Ruined Eden of the Present Gary Richard Thompson, Virgil Llewellyn Lokke, 1981 A recurrent idea in Darrel Abel's criticism of the works of Hawthorne gives this volume its title The idea of a fallen world and its potential for partial redemption through art and the art of criticism is a theme that weaves in and out of the sixteen essays The volume as a whole displays an explicit and implicit concern with critical approaches and reflects an awareness of the fictiveness of critical resolutions in a world in which boundaries are constantly under challenge for example those which divide textuality from contextuality This collection of essays explores the problems the practical critic and teacher has had to face in the shifts in taste assumptions and methodology in the moves from moral and historical criticism to the New Criticism and to the newer linguistic and semiotic criticism Gothic to Multicultural A. Robert Lee, 2009 Gothic to Multicultural Idioms of Imagining in American Literary Fiction twenty three essays each carefully revised from the past four decades explores both range and individual register The collection opens with considerations of gothic as light and dark in Charles Brockden Brown war and peace in Cooper's The Spy Antarctica as world genesis in Poe's The Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym the link of The Custom House and main text in Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter reflexive codings in Melville's Moby Dick and The Confidence Man Henry James Hawthorne as self mirroring biography and Stephen Crane's working of his Civil War episode in The Red Badge of Courage Two composite lineages address apocalypse in African American fiction and landscape in women's authorship from Sarah Orne Jewett to Leslie Marmon Silko There follow culture and anarchy in Henry James The Princess Casamassima text into film in Edith Wharton's The Age of Innocence modernist stylings in Fitzgerald Faulkner and Hemingway and roman noir in Cornell Woolrich The collection then turns to the limitations of protest categorization for Richard Wright and Chester Himes autofiction in J D Salinger's The Catcher in the Rye and the novel of ideas in Robert Penn Warren's late fiction Three closing essays take up multicultural genealogy Harlem then the Black South in African American fiction and the reclamation of voice in Native American fiction A Robert Lee is Professor of American Literature at Nihon University Tokyo having previously taught at the University of Kent UK His publications include Designs of Blackness Mappings in the Literature and Culture of Afro America 1998 Multicultural American Fiction Comparative Black Native Latino a and Asian American Fictions 2003 which won the American Book Award for 2004 Japan Textures Sight and Word with Mark Gresham 2007 and United States Re-viewing Multicultural American Literature 2008 Nathaniel Hawthorne, Updated Edition Harold Bloom, 2009 A collection of critical essays on Nathaniel Hawthorne's work Critical Essays on

Hawthorne's Short Stories Albert J. Von Frank, 1991 Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter Harold Bloom, 1996 A guide to Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter offering biographical information about the author analysis of the text a character list and critical excerpts American Literature and the Culture of Reprinting, 1834-1853 Meredith L. McGill, 2013-10-11

The antebellum period has long been identified with the belated emergence of a truly national literature And yet as Meredith L. McGill argues a mass market for books in this period was built and sustained through what we would call rampant literary piracy a national literature developed not despite but because of the systematic copying of foreign works Restoring a political dimension to accounts of the economic grounds of antebellum literature McGill unfolds the legal arguments and political struggles that produced an American culture of reprinting and held it in place for two crucial decades In this culture of reprinting the circulation of print outstripped authorial and editorial control McGill examines the workings of literary culture within this market shifting her gaze from first and authorized editions to reprints and piracies from the form of the book to the intersection of book and periodical publishing and from a national literature to an internally divided and transatlantic literary marketplace Through readings of the work of Dickens Poe and Hawthorne McGill seeks both to analyze how changes in the conditions of publication influenced literary form and to measure what was lost as literary markets became centralized and literary culture became stratified in the early 1850s

American Literature and the Culture of Reprinting 1834-1853 delineates a distinctive literary culture that was regional in articulation and transnational in scope while questioning the grounds of the startlingly recent but nonetheless powerful equation of the national interest with the extension of authors' rights The Half-vanished Structure Magnus Ullén, 2004 This book takes issue with the tendency in twentieth century Hawthorne criticism to blur the distinction between symbolism and allegory Rejecting the long standing notion that Hawthorne is a symbolist in allegorical disguise Ullén argues that allegory is the key to understanding how religion sexuality aesthetics and politics are interwoven in Hawthorne's writings The study presents a model for allegorical interpretation of general applicability which is brought to bear on each of Hawthorne's mature romances and on the oft neglected Wonder Books written for children An unparalleled analysis of the formal intricacies of Hawthorne's writings this book is an eloquent plea for the necessity of grounding ideological analysis in aesthetical considerations The Critical Response to Nathaniel Hawthorne's The Scarlet Letter Gary Scharnhorst, 1992-01-22

The Scarlet Letter is virtually unique among works of American fiction because it has not lapsed from print in over 140 years The history of its reception which is fully articulated in the volume introduction may be read as a case study in canon formation The collection of documents in the volume outline the highs and lows of Nathaniel Hawthorne's literary reputation and the elevation of his first and best known romance to the rank of masterpiece and classic Also included is a selective bibliography of modern scholarship Among the early documents reprinted are contemporary news accounts of Hawthorne's dismissal from the Salem Custom House in June 1849 which provide the immediate background to The Custom House introduction in the story the publisher James T. Fields's anecdotal version of the book's composition history and a generous sheaf of notices from both American and British newspapers upon its publication in March 1850. Of special value are the various essays and other materials that trace the institutionalization of the romance within the genteel tradition of American letters in the late nineteenth century. More recently, The Scarlet Letter has become something of an academic shibboleth inspiring dozens of New Critical psychoanalytical feminist and other readings which are also represented in this collection. Prominent among modern critics whose essays appear are Neal Frank, Doubleday, Darrel Abel, and Nina Baym. A number of reviews of theatrical and cinematic adaptations of the story also underscore its stature as a cultural icon. This volume is essential for serious research on Nathaniel Hawthorne and provides a convenient body of valuable commentary accessible even to the student reading The Scarlet Letter for the first time.

Nathaniel Hawthorne, The Scarlet Letter Elmer Kennedy-Andrews, 2000. Introduces and sets in context the enormous range of critical arguments that have been generated by this enduring work. From the comments and reviews of Hawthorne's contemporaries through discussions of the novel by fellow artists such as Henry James and D. H. Lawrence to radical re-readings of the postwar decades, the reader is given an invaluable guide to the critical progress of this key American text.

American Literature Studies on Emerson, Thoreau, Hawthorne, Melville and Whitman Sujata Gurudev, 2006-12. The present book attempts to bring before the reading public an in-depth analysis of the literary scenario of 19th-century America, focusing mainly on diverse literary talents from men of letters like Emerson and Thoreau to novelists like Hawthorne and Melville to the prophetic vision of Whitman. The period being one of the richest in American history, saw the flowering of a rare breed of humanism where an all-out attempt was made to understand the egoistic and altruistic motives in man. Transcendentalism was the crowning glory of such an attempt while the dark shadow of Puritanism cast over Hawthorne's fiction an uneasy shadow. Melville passionately denounced in fictional terms the duplicity of what he termed as divine depravity. Whitman celebrated the word en masse or the divine average. Thoreau likewise walked past the Walden Pond with a naturalistic zeal attempting to come to terms with nature, red in tooth and claw. The book attempts to wade through a bewildering literary maze in an attempt to highlight not merely the literary figures of the age, their celebrated works, but also the reasons behind the flowering of genius. Replete with in-depth critical research, the present book will serve as an ideal reference book on American literature. Both students and teachers of the subject will find it equally useful and indispensable.

Hawthorne's Shyness Clark Davis, 2005-06-06. This important new reading of a central figure in American literary history, significant in its own right, powerfully demonstrates the potential of Davis's critical approach.

The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011. Arranged in alphabetical order, these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries.

Morris, 2007 The Figure of the Road examines the metaphor of the road way or path in works of representative humanities disciplines literature religion philosophy visual art popular culture to show how writers and artists anticipated the dilemma known to contemporary deconstruction as the aporia or pathless place This tradition exposes the solution advocated in Derrida's late thought the search for the tout autre as a negative theology and suppression of writing's freedom to allegorize these insoluble problems The Figure of the Road concludes by tracing the bleak Beckett like implications of this freedom for curriculum and ethics in a world understood as wholly figural

W. Oram, 2014-05-21 Academic collection practices in recent years have extended to the private libraries of notable individual authors. As a consequence, book historians have become more interested in the study of provenance of the contents of these libraries, while literary scholars have devoted more attention to authorial annotations. At the same time, the Internet has encouraged both scholarly and hobbyist reconstructions of private libraries; see for example the Legacy Libraries on Librarything.com. Although there are many bibliographies and reconstructions of the libraries of authors, this is the first general consideration of these libraries and serves as an introduction to best practices for academic libraries in their acquisition, cataloging, and issues of access. This collection begins with principal editor Richard Oram's historical overview of writers' libraries and institutional collecting, focusing primarily on English language authors. The co-editor Joseph Nicholson has provided a definitive review of best cataloging and arrangement practices that facilitate scholarly access. The bookseller Kevin Mac Donnell discusses the marketing of these collections and obstacles to placing intact author libraries in institutions. Also included are case studies by Amanda Golden and David Faulds relating to the personal libraries of the poets Anne Sexton and Ted Hughes, indicating how these collections have the potential to enhance archival research. Fiction writers Iain Sinclair, Russell Banks, Jim Crace, poet Ted Kooser, and biographer Ron Powers describe their sometimes passionate relationship with books and their own personal libraries. The concluding chapter, a location guide to over 500 individual libraries, will be invaluable to scholars and librarians who want to know where writers' libraries are currently located, what happened to them if they are known to have been sold or dispersed, and what has been written about them.
