Nations Without Nationalism:

Nations Without Nationalism Julia Kristeva, 1993 Underlying Julia Kristeva's latest work is the idea that otherness whether it be ethnic religious social or political needs to be understood and accepted in order to guarantee social harmony Nations Without Nationalism is an impassioned plea for tolerance and for commonality aimed at a world brimming over with racism and xenophobia Responding to the rise of neo Nazi groups in Germany and Eastern Europe and the continued popularity of the National Front in France Kristeva turns to the origins of the nation state to illustrate the problematic nature of nationalism and its complex configurations in subsequent centuries For Kristeva the key to commonality can be found in Montesquieu's esprit general his notion of the social body as a guaranteed hierarchy of private rights Nations Without Nationalism also contains Kristeva's thoughts on Harlem Desir the founder of the antiracist organization SOS Racisme the links between psychoanalysis and nationalism the historical nature of French national identity the relationship between esprit general and Volksgeist Charles de Gaulle's complex ideas involving the nation and his dream of a unified Europe In the tradition of Strangers to Ourselves her most recent nonfiction work Nations Without Nationalism reflects a passionate commitment to enlightenment and social justice As ethnic strife persists in Europe and the United States Kristeva's humanistic message carries with it a special resonance and urgency Nations without States Montserrat Guibernau, 2013-07-10 Guibernau offers a comparative analysis of nationalist movements in nations without states concepts of community the new International nomadism deterritorialization cosmopolitanism hospitality the native informant hybridity and postcolonial agency can provoke a different understanding of national identity The Blackwell Companion to the Bible and Culture John F. Ethnic Minorities and Inter-ethnic Relations in Context Karen Phaet, Antal Orkeny, 2017-10-19 This volume is based on papers presented on ethnic minorities and inter ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands which were presented and discussed in three conferences and a series of meetings from 1997 1999 This work builds on comparative studies of the rise of a radical right and the mobilization of anti immigrant feelings It presents cross national comparative research due to the credence that shifting national angles is a powerful strategic tool with which to correct national bias and to uncover submerged or overlooked aspects of specific national cases The book brings together contributions from Hungarian and Dutch scholars in the field of ethnic minorities and inter ethnic relations The two countries are used as exemplary cases of distinct ethno political patterns in Central and Western Europe Combining complementary configurational and dimensional approaches to cross national comparison the diverse forms of ethnic relations in Hungary and The Netherlands are analyzed and competing explanations of ethno political conflict or co ordination are tested in both national contexts The SAGE Handbook of Nations and Nationalism Gerard Delanty, Krishan Kumar, 2006-06-14 With its list of distinguished contributors and its wide range of topics the handbook is surely destined to become an invaluable resource for all serious students of nationalism Michael Billig Professor of Social Sciences at Loughborough University and author of Banal Nationalism SAGE 1995 The persistence some would say revival of nationalism across the recent history of modernity in particular the past two decades has taken many scholars in the social sciences by surprise In response interest in the analysis of nationalism has increased and given rise to a great variety of new angles under which to study the phenomenon What was missing in the cacophony of voices addressing nationalism was a volume that brought them together and confronted them with each other. This handbook does just that. It deserves particular praise for the wide range of approaches and topics included and for the systematic attempt at studying nationalism as a phenomenon of our time, not a remnant from the past. Peter Wagner, Professor of Social and Political Theory, European University Institute and Professor of Sociology, University of Warwick. For students concerned with the contemporary study of nationalism, this will be an invaluable publication. The three-fold division into approaches, themes, and cases is a very solid and sensible one. The editors have commissioned essays from leading scholars in the field, and this handbook provides the best single volume overview of contemporary nationalism. John Breuilly, Professor of Nationalism and Ethnicity, London School of Economics. Nationalism has long excited debate in political, social, and cultural theory and remains a key field of enquiry among historians, anthropologists, sociologists, as well as political scientists. It is also one of the critical media issues of our time. There are, however, surprisingly few volumes that bring together the best of this intellectual diversity into one collection. This Handbook gives readers a critical survey of the latest theories and debates and provides a glimpse of the issues that will shape their future. Its three sections guide the reader through the theoretical approaches to this field of study, its major themes from modernity to memory, migration and genocide, and the diversity of nationalisms found around the globe. The overall aim of this Handbook is to relate theories and debates within and across a range of disciplines, illuminate themes and issues of central importance in both historical and contemporary contexts, and show how nationalism has impacted upon and interacted with other political and social forms and forces. This book provides a much needed resource for scholars in international relations, political science, social theory, and sociology.

Intercultural Explorations, 2021-11-01. Divided into four sections: Asian, Western, Intersections, Intercultural Memory, Intercultural Perspectives on Women, Genre Studies, and The Intercultural Arts, these essays from diverse hands and multiple perspectives illuminate the intersections, the cross sections, and the synergies that characterize significant literary texts and artistic productions. Individually, they exemplify the insights available in an intercultural perspective; together, they remind us that no culture, even those that claim to be pure or those that might be regarded as isolated, has escaped the influence of external influences. As a result, this volume is doubly synergistic: one because it focuses on intercultural phenomena within a specific culture, and two because they represent multiple perspectives on these phenomena.

Towards a Transcultural Future: Literature and Society in a 'Post'-Colonial World 1, 2004-01-01. This collection has one central theoretical focus: viz. taking stock of essays on the present and future status of postcolonialism, transculturalism, nationalism, and globalization. These are complemented by special angles of entry, e.g. dharmic ethics, and by considerations of the global impress of technology, African literary studies, and the Internet. Further essays have a focus on literary-cultural studies in Australia, the South Asian experience, and New Zealand. ecopoetics, a Central European migrant perspective on the nation, the unravelling of literary nationalism, transplantation, and the trope of translation. Moral Spaces David Campbell, Michael J. Shapiro, 1999 Head Cases Elaine Miller, 2014-02-25 While philosophy and psychoanalysis privilege language and conceptual distinctions and mistrust the image the philosopher and psychoanalyst Julia Kristeva recognizes the power of art and the imagination to unblock important sources of meaning She also appreciates the process through which creative acts counteract and transform feelings of violence and depression Reviewing Kristeva's corpus Elaine P Miller considers the intellectual's aesthetic idea and thought specular in their capacity to reshape depressive thought on both the individual and cultural level She revisits Kristeva's reading of Walter Benjamin with reference to melancholic art and the imagination's allegorical structure her analysis of Byzantine iconoclasm in relation to Freud's psychoanalytic theory of negation and Hegel's dialectical negativity her understanding of Proust as an exemplary practitioner of sublimation her rereading of Kant and Arendt in terms of art as an intentional lingering with foreignness and her argument that forgiveness is both a philosophical and psychoanalytic method of transcending a stuck existence Focusing on specific artworks that illustrate Kristeva's ideas from ancient Greek tragedy to early photography contemporary installation art and film Miller positions creative acts as a form of spiritual inoculation against the violence of our society and its discouragement of thought and reflection
