Native Leisure Class Consumption And Cultural Creativity In The Andes:

The Native Leisure Class Rudolf Josef Colloredo-Mansfeld, 1999-11 In the Andean city of Otavalo Ecuador a cultural renaissance is now taking place against a backdrop of fading farming traditions transnational migration and an influx of new consumer goods Recently Otavalenos have transformed their textile trade into a prosperous tourist industry exporting colorful weavings around the world Tracing the connections among newly invented craft traditions social networks and consumption patterns Rudi Colloredo Mansfeld highlights the way ethnic identities and class cultures materialize in a sensual world that includes luxurious woven belts powerful stereos and garlic roasted cuyes guinea pigs Yet this case reaches beyond the Andes He shows how local and global interactions intensify the cultural expression of the world's emerging native middle classes at times leaving behind those unable to afford the new trappings of indigenous identity Colloredo Mansfeld also comments on his experiences working as an artist in Otavalo His drawings along with numerous photographs animate this engaging study in economic anthropology

Cultural Creativity in the Early English Renaissance E. Salter, 2006-04-12 This book is about the ways that ordinary people in town and country creatively define themselves their families and their social networks It explores inheritance strategies personal possessions attitudes to commemoration after death the daily fashioning of identity and the interactions between imagination and daily life

The Anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean Harry Sanabria, 2015-09-16 The first single authored comprehensive introduction to major contemporary research trends issues and debates on the anthropology of Latin America and the Caribbean The text provides wide and historically informed coverage of key facets of Latin American and Caribbean societies and their cultural and historical development as well as the roles of power and inequality Cymeme Howe Visiting Assistant Professor of Cornell University writes The text moves well and builds over time paying close attention to balancing both the Caribbean and Latin America as geographic regions Spanish and non Spanish speaking countries and historical and contemporary issues in the field I found the geographic breadth to be especially impressive Jeffrey W Mantz of California State University Stanislaus notes that the contents reflect the insights of an anthropologist who knows Latin America intimately and extensively

Indigenous Peoples, Civil Society, and the Neo-liberal State in Latin America Edward F. Fischer, 2009 In recent years the concept and study of civil society has received a lot of attention from political scientists economists and sociologists but less so from anthropologists A ground breaking ethnographic approach to civil society as it is formed in indigenous communities in Latin America this volume explores the multiple potentialities of civil society's growth and critically assesses the potential for sustained change Much recent literature has focused on the remarkable gains made by civil society and the chapters in this volume reinforce this trend while also showing the complexity of civil society that civil society can itself sometimes be uncivil In doing so these insightful contributions speak not only to Latin American area studies but also to the changing shape of global systems of political economy in general present deeply contextualized cases of sensory experience They link senses to each other and to event sentiment emplacement identity and the ongoing shaping of social life In doing so they make a strong Joint case for the importance of taking the senses seriously not in isolation but as integral elements of culture and interaction Begging as a Path to Progress Kate Swanson,2010 Examining beggars organized migration networks as well as the degree to which children can express agency and fulfill personal ambitions through begging Swanson argues that Calhuas Equador s beggars are capable of canny engagement with the forces of change Fast, Easy, and In Cash Jason Antrosio,Rudolf Josef Colloredo-Mansfeld,2015-10-30 What happens to skilled craftsmen when global trade brings cheap mass produced goods to market Economic anthropologists have been wondering and worrying about the fate of artisans and their crafts for decades In Fast Easy and In Cash veteran ethnographers Jason Antrosio and Rudi Colloredo Mansfeld show how disruptive to local economies global capitalism has been but they also shed light on what it takes to survive as an artisan amid intense competition Using lively and often surprising examples from collaborative research in Ecuador and Columbia they describe the time tested tactics small batch producers have used to sustain their livelihoods and foster distinctively indigenous forms of capitalism Antrosio and Colloredo Mansfeld explain that their stories can teach us not just how to make money in uncertain economic environments but also how to turn work into a socially conscious activity while defending and expanding local economies This is a clear eyed account of how people can successfully respond to the disruptions of global capitalism that will be welcomed by economic anthropologists and anyone else concerned with building sustainable economic communities in neoliberalism s wake Values and Valuables Cynthia Werner,Duran Bell,2004-01-13 In this exciting new volume from the Society for Economic Anthropology Cynthia Werner and Duran Bell bring together a group of distinguished anthropologists and economists to discuss the complex ways in which different cultures imbue material objects with symbolic qualities whose value cannot be reduced to material or monetary equivalents Objects with sacred or symbolic qualities are valued quite differently than mundane objects and the contributors to this volume set out to unravel how and why In the first of three sections the authors consider the extent to which sacred objects can or cannot be exchanged between individuals e g ancestral objects land dreaming stories In the next section contributors discuss the value and power of markets money and credit They consider theoretical models for understanding money transactions competing currencies and the power of credit among marginalized groups around the globe The last section examines the ways in which contemporary people bestow symbolic value on some objects e g family heirlooms pre Columbian artifacts fashion goods and finally how some individuals themselves are valued in monetary and symbolic ways With its emphasis on the interplay of cultural and economic values this volume will be a vital resource for economists and economic anthropologists Published in cooperation with the Society for Economic Anthropology Visit their web page Transcultural Performance Michele Back,2015-05-26 Featuring interviews conversations and observations from a multi sited ethnography of Ecuadorean musicians and their families this book offers an innovative response to previous analyses of globalization and indigenous languages demonstrating how transcultural practices can enhance the use and maintenance of indigenous and minority languages      Singing for the Dead Paja Faudree, 2013-05-29 Singing for the Dead chronicles ethnic revival in Oaxaca Mexico where new forms of singing and writing in the local Mazatec indigenous language are producing powerful transformative political effects Paja Faudree argues for the inclusion of singing as a necessary component in the polarized debates about indigenous orality and literacy and she considers how the coupling of literacy and song has allowed people from the region to create texts of enduring social resonance She examines how local young people are learning to read and write in Mazatec as a result of the region's new Day of the Dead song contest Faudree also studies how tourist interest in local psychedelic mushrooms has led to their commodification producing both opportunities and challenges for songwriters and others who represent Mazatec culture She situates these revival movements within the contexts of Mexico and Latin America as well as the broad hemisphere wide movement to create indigenous literatures Singing for the Dead provides a new way to think about the politics of ethnicity the success of social movements and the limits of national belonging      Weaving and Dyeing in Highland Ecuador Ann Pollard Rowe, Laura M. Miller, Lynn A. Meisch, 2009-03-06 Although less well known than its much admired counterparts in Peru and Bolivia highland Ecuadorian weaving is an Andean tradition that has relationships with these more southern areas A world away from the industrialized textile manufacturing of Euro American society these handmade pieces reflect the history and artistry of an ancient culture This comprehensive study edited by Ann Pollard Rowe is unrivaled in its detail and includes not only descriptions of the indigenous weaving and dyeing technology but also an interpretation of its historical significance as well as hundreds of photographs drawings and maps that inform the understanding of the process The principal focus is on backstrap loom weaving a major pre Hispanic technology Ecuadorian backstrap looms which differ in various ways from those found elsewhere in the Andes have previously only been treated in general terms Here the basic operation of this style of loom is covered as are a variety of patterning techniques including warp resist ikat dyeing weaving belts with twill and supplementary and complementary warp patterning Spanish colonial treadle loom weaving is also covered The weaving techniques are explained in detail so the reader can replicate them if desired Textiles have been an important art form among Andean peoples from remote prehistory up to the present A greater understanding of their creation process can yield a more meaningful appreciation of the art itself      Anthropology and Law Mark Goodale, Sally Engle Merry, 2017-05-02 An introduction to the anthropology of law that explores the connections between law politics and technology From legal responsibility for genocide to rectifying past injuries to indigenous people the anthropology of law addresses some of the crucial ethical issues of our day Over the past twenty five years anthropologists have studied how new forms of law have reshaped important questions of citizenship biotechnology and rights movements among many others Meanwhile the rise of international law and transitional justice has posed new ethical and intellectual challenges to anthropologists Anthropology and Law provides a comprehensive overview of the anthropology of law in the post Cold War era Mark Goodale introduces the central problems of the field and builds on the legacy of its intellectual history while a foreword by Sally Engle Merry highlights the challenges of using the law to seek justice on an international scale The book's chapters cover a range of intersecting areas including language and law history regulation indigenous rights and gender For a complete understanding of the consequential ways in which anthropologists have studied interacted with and critiqued the ways and means of law Anthropology and Law is required reading

Holy Intoxication to Drunken Dissipation Barbara Y. Butler, 2006-05 On the eve of the Spanish conquest of the Inca Empire peoples throughout the Andes brewed beer from corn and other grains believing that this alcoholic beverage called asua was a gift from the gods a drink possessing the power to mediate between the human and divine Consuming asua to intoxication was a sacred tradition that humans and spirits shared creating reciprocal joy and ties of mutual obligation When Butler began research in Huaycopungo Ecuador in 1977 ceremonial drinking was causing hardship for these Quichua speaking people Then in 1987 a devastating earthquake was interpreted as a message from God to end the ritual obligation to get drunk Holy Intoxication to Drunken Dissipation examines how the defense of drinking and getting drunk ended abruptly as the people of Otavalo re evaluated their traditional religious life and their relationship with the wider Ecuadorian society and defended a renewed traditional indigenous culture with increasing pride This account presents both the local people's views of their struggles and a more general analysis of the factors involved and concludes with thoughts about how their culture will adapt in the future Consumer Culture in Latin America J. Sinclair, 2012-12-05

How can we understand consumption in a region known for its cultural richness and vast inequalities? What do Latin Americans consume and why? Examining topics from tango and samba to sex workers in Costa Rica, from eating tamales to selling ice in the Andes and from building and moving houses to buying cell phones, this collection brings together original research on some of the many forms of consumption and consumers that contribute to Latin American cultures and histories. Contributors include sociologists, anthropologists, media and cultural studies scholars, geographers, and historians, showcasing diverse approaches to understanding Latin American consumption practices and consumer culture. The Native

World-system Nico Tassi, 2017 Introduction on our own terms: indigenous traders in the global economy; Indigenous institutions regulating popular markets; Kinship networks as chains of supply and distribution; The Chinese connection in an interstitial global economy under the radar of the Law; Revolving capital; Aymara cosmoeconomics in global trading practices; Individual capital and collective relations in business administration; The economic strategies of the Aymara world system; The upsurge of Aymara traders as an indigenous project of social affirmation. Narratives and Imaginings of Citizenship in Latin America Cristina Rojas, Judy Metzler, 2016-01-08 This book looks at how citizenship has been imagined and transformed in Latin America through the twentieth and early twenty-first centuries from different disciplinary perspectives including anthropology, history, urban planning, geography, and political studies. It looks beyond citizenship as a formal legal status to explore how ideas about citizenship have shaped political and historical landscapes in different ways through the region. It shows how conceptions of citizenship are intertwined with understandings of natural spaces and environments, how indigenous politics are de-colonizing western liberal conceptions of citizenship, and how citizenship is being transformed through local level politics and projects for development. In addition to showcasing some of the novel emerging forms of citizenship in the region, the book also traces the ways in which historical narratives of citizenship and national belonging persist within present-day politics. Collectively, the chapters show that citizenship remains an important entry point for understanding politics, projects of reform, and struggles for transformation in Latin America. This book was published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies. Sovereign Entrepreneurs Courtney Lewis, 2019-04-10

By 2009, reverberations of economic crisis spread from the United States around the globe. As corporations across the United States folded, however, small businesses on the Qualla Boundary of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians (EBCI) continued to thrive. In this rich ethnographic study, Courtney Lewis reveals the critical roles small businesses such as these play for Indigenous nations. The EBCI has an especially long history of incorporated citizen-owned businesses located on their lands. When many people think of Indigenous-owned businesses, they stop with prominent casino gaming operations or natural resource-intensive enterprises. But on the Qualla Boundary today, Indigenous entrepreneurship and economic independence extends to art galleries.

restaurants a bookstore a funeral parlor and more Lewis's fieldwork followed these businesses through the Great Recession and against the backdrop of a rapidly expanding EBCI owned casino Lewis's keen observations reveal how Eastern Band small business owners have contributed to an economic sovereignty that empowers and sustains their nation both culturally and politically
