Bioprospecting of Indigenous Bioresources of North-East India Jubilee Purkayastha, 2016-08-16 This work is a comprehensive information on the indigenous bioresources of North Eastern India with the scope of bioprospecting for discovery and commercialization of new sources and products and long term ecological balance The exploration conservation and sustainable utilization of bioresources of world s Megabiodiversity Hotspots are undeniable North Eastern India is a recognised biodiversity hot spot where the evolutionary forces are at its optimum making this region as centre of origin for many species Although little bit exploratory studies have been conducted in this part of the globe but a scientific exploitation of the bioresources is almost lacking Unscientific exploitation and overexploitation without proper knowledge of the bioresources may lead to imbalanced ecosystem of this mega diversity region At the same time very less exploration and exploitation will hamper biodiversity based development Today unscientific dramatic changes are underway in this region Human activities are changing degrading and destroying the bioresources in an unplanned manner Scientific bioprospecting of the bioresources will boost the economy while ensuring conservation This book offers comprehensive information about various levels of bioprospecting of the gene pool of this Indo Burma Mega Biodiversity Hot Spot the North East India which is endowed with huge biodiversity potential for exploration and exploitation for the benefit of humankind Also this book highlights the less and merely explored part of the indigenous biodiversity of North East India with explanation towards their better sustainable exploitation for benefit of the people economy and environment The novelty of the book lies in expert coverage of the bioresources of this mega diverse region including plants microbes insects etc with provisions for their sustainable scientific utilization This book portrays North East India as a melting pot of bioresources which are little explored and also those resources which are still to be explored The book mainly highlights the bioprospecting approaches for North East Indian bioresources and thus it make itself a unique one in filling the knowledge gap that is there regarding the bioprospecting of the biodiversity of this special region on the earth The book concludes by the ecotourism potential of this region The target audiences for this book include biodiversity economists who are working on technology and bioresource management issues and especially on biotechnology and biodiversity development economists addressing the issues of bioresources in developing countries These people may be in academia in government in non governmental organizations and in private companies The other target audiences group is policy scholars in government public sectors who are interested in issues of biotechnology IPRs and biodiversity In addition scholars experts in both development studies and resource management studies form another group of target audiences Also the book will be useful for the interaction between developed and developing nations regarding the issues of biodiversity and bioprospecting as North Eastern India is the hub of Biodiversity

Handbook of Climate Change Across the Food Supply Chain Walter Leal Filho, Ilija Djekic, Sergiy Smetana, Marina Kovaleva, 2022-04-22 This book presents climate change as a global phenomenon which affects the entire food chain Many studies analyzing environmental impacts of food systems confirm significant effects of food production on climate change Most of them associate primary production with emission of greenhouse gasses identified as one of the causes resulting in warming the atmosphere and global climate effects A wider perspective shows that the food chains start at farms with consumers being at the end of the pipeline This approach emphasizes the role of the entire food chain highlighting different kinds of environmental impacts affecting climate change On the other side temperature changes and variations of precipitation patterns together with extreme weather events and water reduction are recognized as predictors for producing less food decreased food quality new food safety risks biodiversity losses and depletion of resources associated with food production in modified circumstances Last but not least these effects introduce new threats known as food security where some assumptions stress that almost one billion of people are hungry not receiving enough food as a result of climate changes As a result the UN highlights the need for combating climate change and promotes sustainable food consumption and production Based on the perceived need to promote and disseminate information on climate change related to food system the Handbook of Climate change across the food supply chain is being produced The publication compiles information experiences practical initiatives and projects around the subject matter and makes it available to a wide audience It is expected that the Handbook of Climate change across the food supply chain makes many benefits of climate service clearer and inter alia leads to an increase in the demand for such important services

Washington Park Arboretum Bulletin ,2016 Dyes and Pigments Ahmet Gürses, Metin Açıkyıldız, Kübra Güneş, M. Sadi Gürses, 2016-05-04 In this book the authors go back to basics to describe the structural differences between dyes and pigments their mechanisms of action properties and applications They set the scene by explaining the reasons behind these differences and show how dyes are predominately organic compounds that dissolve or react with substrates whereas pigments are predominantly finely ground inorganic substances that are insoluble and therefore have a different mode of coloring They also describe the role of functional groups and their effect on dyeing ability contrasting this with the way in which pigments cause surface reflection or light absorption depending on their chemical and crystalline structure and relative particle size The book explores the environmental impact of dyes in a section that covers the physical chemical toxicological and ecological properties of dyes and how these are used to assess their effect on the environment and to estimate whether a given product presents a potential hazard Lastly it assesses how in addition to their traditional uses in the textile leather paper paint and varnish industries dyes and pigments are indispensable in other fields such as microelectronics medical diagnostics and in information recording techniques The Northwest Gardeners' Resource Directory Stephanie Feeney, 1997 Stephanie Feeney has combed the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia to find the fabulous resources that make the area a horticultural paradise This guide makes it a snap to find over 350 nurseries of all sizes over 200 mail order sources for gardening items over 300 e mail and Internet Web sites of interest to gardeners over 200 clubs and organizations publications and other sources Scientific and Technical Books and Serials in Print ,1989
