Nation Building And Common Values In Russia:

Nation-Building and Common Values in Russia Pål Kolstø, Helge Blakkisrud, 2005-11 Vladimir Putin has explicitly based his nation building initiatives on the assumption that there exists a vast pool of common values in Russia that cut across ethnic and regional divides Nation Building and Common Values in Russia explores whether Putin is correct in his assumption and to what degree a commonality of values among the citizens of a country is a crucial element in the establishment of a common identity among them The study raises two basic questions Which values are actually common among various groups in Russia s population And which nation building strategies are the Russian authorities actually pursuing centrally and locally Sociological and political approaches to the study of nation building and national cohesion in Russia are employed to answer these questions and the findings contribute to a better understanding of nation building processes in post Communist Russia in general and of Putin s strategies in particular Translocality, Entrepreneurship and Middle Class Across Eurasia Philipp Schröder, 2024-04-24 Translocality Entrepreneurship and Middle Class Across Eurasia is a comprehensive multi sited ethnography about the unfolding of capitalism across Eurasia and the advent of a new middle class since the late Soviet era Based on extensive fieldwork the book follows three generations of ethnic Kyrgyz in three distinct eras and sites The early bazaar traders of Novosibirsk Russia the post 2000 middlemen operating in Guangzhou China and the new entrepreneurs who have emerged at home in Kyrgyzstan around 2015 The book advocates translocality as an innovative concept to better understand the dialectic of mobility and emplacement in contemporary livelihoods and value chains that transgress not only political borders but also less tangible socio cultural boundaries Through this lens the chapters forcefully demonstrate how ways of business making align or conflict with notions of ethnic belonging diaspora sociability or gender in and in between various locations Proposing the imaginary of commercial journeys the book documents the aspirations adjustments and struggles of an emergent middle class whose neoliberal subjectivity is inspired by a flexible entrepreneurial spirit of Kyrgyzzness and who navigate in a market environment that recently has been shifting towards more actor diversification service orientation and rule based formalization This book will be of interest particularly to scholars in the fields of economic anthropology post socialist studies migration mobility and area studies with a focus on Central Asia and Eurasia Narrating the Soviet Era in Russian School History Textbooks Olga Konkka, 2025-09-03 This study focuses on how Russian history textbooks published between 1992 and 2021 dealt with the topic of the Soviet period 1917 1991 Representations of this part of Russia s past in school manuals have provoked vivid debates and bolstered government intervention in the field while a gradual shift towards a less critical narrative of the USSR in more recent textbooks is often presented as directed by Vladimir Putin This study combines research into these texts and inquiry into those who write publish approve or criticize them Bringing together these perspectives provides a more complex view of school textbooks as final products of both top down and bottom up processes This volume is aimed at postgraduates researchers and academics specializing in Soviet history contemporary Russian politics and society and history education and textbooks

Informal Nationalism After Communism Abel Polese, Oleksandra Seliverstova, Emilia Pawlusz, Jeremy Morris, 2018-03-20 Since the collapse of the Soviet Union nation building and identity construction in the post socialist region have been the subject of extensive academic research The majority of these studies have taken a top down approach focusing on the variety of ways in which governments have sought to define the nascent nation states and in the process have often oversimplified the complex and overlapping processes at play across the region Drawing on research on the Balkans Central Asia the Caucasus and Eastern Europe this book focuses instead on the role of non traditional non politicised and non elite actors in the construction of identity Across topics as diverse as school textbooks turbofolk and home decoration contributors each an academic with extensive on the ground experience identify and analyse the ways that individuals living across the post socialist region redefine identity on a daily basis often by manipulating and adapting state policy In the process Nation Building in the Post Socialist Region demonstrates the necessity of holistic trans national and inter disciplinary approaches to national identity construction rather than studies limited to a single state territory This is important reading for all scholars and policymakers working on the post socialist region

New Russian Nationalism Kolsto Pal Kolsto, 2016-03-24 Russian nationalism previously dominated by imperial tendencies pride in a large strong and multi ethnic state able to project its influence abroad is increasingly focused on ethnic issues In 2014 Russia s annexation of Crimea and the subsequent violent conflict in Eastern Ukraine utterly transformed the nationalist discourse in Russia This book provides an up to date survey of Russian nationalism as a political social and intellectual phenomenon by leading Western and Russian experts in the field of nationalism studies It includes case studies on migrantophobia the relationship between nationalism and religion nationalism in the media nationalism and national identity in economic policy nationalism in the strategy of the Putin regime as well as a survey based study of nationalism in public opinion

Pedagogies of Culture Dilyara Suleymanova, 2020-02-14 Through an ethnographic study of schooling in the Republic of Tatarstan this book explores how competing notions of nationhood and belonging are constructed articulated and negotiated within educational spaces Amidst major political and ideological moves toward centralization in Russia under the Putin presidency this small provincial town in Tatarstan provides a unique case of local attempts to promote and preserve minority languages and cultures through education and schooling Ultimately the study reveals that while schooling can be an effective instrument of the state to transform individuals as well as society as a whole school also encompasses various spaces where the agency of local actors unfolds and official messages are contested Looking at what happens inside schools and beyond in classrooms hallways and playgrounds to private households or local Islamic schools Dilyara Suleymanova here offers a detailed ethnographic account of the way centrally devised educational policies are being received negotiated and contested on the ground

Constructing Grievance Elise Giuliano, 2011-03-15 Demands for national independence among ethnic minorities around the world suggest the power of nationalism Contemporary nationalist movements can quickly attract fervent followings but they can just as rapidly lose support In Constructing Grievance Elise Giuliano asks why people with ethnic identities throw their support behind nationalism in some cases but remain quiescent in others Popular support for nationalism Giuliano contends is often fleeting It develops as part of the process of political mobilization a process that itself transforms the meaning of ethnic identity She compares sixteen ethnic republics of the Russian Federation where nationalist mobilization varied widely during the early 1990s despite a common Soviet inheritance Drawing on field research in the republic of Tatarstan socioeconomic statistical data and a comparative discourse analysis of local newspapers Giuliano argues that people respond to nationalist leaders after developing a group grievance Ethnic grievances however are not simply present or absent among a given population based on societal conditions Instead they develop out of the interaction between people's lived experiences and the specific messages that nationalist entrepreneurs put forward concerning ethnic group disadvantage In Russia Giuliano shows ethnic grievances developed rapidly in certain republics in the late Soviet era when messages articulated by nationalist leaders about ethnic inequality in local labor markets resonated with people's experience of growing job insecurity in a contracting economy In other republics however where nationalist leaders focused on articulating other issues such as cultural and language problems facing the ethnic group group grievances failed to develop and popular support for nationalism stalled People with ethnic identities Giuliano concludes do not form political interest groups primed to support ethnic politicians and movements for national secession and Christians living in the country today Mapping linguistic strategies of missionaries converts and religious authorities Sibgatullina demonstrates how sacred vocabulary in each of the languages is being contested by a variety of social actors often with competing agendas These linguistic collisions not only affect meanings of the religious lexicon in Tatar and Russian but also drive a gradual convergence of Russia's Islam and Christianity People Changing Places Isabelle Côté, Matthew I. Mitchell, Monica Duffy Toft, 2018-07-04 While migration and population settlement have always been an important feature of political life throughout the world the dramatic changes in the pace direction and complexity of contemporary migration flows are undoubtedly unique Despite the economic benefits often associated with global regional and internal migration the arrival of large numbers of migrants can exacerbate tensions and give rise to violent clashes between local populations and recent arrivals This volume takes stock of these trends by canvassing the globe to generate new conceptual empirical and theoretical contributions The analyses ultimately reveal the critical role of the state as both an actor and arena in the migration conflict nexus Contemporary Russia as a Feudal Society V. Shlapentokh, Joshau Woods, 2007-11-26 The book offers a theoretical discussion of the feudal model and a preliminary application of the model to post Soviet Russia In addition to a review of the feudal model as an ideal type the author explains the analytical benefits of drawing comparisons between countries and across historical contexts Specifically contemporary Russia is compared to Western European countries during the Middle Ages and to the Soviet period in Russian history The book is devoted to illuminating the most important political social and economic characteristics of contemporary Russian society The Return Daniel Treisman, 2012-01-10 Assesses modern day Russia to consider such topics as whether the collapse of the Soviet Union was preventable Yeltsin's impact on political order and Putin's public popularity Institutional Legacies of Communism Karl Cordell, Timofey Agarin, Alexander Osipov, 2013-07-03 Twenty years after the demise of communist policy this book evaluates the continuing communist legacies in the current minority protection systems and legislations across a number of states in post communist Europe The fall of communism and the process of democratisation across post communist Europe led to considerable change in minority protection with new systems and national political institutions either developed or copied In general the new institutions reflected the practices and experiences of western European states and were installed upon advice from European security organisations Yet many ideas legislative frameworks policies and practices remained open to interpretation on the ground With case studies on a diverse set of post communist polities including Slovakia Bosnia Macedonia Ukraine Estonia Croatia the Baltic States and Russia expert contributors consider how the institutional legacies of the communist past impact on policies designed to support minority communities in the new European democracies Providing unique empirical material and comparative analyses of ethnocultural diversity management during and after communism this book will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations European politics political geography post communism ethnic politics nationalism and national identity Criminology and Criminal Justice in Russia Anna Gurinskaya, Mahesh Nalla, 2018-10-05 Though criminology took root in Russia in the early 1800s and has gone through various stages of maturation paralleling developments of the discipline in Europe and North America over the last two centuries its contributions and presence in the field is hardly noticeable in the English speaking world The objective of this book is by no means to fill that void but rather to bring together the recent developments in Russia keeping in context its rich history of criminological legacies traditions and its current experiences and growth since the restructuring of Soviet Union This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Comparative and Applied Criminal Justice
