Nations Water Resources:

The United Nations World Water Development Report 3 World Water Assessment Programme, 2012-05-23 The United Nations World Water Development Report published every three years is a comprehensive review providing an authoritative picture of the state of the world's freshwater resources. It offers best practices as well as in-depth theoretical analyses to help stimulate ideas and actions for better stewardship in the water sector. It is the only report of its kind resulting from the collaboration and contributions of the 26 UN agencies commissions, program funds, secretariats and conventions that have a significant role in addressing global water concerns. The news media are full of talk of crises in climate change, energy and food, and troubled financial markets. These crises are linked to each other and to water resources management. Unresolved, they may lead to increasing political insecurity and conflict. Water is required to meet our fundamental needs and rising living standards and to sustain our planet's fragile ecosystems. Pressures on the resource come from a growing and mobile population, social and cultural change, economic development and technological change. Adding complexity and risk is climate change with impacts on the resource as well as on the sources of pressure on water. The challenges, though substantial, are not insurmountable. The Report shows how some countries have responded. Progress in providing drinking water is heartening with the Millennium Development Goal target on track in most regions. But other areas remain unaddressed and after decades of inaction, the problems in water systems are enormous and will worsen if left unattended. Leaders in the water sector can inform decisions outside their domain and manage water resources to achieve agreed socioeconomic objectives and environmental integrity. Leaders in government, the private sector and civil society determine these objectives and allocate human and financial resources to meet them. Recognizing this responsibility, they must act now. The degree of water scarcity and its political economic and social implications are felt more severely in regions like the Middle East The Euphrates Tigris river basin is one of the major sources of water but also a source of tension in the region Unless cooperation is achieved among the riparian countries namely Turkey Syria and Iraq in the areas of management allocation and utilisation of the waters of the Euphrates Tigris basin growing scarcity may result not only in conflict but also in further devastation of an extremely vital source Recently water has become a subject matter of international law and formal and informal deliberations in international conferences have produced general principles and norms for using and managing water resources effectively Hence this book is an attempt to put together a meaningful set of principles norms rules and decision making procedures of a region specific regime framework for effective utilisation of the waters of the Euphrates Tigris river basin with a view to promoting cooperation among the riparian countries The United Nations World Water Development Report 3 UN World Water Assessment Programme,2009 The United Nations World Water Development Report published every three years is a comprehensive review providing an authoritative picture of the state of the world s freshwater resources It offers best practices as well as in depth theoretical analyses to help stimulate ideas and actions for better stewardship in the water sector It is the only report of its kind resulting from the collaboration and contributions of the 26 UN agencies commissions program funds secretariats and conventions that have a significant role in addressing global water concerns Two volume set 336 96 pag Vietnam and the West Wynn Wilcox,2010 This sound interpretation of Vietnamese cultural attitudes contends that a major reason for American difficulties in Viet Nam has been the failure to appreciate how wide the gulf is between Viet Nam and the West Professor Smith first describes Vietnamese political and social traditions and shows how they were challenged by the West after 1858 He examines Viet Nam s search for independence and modernization in the first half of this century contrasts the two governments of the partitioned country during the years 1954 1963 and stresses the critical need to reassess attitudes toward Viet Nam His sophisticated ambitious survey of Viet Nam history will have a lasting value that sets it apart from the scores of ephemeral books on this country Bibliography of Hydrology of the United States and Canada, 1964 ,1969 DAC Guidelines and Reference Series Natural Resources and Pro-Poor Growth The Economics and Politics OECD,2009-01-27 Natural capital constitutes a quarter of total wealth in low income countries This publication demonstrates that natural resources can contribute to growth employment exports and fiscal revenues and highlights the importance of policies encouraging the sustainable management of these resources Advances in Geosciences Namsik Park,2009 Advances in Geosciences is the result of a concerted effort to bring together the latest results and planning activities related to earth and space science in Asia and the international arena The volume editors are all leading scientists in their research fields covering six sections Atmospheric Science AS Hydrological Science HS Ocean Science OS Solid Earth SE Solar Terrestrial ST and Planetary Science PS The main purpose is to highlight the scientific issues essential to the study of earthquakes tsunamis atmospheric dust storms climate change drought flood typhoons monsoons space weather and planetary exploration
