

ART IDEAS HISTORY

This series of fourteen volumes is a vast inquiry into the cultural background of the Western world. Its aim is threefold: to bring art and history into relation with the movement of ideas and the structure of society; to show the vital connection between creative art and the sensibility and spirit of each age; to provide a better understanding of the artist's work by tracing the social, literary and philosophical sources of his inspiration. From this inquiry emerges a comprehensive picture of the creative achievements of each period of history. Text and illustrations are closely associated in a clear and original presentation designed to bring out the leading themes and preoccupations of each age, and the underlying connections between art, ideas and history.

The Making of the Christian West, 980-1140 Georges Duby, 1967 Distributed in the U S by World Publishing Company Cleveland The making of the Christian West Georges Duby, Stuart Gilbert, 1967 Medieval art Georges Duby, 1995

Medieval Art Georges Duby, 1995 William Marshal Georges Duby, 2011-02-09 Georges Duby one of this century's great medieval historians has brought to life with exceptional brilliance and imagination William Marshal adviser to the Plantagenets knight extraordinaire the flower of chivalry A marvel of historical reconstruction William Marshal is based on a biographical poem written in the thirteenth century and offers an evocation of chivalric life the contests and tournaments the rites of war the daily details of medieval existence unlike any we have ever seen Medieval Art Second Edition Marilyn Stokstad, 2021-12-24 This beautifully produced survey of over a thousand years of Western art and architecture introduces the reader to a vast period of history ranging from ancient Rome to the age of exploration The monumental arts and the diverse minor arts of the Middle Ages are presented here within the social religious and political frameworks of lands as varied as France and Denmark Spain and Turkey Marilyn Stokstad also teaches her reader how to look at medieval art which aspects of architecture sculpture or painting are important and for what reasons Stylistic and iconographic issues and themes are thoroughly addressed with attention paid to aesthetic and social contexts The Trial of the Templars Malcolm Barber, 1993-07-30 On 18 March 1314 Jacques de Molay Grand Master of the Templars was burned at the stake For almost two centuries the knights of the Order of the Temple had flourished during the Crusades in Palestine and Syria and in the West notably in France But in 1307 the Templars in France were arrested by King Philip IV's officials in the name of the Inquisition their property seized and the men charged with serious heresies including the denial of Christ homosexuality and idol worship Confessions extracted under torture were brought before royal and papal tribunals but in 1310 a number of Templar brothers mounted a defence of their Order refuelling the controversies which continued for a further four years before the final executions Malcolm Barber's fascinating account assessing the charges brought against the Order once again puts the Templars on trial In the Beauty of Holiness David Lyle Jeffrey, 2017 Art and worship to 1500 Beauty and holiness as terms of art The paradoxical beauty of the cross Beauty and proportion in the sanctuary The beauty of light The beauty of holiness fresco Beauty on the altar Art and the Bible after 1500 Beauty power and doctrine Beauty and the eye of the beholder Romantic religion and the sublime Art after belief Art against belief Return of the transcendentals The History of Feudalism David Herlihy, 1971-06-18 Religion and religious institutions in the European economy, 1000-1800 Istituto internazionale di storia economica F. Datini. Settimana di studio, 2012 University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Subjects University of California (System). Institute of Library Research, University of California, Berkeley, 1972 Throne of Wisdom Ilene H. Forsyth, 2019-01-29 The wooden statue of the Mother and Child enthroned known as sedes sapientiae the Seat or Throne of Wisdom reached the brilliant culmination of its development as a genre of religious sculpture in the twelfth century. As a visible expression of the mystery of Incarnation, its iconography dated back to the early church. Translated by the Romanesque sculptor into a fully plastic freestanding form, its style conveys convincingly the medieval vision of humanity and divinity interfused. The recent cleaning and restoration of a number of these wood-carved figures of the Madonna in Majesty has now made possible a full appraisal of the genre. Mrs Forsyth's discussion examines the character, function, iconography and history of the statues, distinguishes types and regional styles, considers their role within the broader context of medieval art, and assesses their artistic merit. Her register of principal examples includes 110 sculptures dating from twelfth-century France, some of which have never been published before. 192 illustrations accompany the text. Ilene H. Forsyth is Associate Professor in the Department of the History of Art at the University of Michigan. Originally published in 1972. The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print-on-demand technology to again make available previously out-of-print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press. These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions. The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905.

Rhinoceros Bound Barbara H. Rosenwein, 2016-11-11. The rhinoceros that is any powerful man is bound with a thong so that he may crush the clods of the valleys that is the oppressors of the humble. Odo of Cluny. Vita Geraldi i 8. To the second abbot of the great monastery at Cluny, Saint Odo, tenth century. Europe was a world filled with violent men oppressing at whim the poor and the powerless. As royal authority waned, local magnates unrestrained by any authority, divine or human, seized the opportunity to enhance their positions. Odo, along with Cluny's other founding spiritual and ideological leaders, created within the protective walls of the monastery a model of restraint, instituting in place of the instability of everyday life an interpretation of the Benedictine Rule that stressed ritual order and lawfulness. Such were the beginnings of the monastery that Pope Urban II in the eleventh century would call the light of the world, the fountainhead of what would become one of the most far-reaching religious reform movements in European history. Barbara Rosenwein in Rhinoceros Bound focuses on Cluny's founding and early growth within the context of a society shaped by the needs of those set adrift in the social upheaval of the tenth century. Examining in the first chapter traditional approaches to Cluniac studies, the author reveals that historians have generally considered Cluny's eleventh-century role in church reform without analyzing the peculiar combination of forces and founders that created the Cluniac ideal and gave it its original momentum. This fundamental problem is the topic of the second chapter. She then examines how the early Cluniacs perceived the world outside the monastery and how they viewed their own world inside of it. Rosenwein concludes with a chapter on Cluny in the tenth century that combines traditional historical techniques with contemporary sociological insights. She provides in this study a significant reassessment of a period crucial to the political development of Europe as well as a case study of institutional response to acute and political change History Continues Georges Duby, 1994-12-15 In this engaging intellectual autobiography Georges Duby looks back on a career that has led him to be called one of the most distinguished historians in the Western world Since its beginning in the 1940s Duby's career has been rich and varied encompassing economic history social history the history of mentalities art history microhistory urban history the history of women and sexuality and most recently the Church's influence on feudal society In retracing this singular career path Duby candidly remembers his life's most formative influences including the legendary historians Marc Bloch and Lucien Febvre the Annales School so closely associated with them and the College de France Duby also offers insights about the proper methods of gathering and using archival data and on constructing penetrating interpretations of the documents Indeed his discussion of how he chose his subjects collected his materials developed the arguments erected the scaffolding and constructed his theses offers the best introduction to the craft available to aspiring historians Candid and charming this book is both a memoir of one of this century's great scholars and a history of the French historical school since the mid twentieth century It will be required reading for anyone interested in the French academic milieu medieval history French history or the recording of history in general Georges Duby a member of the Academie francaise for many years held the distinguished chair in medieval history at the College de France His numerous books include The Age of Cathedrals The Knight the Lady and the Priest Love and Marriage in the Middle Ages and The Three Orders all published by the University of Chicago Press France, a History in Art Bradley Smith, 1984 A panoramic history of French artistic traditions ranging from the prehistoric cave paintings of Lascaux to the present is highlighted by three hundred superb full color reproductions American Book Publishing Record, 1970 El juicio de los templarios Malcolm Barber, 1999-06-02 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1970 British Literature Hazelton Spencer, Beverly J.
