why now Elshtain argues that Augustine's great works display a canny and scrupulous attunement to the here and now and the very real limits therein She discusses other aspects of Augustine's thought as well including his insistence that no human city can be modeled on the heavenly city and further elaborates on Hannah Arendt's deep indebtedness to Augustine's understanding of evil Elshtain also presents Augustine's arguments against the pridefulness of philosophy thereby linking him to later currents in modern thought including Wittgenstein and Freud
