Citizenship after Yugoslavia Jo Shaw, Igor Štiks, 2013-10-31 This book is the first comprehensive examination of the citizenship regimes of the new states that emerged out of the break up of Yugoslavia It covers both the states that emerged out of the initial disintegration across 1991 and 1992 Slovenia Croatia Bosnia Herzegovina the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia and Macedonia as well as those that have been formed recently through subsequent partitions Serbia Montenegro and Kosovo While citizenship has often been used as a tool of ethnic engineering to reinforce the position of the titular majority in many states in other cases citizenship laws and practices have been liberalised as part of a wider political settlement intended to include minority communities more effectively in the political process Meanwhile frequent re definitions of these increasingly overlapping regimes still provoke conflicts among post Yugoslav states This volume shows how important it is for the field of citizenship studies to take into account the main changes in and varieties of citizenship regimes in the post Yugoslav states as a particular case of new state citizenship At the same time it seeks to show scholars of post Yugoslavia and the wider Balkans that the Yugoslav crisis disintegration and wars as well as the current functioning of the new and old Balkan states together with the process of their integration into the EU cannot be fully understood without a deeper understanding of their citizenship regimes This book was originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies

The Politics of Contemporary Ethiopia Yohannes Gedamu, 2021-07-22 This book investigates the role of ethnic federalism in Ethiopian politics reflecting on a long history of division amongst the country s political elites The book argues that these patterns have enabled the resilience and survival of authoritarianism in the country and have led to the failure of democratization Ethnic conflict in Ethiopia stretches back to the country's imperial history Competing nationalisms begin to emerge towards the end of the imperial era but were formalized by the Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF) from the 1990s onwards Under the EPRDF ethnicity and language classifications formed the main organizing principles for political parties and organizations and the country's new federal arrangement was also designed along ethnic fault lines This book argues that this ethnic federal arrangement and the continuation of an elite political culture are major factors in explaining the continuation of authoritarianism in Ethiopia Focusing largely on the last 27 years under the EPRDF and on the political changes of the last few years but also stretching back to historical narratives of ethnic grievances and division this book is an important guide to the ethnic politics of Ethiopia and will be of interest to researchers of African politics authoritarianism and ethnic conflict

Modern Constitutions Rogers M. Smith, Richard R. Beeman, 2020-08-14 More than two millennia ago Aristotle is said to have compiled a collection of ancient constitutions that informed his studies of politics For Aristotle constitutions largely distilled and described the varied and distinctive patterns of political life established over time What constitutionalism has come to mean in the modern era on the other hand originates chiefly in the late eighteenth century and primarily with the U S Constitution written in 1787 and made effective in 1789 and the various French constitutions that first appeared in 1791 In the last half century more than 130 nations have adopted new constitutions half of those within the last twenty years These new constitutions are devoted to many of the same goals found in the U S Constitution the rule of law representative self government and protection of rights But by canvassing constitutional developments at the national and state level in the United States alongside modern constitutions in Eastern and Western Europe Africa and Asia the contributors to Modern Constitutions all leading scholars of constitutionalism show that modern constitutions often seek to protect social rights and to establish representative institutions forms of federalism and courts charged with constitutional review that depart from or go far beyond the seminal U S example Partly because of their innovations however many modern constitutional systems now confront mounting authoritarian pressures that put fundamental commitments to the rule of law in jeopardy The contributions in this volume collectively provide a measure of guidance for the challenges and prospects of modern constitutions in the rapidly changing political world of the twenty first century Contributors Richard R Beeman Valerie Bunce Tom Ginsburg Heinz Klug David S Law Sanford Levinson Jaime Lluç Christopher McCrudden Kim Lane Scheppele Rogers M Smith Mila Versteeg Emily Zackin The Ethnopolitics of Elections Florian Bieber, Stefan Wolff, 2013-09-13 This volume conceptualizes the dynamics underlying electoral politics in ethnically divided societies providing empirical evidence and analysis of recent elections in such societies on a comparative and single case basis including case studies of Macedonia Slovakia Belgium Malaysia Singapore Rwanda Guyana and Trinidad and Tobago Free and fair elections are one of the most fundamental characteristics of democratic systems In ethnically divided societies elections and the rules and regulations on which they are based assume special importance because they provide important levers to guarantee or prevent adequate representation of different communal groups in the key institutions of the state. Hence not only are elections contested vigorously but also the electoral systems according to which they are conducted. This book was previously published as a special issue of Ethnopolitics.
