Modernism And The Spirit Of The City:

Modernism and the Spirit of the City Iain Boyd Whyte, 2003 This selection of groundbreaking essays offers a significant and long overdue reassessment of the aims and intentions of European architecture and urbanism over the period 1880 1960

Modernism and the Spirit of the City Iain Boyd Whyte, 2013-01-11 Modernism and the Spirit of the City offers a new reading of the architectural modernism that emerged and flourished in Europe in the first half of the twentieth century Rejecting the fashionable postmodernist arguments of the 1980s and 90s which damned modernist architecture as banal and monotonous this collection of essays by eminent scholars investigates the complex cultural social and religious imperatives that lay below the smooth white surfaces of new architecture The Spaces of the Modern City Gyan Prakash, Kevin M. Kruse, 2008-02-24 It historicizes the contemporary discussion of urbanism highlighting the local and global breadth of the city landscape This interdisciplinary collection examines how the city develops in the interactions of space and imagination The essays focus on issues such as street design in Vienna the motion picture industry in Los Angeles architecture in Marseilles and Algiers and the kaleidoscopic paradox of post apartheid Johannesburg They explore the nature of spatial politics examining the disparate worlds of eighteenth century Baghdad nineteenth century Morelia They also show the meaning of everyday spaces to urban life illuminating issues such as crime in metropolitan London youth culture in Dakar memory projects in Tokyo and Bombay cinema Stalinist City Planning Heather D. DeHaan, 2013-01-01 Based on research in previously closed Soviet archives this book sheds light on the formative years of Soviet city planning and on state efforts to consolidate power through cityscape design Stepping away from Moscow's central corridors of power Heather D DeHaan focuses her study on 1930s Nizhnii Novgorod where planners struggled to accommodate the expectations of a Stalinizing state without sacrificing professional authority and power Bridging institutional and cultural history the book brings together a variety of elements of socialism as enacted by planners on a competitive urban stage such as scientific debate the crafting of symbolic landscapes and state campaigns for the development of cultured cities and people By examining how planners and other urban inhabitants experienced lived and struggled with socialism and Stalinism DeHaan offers readers a much broader more complex picture of planning and planners than has been revealed to date Dust jacket The Heart of the City Leonardo Zuccaro Marchi, 2017-12-06 The Heart of the City concept which was introduced at CIAM 8 in 1951 has played an important role in architectural and urban debates The Heart became the most important of the organic references used in the 1950s for defining a theory of urban form This book focuses on both the historical and theoretical reinterpretation of this seminal concept Divided into two main sections both looking at differing ways in which the Heart has influenced more recent urban thinking it illustrates the continuity and the complexities of the Heart of the City In doing so this book offers a new perspective on the significance of public space and shows how The Heart of the City still resonates closely with contemporary debates about centrality identity and the design of public space It would be of interest to architects academics and students of urban design and planning The Detective of Modernity Georgia Giannakopoulou, Graeme Gilloch, 2020-12-30 This book explores the thought of and is dedicated to David Frisby one of the leading sociologists of the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Presenting original examinations of his unique social theory and underlining his interdisciplinary approach to the critical interpretation of modern metropolitan society and culture it emphasises Frisby's legacy in highlighting the role of the social researcher as a collector reader observer detective and archivist of the phenomena and ideas that exemplify the modern metropolis as society With contributions from sociologists cultural theorists historians of the city urban geographers and designers and architectural historians and theorists The Detective of Modernity constitutes a wide ranging engagement with Frisby's profound legacy in social and cultural theory Interpretation in Architecture Adrian Snodgrass, Richard Coyne, 2013-05-13 Drawing on cultural theory phenomenology and concepts from Asian art and philosophy this book reflects on the role of interpretation in the act of architectural creation bringing an intellectual and scholarly dimension to real world architectural design practice For practising architects as well as academic researchers these essays consider interpretation from three theoretical standpoints or themes play edification and otherness Focusing on these the book draws together strands of thought informed by the diverse reflections of hermeneutical scholarship the uses of digital media and studio teaching and practice The Greening of London, 1920-2000 Matti O. Hannikainen, 2017-05-15 The long term development of public green spaces such as parks public gardens and recreation grounds in London during the twentieth century is a curiously neglected subject despite the fact that various kinds of green spaces cover huge areas in cities in the UK today This book explores how and why public green spaces have been created and used in London and what actors have been involved in their evolution during the course of the twentieth century Building on case studies of the contemporary boroughs of Camden and Southwark and making use of a wealth of archival material the author takes us through the planning and creation stages to the intended and actual uses and ongoing management of the spaces By highlighting the rise and fall of municipal authorities and the impact of neo liberalism after the 1970s the book also deepens our understanding of how London has been governed planned and ruled during the twentieth century It makes a crucial contribution to academic as well as political discourse on the history and present role of green space in sustainable cities Discovering the Spirit in the City Andrew Walker, Aaron Kennedy, 2010-09-16 All those who feeling the tensions of urban existence are seeking a more spiritual dimension Here that search is given a very practical focus grounded in everyday city life The diverse range of contributors some are best selling authors in their own right increases the book's appeal its international flavour underlines the fact that the search for the spiritual is common to all cities and it includes both Jewish and Islamic contributions The Spirit of the City Janna Jones, 2023-06-01 Marshall Fredericks's Detroit sculptures capture the spirit of the Motor City and its dramatic transformation from the 1950s to the present day In this book Janna Jones analyzes eight of these enormous works of public art situating them and their structures in metro Detroit's distinctive midcentury milieu and bringing much needed critical attention to this sculptor's oeuvre. Sadly some of these artworks have suffered along with the city as it shrank from its postwar zenith. Both the buildings and the sculptures erected for them deserve to be rescued from neglect and then maintained and preserved for the future.

The Spirit of the City Bernadette Flanagan, 1999

The Modernity of English Art, 1914-30 David Peters Corbett, 1997

The modernity of English art reconceptualises the history of English painting from 1914 to the end of the 1920s. Whereas most accounts have tended to see the period as marked by a tension between the native tradition and Modernism, this ground-breaking book rethinks the 1920s by situating both Modernist and non-Modernist painters within a wider cultural history. Established figures such as Paul Nash, Edward Wadsworth and Wyndham Lewis as well as lesser-known artists like Charles Sims, John Armstrong and Ethelbert White are discussed and illustrated in a series of innovative readings within this context. The modernity of English art offers a new account of painting in England after 1914 and argues for a strongly revisionist view of the significance of the modern during this important but neglected period in English art.

The Spirit of Colin McCahon Zoe Alderton, 2015-02-27

The Spirit of Colin McCahon provides a vivid historical contextualisation of New Zealand's premier modern artist, clearly explaining his esoteric religious themes and symbols. Via a framework of visual rhetoric, this book explores the social factors that formed McCahon's religious and environmental beliefs and justifications as to why his audience often missed the intended point of spiritual discourse or chose to ignore it. The Spirit of Colin McCahon tracks the intricate process by which the artist's body of work turned from optimism to misery and explains the many communicative techniques he employed in order to arrest suspicion towards his Christian prophecy. More broadly, The Spirit of Colin McCahon outlines a model of analysis for the intersection of art and religion and the place of images as rhetorical devices within Antipodean culture. The emerging field of religion and visual culture is important not only to students of New Zealand art history but also to a growing field of appreciation for the communicative power of images. This book provides a helpful model for examining art and literature as social and religious tools and advances the importance of visual rhetoric within studies of art and social expression.

The Methodist Review ,1925 The Emergence of a Modern City Henriette Steiner,2016-03-23 This book is an exploration of how urban life in Copenhagen in the period known as the Golden Age c 1800 to 1850 was experienced and structured socially institutionally and architecturally It draws on a broad historical source material spanning urban anecdotes biography philosophy literature and visual culture to do so The book argues that Copenhagen emerged as a modern city at this time despite the fact that the Golden Age never witnessed the appearance of the main characteristics of the modernisation of cities associated with industrialisation such as street lighting sewer systems and railroads The book outlines the historical and topographical context of Copenhagen in the Golden Age with a special focus on the works of the most prominent architect of the period C F Hansen The characterisation of the city is complemented by investigations into writings of three citizens the philosopher Soren Kierkegaard the novelist Thomasine Gyllembourg and the criminal Ole Kollerod who all take an interest in the city s institutional and urban structures as well as their own place in it From these different sources a picture is painted of urban life and thought at a time when the city began to take on characteristics of ambiguity and alienation in European thinking while at the same time the city itself retained some pre modern motifs of a symbolic order This transformation is set in a larger process of cultural re orientation from traditional Baroque culture to what might be termed Romantic culture The book reconsiders the significance of this transformation for the emergent order of the modern European city in the nineteenth century and thus of the very foundation on which our own urban culture rests The Imperfect City: On Architectural Judgment Samir Younes,2016-03-03 If architectural judgment were a city a city of ideas and forms then it is a very imperfect city When architects judge the success or failure of a building the range of ways and criteria which can be used for this evaluation causes many contentious and discordant arguments Proposing that the increase in number and intensity of such arguments threatens to destabilize the very grounds upon which judgment is supposed to rest this book examines architectural judgment in its historical cultural political and psychological dimensions and their convergence on that most expressive part of architecture namely architectural character It stresses the value of reasoned judgment in justifying architectural form a judgment based on three sets of criteria those criteria that are external to architecture those that are internal to architecture and those that pertain to the psychology of the architect as image maker External criteria include philosophies of history or theories of modernity internal criteria include architectural character and architectural composition while the psychological criteria pertain to mimetic rivalry or rivaling desires for the same architectural forms Yet although architectural conflicts can adversely influence judgment they can at the same time contribute to the advancement of architectural culture Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review ,1927
