Democracy and Governance Review Yvonne G. Muthien, Meshack M. Khosa, Bernard Magubane, 2000 Authoritarian regimes of various sorts have crumbled worldwide to give way to liberal constitutional democracies Prerequisites for the consolidation of the new democracies are regular free and fair elections granting political parties legitimate authority and citizens protection by the rule of law Brexit Geographies Mark Boyle, Ronan Paddison, Peter Shirlow, 2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume explores the political social economic and geographical implications of Brexit within the context of an already divided UK state It demonstrates how support for Brexit not only sharpened differences within England and between the separate nations comprising the UK state but also reflected how austerity politics against which the referendum was conducted impacted differently with north and south urban and rural becoming embroiled in the Leave vote This book explores how as the process of negotiating the secession of the UK from the EU was to demonstrate the seemingly intractable problem of the Irish border and the need to maintain a soft border provided a continuing obstacle to a smooth transition The authors in this book also explore various other profound questions that have been raised by Brexit questions of citizenship of belonging of the probable impacts of Brexit for key economic sectors including agriculture and its meaning for gender politics The book also brings to the forefront how the UK was geographically imagined a new lexicon of left behind places citizens of somewhere and citizens of nowhere conjuring up new imaginations of the spaces and places making up the UK This book draws out the wider implications of Brexit for a refashioned geography It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Space and Polity American Book Publishing Record, 1988 Books in Series, 1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts Series Authors and Titles Bulletin of the Public Affairs Information Service Public Affairs Information Service, 1989 Town and Country Planning, 1988 PAIS Bulletin, 1988 British Book News, 1988

Electoral Behaviour in New Zealand Martin Holland, 1992 This is the first book to define the current status of electoral studies in New Zealand It canvasses various approaches that have been used to explain voting illustrating the theoretical complexities involved While studies of electoral behaviour have been a predominant concern since the early 1960s much of the early research was descriptive rather than quantitative Recent research which is covered here has turned its attention to the individual motivations behind voting and the contributors to the volume are New Zealand's leading quantitative analysts
