Jewish center alongside Israel and the American Jewish community or are they hopelessly divided and on a Road to Nowhere Different perspectives are predicted relating to demographical cultural and sociological aspects This volume provides exciting thorough and controversial answers by renowned scholars from Europe Israel North and Latin America many of them also committed to local Jewish community building

The Japanese Housewife Overseas Ruth Martin, 2007-11-08 Based on research over a six year period into three age groups of women this important new study offers in depth analysis for the first time of the experience of expatriate Japanese wives living temporarily in the United Kingdom It focuses on the roles of the housewife in the context of the changing status of women in contemporary Japan

Transnational Narratives from the Caribbean Elvira Pulitano, 2016-03-10 This book offers a timely intervention in current debates on diaspora and diasporic identity by affirming the importance of narrative as a discursive mode to understand the human face of contemporary migrations and dislocations Focusing on the Caribbean double diaspora Pulitano offers a close reading of a range of popular works by four well known writers currently living in the United States Jamaica Kincaid Michelle Cliff Edwidge Danticat and Caryl Phillips Navigating the map of fictional characters testimonial accounts and autobiographical experiences Pulitano draws attention to the lived experience of contemporary diasporic formations The book offers a provocative re thinking of socio scientific analyses of diaspora by discussing the embodied experience of contemporary diasporic communities drawing on disciplines such as Caribbean Postcolonial Diaspora and Indigenous Studies along with theories on border thinking and coloniality modernity Contesting restrictive national and linguistic boundaries when discussing literature originating from the Caribbean Pulitano situates the transnational location of Caribbean born writers within current debates of Transnational American Studies and investigates the role of immigrant writers in discourses of race ethnicity citizenship and belonging Exploring the multifarious intersections between home exile migration and displacement the book makes a significant contribution to memory and trauma studies human rights debates and international law aiming at a wide range of scholars and specialized agents beyond the strictly literary circle This volume affirms the humanity of personal stories and experiences against the invisibility of immigrant subjects in most theoretical accounts of diaspora and migration African and American Marilyn Halter,Violet

Showers Johnson,2014 African American tells the story of the experience of West African immigrants and refugees in the United States during the last forty years It highlights the intricate patterns of emigrant work and family adaptation the evolving global ties with Africa and Europe and the trans local connections among the West African enclaves in the United States Asian America Huping Ling,2009-04-29 The last half century witnessed a dramatic change in the geographic ethnographic and socioeconomic structure of Asian American communities While traditional enclaves were strengthened by waves of recent immigrants native born Asian Americans also created new urban and suburban areas Asian America is the first comprehensive look at post 1960s Asian American communities in the United States and Canada From Chinese Americans in Chicagoland to Vietnamese Americans in Orange County this multi disciplinary collection spans a wide comparative and panoramic scope Contributors from an array of academic fields focus on global views of Asian American communities as well as on territorial and cultural boundaries Presenting groundbreaking perspectives Asian America revises worn assumptions and examines current challenges Asian American communities face in the twenty first century

Homecomings Fran Markowitz,Anders H. Stefansson,2004-11-09 Despite the mass dislocation and repatriation efforts of the last century the study of return movements still sits on the periphery of anthropology and migration research Homecomings explores the forces and motives that drive immigrants war refugees political exiles and their descendants back to places of origin By including a range of homecoming experiences Markowitz and Stefansson destabilize the key oppositions and the key terminologies that have vexed migration studies for decades analyzing migration and repatriation home and homeland and host returnee and newcomer through a comparative ethnographic lens The volume provides rich answers to the following questions Does group repatriation sponsored and sometimes coerced by national governments or supranational organizations create resettlement conditions more or less favorable than those experienced by individuals or families who made this journey alone How important are first impressions living conditions and initial reception in shaping the experience of home in the homeland What are the expectations that a mythologized homeland encourages in those who have left Filling a conspicuous gap in the literature on migration in diverse fields such as anthropology politics international law and cultural studies Homecomings and the gripping ethnographic studies included in the volume demonstrate that a home and a homeland remain salient cultural imperatives that can inspire a call to political action Almost All Aliens Paul Spickard, Francisco Beltrán, Laura Hooton, 2022-09-15 Almost All Aliens offers a unique reinterpretation of immigration in the history of the United States Setting aside the European migrant centered melting pot model of immigrant assimilation Paul Spickard Francisco Beltrán and Laura Hooton put forward a fresh and provocative reconceptualization that embraces the multicultural racialized and colonially inflected reality of immigration that has always existed in the United States Their astute study illustrates the complex relationship between ethnic identity and race slavery and colonial expansion Examining the lives of those who crossed the Atlantic as well as those who crossed the Pacific the Caribbean and the North American Borderlands Almost All Aliens provides a distinct inclusive and critical analysis of immigration race and identity in the United States from 1600 until the present The second edition updates Almost All Aliens through the first two decades of the twenty first century recounting and analyzing the massive changes in immigration policy the reception of immigrants and immigrant experiences that whipsawed back and forth throughout the era It includes a new final chapter that brings the story up to the present day This book will appeal to students and researchers alike studying the history of immigration race and colonialism in the United States as well as those interested in American identity especially in the context of the early twenty first century

Engendering Transnational Voices Guida Man, Rina Cohen, 2015-05-04 Engendering Transnational Voices examines the transnational practices and identities of immigrant women youth and children in an era of global migration and neoliberalism addressing such topics as family relations gender and work schooling remittances cultural identities caring for children and the elderly inter and multi generational relationships activism and refugee determination Expressions of power resistance agency and accommodation in relation to the changing concepts of home family and citizenship are explored in both theoretical and empirical essays that critically analyze transnational experiences discourses cultural identities and social spaces of women youth and children who come from diverse racial ethnic and cultural backgrounds are either first or second generation transmigrants are considered legal or undocumented and who enter their adopted country as trafficked workers domestic workers skilled professionals or students The volume gives voice to individual experiences and focuses on human agency as well as the social economic political and cultural processes inherent in society that enable or disable immigrants to mobilize linkages across national boundaries Migrations in the Mediterranean Ricard

within the Mediterranean area for any reason or from any region be them European African Asian or originating from any of the Mediterranean shores It showcases a plurality of approaches to and applications of Mediterranean migration contributing to a regional approach to migration studies thereby defending this regional approach by scaling Mediterranean migration issues This book covers a large set of questions related Mediterranean migrations to the migration research agenda such as market and economy politics and policies super diversity and intersectionality media society welfare and the environment through five main parts Geo political Mediterranean Relations Governance Policies and Politics Mobility drivers and Agency Cities History and Social Transformations and Economy and Labour Markets This Regional Reader provides an interesting read to scholars researchers but also policy makers and civil society organizations high representatives international foundations and institutions interested in linking the Mediterranean and migration The Early Morning Phonecall Anna Lindley,2010-08-30 As migration from poverty stricken and conflict affected countries continues to hit the headlines this book focuses on an important counter flow the money that people send home Despite considerable research on the impact of migration and remittances in countries of origin increasingly viewed as a source of development capital still little is known about refugees remittances to conflict affected countries because such funds are most often seen as a source of conflict finance This book explores the dynamics infrastructure and far reaching effects of remittances from the perspectives of people in the Somali regions and the diaspora With conflict driving mass displacement Somali society has become progressively transnational its vigorous remittance economy reaching from the heart of the global North into wrecked cities refugee camps and remote rural areas By following the money the author opens a window on the everyday lives of people caught up in processes of conflict migration and development The book demonstrates how in the interstices of state disruption and globalisation and in the shadow of violence and political uncertainty life in the Somali regions goes on subject to complex transnational forms of social economic and political innovation and change Nationalism Philip Spencer,Howard Wollman,2002-04-25 Spencer and Wollman remain succinct and clear in their critical introduction to the most influential nationalism theories The book is well structured the arguments clearly presented Its format makes it a great textbook for all seeking a deeper understanding of nationalism and national identity while those already familiar with the subject will no doubt enjoy this erudite volume as well Sociology This book is a valuable source for the interested reader who needs a concise and critical introduction into theories and theorists of nationalism The extensive bibliography and a good index make it a work which should be on the bookshelf of anyone teaching nationalism Journal of Contemporary European Studies Nationalism provides an indispensable review of the study of nationalism that both introduces and critically positions all the main issues theories and contemporary debates Drawing upon and introducing a wide range of literatures from across politics sociology history social anthropology and cultural studies the authors seek to further challenge fixed notions of national identity ethnicity and culture to more fully explore and understand the contemporary complexities of citizenship and the genuine potential for a cosmopolitan democracy The text surveys both classical and contemporary approaches including those from within feminism postmodernism postcolonialism and globalisation studies It will be essential reading for all students and academics seeking a deeper understanding of nationalism and national identity today The Gypsy Caravan David Malvinni, 2004-05 A formidable challenge to the study of Roma Gypsy music is the muddle of fact and fiction in determining identity This book investigates Gypsy music as a marked and marketable exotic substance and as a site of active cultural negotiation and appropriation between the real Roma and the idealized Gypsies of the Western imagination David Malvinni studies specific composers including Liszt Brahms Rachmaninov Janacek and Bartók whose work takes up contested and varied configurations of Gypsy music The music of these composers is considered alongside contemporary debates over popular music and film as Malvinni argues that Gypsiness remains impervious to empirical revelations about the real Roma
