Class and Politics in Malaysian and Singaporean Nation Building Muhamad M. N. Nadzri, 2025-05-23 Nadzri explores a range of factors that have influenced nation building in Malaysia and Singapore with principal emphasis on the importance of social and economic class. In contrast to previous studies on nation building which overwhelmingly rely on the explanatory power of culture, race and ethnic community, the book foregrounds the importance of social and economic status. The three main themes explored in this book are how the nation building projected in each country is driven by the class interests of its ruling elites, how elections have impacted the politics of nation building and how each country's nation building policies are designed to build political loyalty and support for the ruling elites. The comparability of analytical outcomes using the prism of class interests uncovers the limitations of the explanatory power of race, ethnic community and culture in understanding the social and political dynamics of the two countries. A valuable read for scholars and students of politics in Malaysia and Singapore that will also be of interest to scholars of comparative approaches to nation building.

Minorities and the Making of Postcolonial States in International Law Mohammad Shahabuddin, 2021-06-10 A critical analysis of how international law operates in the ideology of the postcolonial state to marginalise minority groups.

Critical Approaches to American Working-Class Literature Michelle Tokarczyk, 2012-03-29 This book is one of the first collections on a neglected field in American literature that written by and about the working class. Examining literature from the 1850s to the present, contributors use a wide variety of critical approaches expanding readers' understanding of the critical lenses that can be applied to working class literature. Drawing upon theories of media studies, postcolonial studies, cultural geography and masculinity studies, the essays consider slave narratives, contemporary poetry and fiction, Depression era newspaper plays and ethnic American literature. Depicting the ways that working class writers render the lives, the volume explores the question of what difference class makes and how it intersects with gender, race, ethnicity and geographical location.

Social Theory Berch Berberoglu, 2017-01-06 Social Theory provides a sophisticated yet highly accessible introduction to classical and contemporary social theories. The author's concise presentation allows students and instructors to focus on central themes. The text lets theorists speak for themselves, presenting key passages from each theorist's corpus, bringing theory to life. The approach allows instructors the opportunity to help students learn to unpack sometimes complex prose just as it offers inroads to class discussion. Chapters on Adorno and early feminism, on Habermas and the Frankfurt School, on Foucault and on globalization and social movements round out contemporary coverage. The book presents and explains key theories just as it provides an introduction to central debates about them.

Gypsy Stigma and Exclusion in Turkey, 1970 G. Ozatesler, Gül Özatesler, 2014-01-22 Using an oral history approach, this book draws on Gypsy and non Gypsy narratives to tell the story of Gypsy forced dislocation from Bayramic, a northwestern town of Turkey, in 1970. G. Ozatesler examines memory construction, the categories of Gypsiness and Turkishness and the different perspectives and positions that emerged considering all in relation to underlying socioeconomic structure The book reveals how ethnic and other identities can be deployed to conceal socioeconomic and political inequalities Globalization against Democracy Guoguang Wu, 2017-04-24 Globalization has reconfigured both the external institutional framework and the intrinsic operating mechanisms of capitalism The global triumph of capitalism implies the embracing of the market by the state in all its variants and that global capitalism is not confined to the shell of nation state democracy Guoguang Wu provides a theoretical framework of global capitalism for specialists in political economy political science economics and international relations for graduate and undergraduate courses on globalization capitalism development and democracy as well as for the public who are interested in globalization Wu examines the new institutional features of global capitalism and how they reframe movements of capital labor and consumption He explores how globalization has created a chain of connection in which capital depends on effective authoritarianism while democracy depends on capital Ultimately he argues that the emerging state market nexus has fundamentally shaken the existing institutional systems harming democracy in the process

Ethnicity and International Law Mohammad Shahabuddin, 2016-04-06 An historical analysis of how ethnicity shaped international law and why it is relevant to minorities and ethnic conflicts today Peace and Conflict in Inter-Group Relations Agnes Katalin Koós, 2014-11-18 The book ventures into the explanation of intra state communal conflict more narrowly of the conflict between majority and minority communal groups and develops arguments that highlight the causal impact of intergroup economic inequality Its quest for empirical support has led to the compilation of three large inter related datasets typifying the condition of minorities worldwide They are mainly based on the Ethnic Power Relations Minorities at Risk and Quality of Government data yet also involve information from a multitude of other sources such as national statistics cross national demographic surveys and the World Directory of Minorities and Indigenous Peoples The group level data featuring 860 communal groups show that an impressive forty five percent of the world s population do not belong to the majority communal group in their country As reasonably feared minorities are in general politically less empowered than their pluralities and also poorer Results from multivariate regression analysis corroborate the deleterious impact of horizontal economic inequality on inter group hostility measured either as group grievance or violent conflict The double measurement substantiates the intuition that not all low to medium strength hostility is doomed to develop into violent conflict In fortunate conditions intergroup disputes can be solved or compromises may be reached without turning to violence Part of the analytical efforts have been directed towards detecting the differences between the causes of communal and non communal social conflicts and also towards deciphering which institutional conditions aggravate and which mitigate communal conflicts A large number of variables in the regression models attempt to operationalize constellations that influence the evolution of conflicts either toward peaceful solutions or toward armed collision The policy implications of the findings are not trivial Positive discrimination which in the United States is known as Affirmative Action is often resisted by denying the unfortunate facts that make it necessary. In addition, currently the policies recommended for heterogeneous societies are also fiercely debated between advocates of power sharing arrangements and those who would like to facilitate the communal homogenization of each state. This latter type of constitutional engineering is at variance with the political empowerment of minorities, a measure that could alleviate tensions rooted in economic disadvantages.

Globalization's Contradictions Dennis Conway, Nik Heynen, 2006-11-22. Introduces a critical perspective on debates surrounding globalization for advanced undergraduate and masters students. Broad in scope, scrutinizing political, economic, geopolitical, political, cultural, and alternative visions of globalization. Points the way towards future global geographies that are more inclusive and equitable. Strong line of contributors including John Agnew, Dennis Conway, and Don Mitchell.

Self-Determination and Collective Responsibility in the Secessionist Struggle Costas Laoutides, 2016-03-03. The often violent emergence of new independent states following the end of the Cold War generated discussion about the normative grounds of territorial separatism. A number of opposing approaches surfaced, debating whether and under which circumstances there is a right for a community to secede from its host country. Overwhelmingly, these studies placed emphasis on the right to secession and neglected the moral stance of secessionist movements as agents in international relations. In this book, Costas Laoutides explores the collective moral agency involved in secessionist struggles, offering a theoretical model for the collective responsibility of secessionist groups. Case studies on the Kurds and the people of Moldova, Transdniestria, illustrate the author's theoretical arguments as he seeks to establish how, although the principle of self-determination was envisaged as a means of gradually bestowing political power upon the people, it never managed to realize its full potential because it was interpreted strictly within a framework of exclusionary politics of identity.

Under the Banner of Islam Gülay Türkmen, 2021-01-22. Sunni Islam has played an ambivalent role in Turkey's Kurdish conflict, both as a conflict resolution tool and as a tool of resistance. Under the Banner of Islam uses Turkey as a case study to understand how religious, ethnic, and national identities converge in ethnic conflicts between co-religionists. Gülay Türkmen asks a question that informs the way we understand religiously homogeneous ethnic conflicts today: Is it possible for religion to act as a resolution tool in these often violent conflicts? In search for answers to this question, in Under the Banner of Islam, Türkmen journeys into the inner circles of religious elites from different backgrounds: non-state appointed local Kurdish meles, state appointed Kurdish and Turkish imams, heads of religious NGOs, and members of religious orders. Blending interview data with a detailed historical analysis that goes back as far as the nineteenth century, she argues that the strength of Turkish and Kurdish nationalisms, the symbiotic relationship between Turkey's religious and political fields, the religious elites' varying conceptualizations of religious and ethnic identities, and the recent political developments in the region, particularly in Syria, all contribute to the complex role religion plays in the Kurdish conflict in Turkey. Under the Banner of Islam is a specific story of religion, ethnicity, and nationalism in Turkey's Kurdish conflict, but it also tracks a broader narrative of how ethnic and religious identities are negotiated when resolving conflicts Conflict at the Interface Bert Preiss, 2020-02-18 More than two decades after the Northern Ireland peace agreement conflict still flares between deprived Protestant Unionist Loyalist and Catholic Nationalist Republican working class interface communities who remain divided by numerous peace walls In light of Brexit the Irish border issue and the power sharing impasse progress in local peacebuilding has stalled This might even jeopardise the overall peace process Within this context this book explores largely empirically the nature and causes of conflict at the interface An attempt is also made to provide an outlook on peace in Northern Ireland and to highlight potential lessons for other conflict ridden divided societies
