They Treated Us Just Like Indians Paula L. Wagoner, 2002-01-01 On a typical day in Bennett County South Dakota farmers and ranchers work their fields and tend animals merchants order inventory and stock shelves teachers plan and teach classes health workers aid the infirm in the county hospital or clinic and women make quilts and heirlooms for their families or the county fair Life is usually unhurried with time for chatting with neighbors and catching up on gossip But Bennett County is far from typical Nearly a century ago the county was carved out of Pine Ridge

Reservation and opened to white settlers Today Bennett County sits awkwardly between the Pine Ridge and Rosebud Sioux Reservations with nearly one third of its land classified as Indian Country and the rest considered by many Pine Ridge Lakotas to still belong to the reservation The county is home to a dynamic population divided by the residents into three groups whites fullbloods and mixedbloods Tensions between the three groups lurk amid the quiet harmony of Bennett County's everyday rural life and emerge in moments of community crisis In a moving account anthropologist Paula L Wagoner tells the story of Bennett County using snapshots of community events and crises past and present to reveal the complexity of race relations and identities there A homecoming weekend at Bennett County High School becomes a flashpoint for controversy because of the differences of meaning ascribed by the county's three identity groups to the school's team name the Warriors At another time the shooting of a Lakota man by a local non Indian rancher and the volatile wake that follows demonstrate the impulse to racialize disputes that lies just beneath the surface of everyday life Yet such very real problems of identity have not completely overwhelmed Bennett County Wagoner also shows that despite their differences residents have managed to find common ground as a region of diverse insiders who share an economic dependency on federal funds distrust outsiders and above all deeply love their land

Corbett Mack Michael Hittman, 1996-01-01 This is the compelling yet disturbing story of Corbett Mack 1892-1974 an opiate addict who was a member of the Nuumuu Numa or Northern Paiute The Northern Paiute are best known as the people who produced Wovoka the Ghost Dance prophet whose revitalistic teachings swept the Indian world in the 1890s Mack is from the generation following the collapse of the Ghost Dance religion a generation of Nomogweta or half breeds also called stolen children Paiute of mixed ancestry who were raised in an increasingly bicultural world and who fell into virtual peonage to white often Italian potato farmers Around the turn of the century the use of opium became widespread among the Paiute adopted from equally victimized Chinese laborers with whom they worked closely in the fields The story of Corbett Mack is an uncompromising account of a harsh and sometimes traumatic life that was typical of an entire generation of Paiute It was a life born out of the turmoil and humiliation of an Indian boarding school troubled by opiate addiction bound to constant labor in the fields yet nonetheless made meaningful through the perseverance of Paiute cultural traditions Michael Hittman is chairman of the Anthropology and Sociology Department and a professor at Long Island University Brooklyn He is the author of Wovoka and the Ghost Dance A Sourcebook and A Numa History The Yerington Paiute Tribe The Four Hills of Life Jeffrey D. Anderson, 2008-01-01 For more than a century the Northern Arapaho people have lived on the Wind River Reservation in Wyoming the fourth largest reservation in the country In The Four Hills of Life Jeffrey D Anderson masterfully draws together aspects of the Northern Arapahos world myth language art ritual identity and history to offer a vivid picture of a culture that has endured and changed over time Anderson shows that Northern Arapaho unity and identity from the nineteenth century on derive primarily from a shared system of ritual practices that transmit vital cultural knowledge He also provides an in depth study of the problems that Euro American society continues to impose on reservation life and of the responses of the Northern Arapahos Kiowa Belief and Ritual Benjamin R. Kracht, 2022-12 Brings together materials gleaned from the Laboratory of Anthropology Santa Fe fieldnotes augmented by Alice Marriott s fieldnotes to significantly enhance the existing literature concerning Plains Indians religions Provided by publisher The Dakota Way of Life Ella Cara Deloria, 2022-12 The Dakota Way of Life is the result of the long history of Ella Deloria s ethnographic manuscript on the Dakota social life The Red Road and Other Narratives of the Dakota Sioux Samuel Mniyo, Robert Goodvoice, 2020-02-01 This book presents two of the most important traditions of the Dakota people the Red Road and the Holy Dance as told by Samuel Mniyo and Robert Goodvoice two Dakota men from the Wahpeton Dakota Nation near Prince Albert Saskatchewan Canada Their accounts of these central spiritual traditions and other aspects of Dakota life and history go back seven generations and help to illuminate the worldview of the Dakota people for the younger generation of Dakotas also called the Santee Sioux The Good Red Road an important symbolic concept in the Holy Dance means the good way of living or the path of goodness The Holy Dance also called the Medicine Dance is a Dakota ceremony of earlier generations Although it is no longer practiced it too was a central part of the tradition and likely the most important ceremonial organization of the Dakotas While some people believe that the Holy Dance is sacred and that the information regarding its subjects should be allowed to die with the last believers Mniyo believed that these spiritual ceremonies played a key role in maintaining connections with the spirit world and were important aspects of shaping the identity of the Dakota people In The Red Road and Other Narratives of the Dakota Sioux Daniel Beveridge brings together Mniyo and Goodvoice s narratives and biographies as well as songs of the Holy Dance and the pictographic notebooks of James Black Jim Sapa to make this volume indispensable for scholars and members of the Dakota community Great Plains Ethnohistory Rani-Henrik Andersson, Logan Sutton, Thierry Veyri , 2024-12 This collection offers state of the field work in Great Plains ethnohistory both contemporary and historical covering the traditional anthropological subfields of ethnography culture history archaeology and linguistics Powhatan's World and Colonial Virginia Frederic W. Gleach, 2000-04-01 Frederic W. Gleach offers the most balanced and complete accounting of the early years of the Jamestown colony to date. When English colonists established their first permanent settlement at Jamestown in 1607, they confronted a powerful and growing Native chiefdom consisting of over thirty tribes under one paramount chief, Powhatan. For the next half century, a portion of the Middle Atlantic coastal plain became a charged and often violent meeting ground between two very different worlds. The Heiltsuks Michael Eugene Harkin, 1997-01-01 In an incisive and wide-ranging critique of ethno history and historical anthropology, Michael E. Harkin develops an innovative approach to understanding the profound cultural changes experienced during the past century by the Heiltsuks, Bella Bella, a Northwest Coast Indian group. Between 1880 and 1920, the Heiltsuks changed from one of the most traditional and aggressive groups on the Northwest Coast to paragons of Victorian virtues. Why and how did this dramatic transformation occur? These questions, Harkin contends, can best be answered by tracing the changing views the Heiltsuks had of themselves and of their past as they encountered colonial powers. Rejecting many of the common methods and assumptions of ethnohistorians as unwittingly Eurocentric or simplistic, Harkin argues that the multiple perspectives, motives, and events constituting the Heiltsuks world and history can be productively conceived of as dialogues, ongoing series of culturally embedded communicative acts that presuppose previous acts and constrain future ones. Historical transformations in three of these dialogues, centering on the body, material goods, and concepts of the soul, are examined in detail. People of the Dalles Robert Thomas Boyd, 1996-01-01 People of the Dalles is the story of the Chinookan, Wasco, Wishram, and Sahaptin peoples of the Dalles area of the Columbia River who encountered the Lewis and Clark expedition in 1805-6. The early history and culture of these communities is reconstructed from the accounts of explorers, travelers, and the early writings of the Methodist missionaries at Wascopam, in particular the papers of Reverend Henry Perkins. Boyd covers early nineteenth-century cultural geography, subsistence, economy, social structure, life cycle, rituals, and religion. People of the Dalles also details the changes that occurred to these people's traditional life ways, including their relationship with Methodism following the devastating epidemics of the early 1830s. Today, descendants of the Chinookan and Sahaptin peoples are enrolled in the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs and the Yakama Nation. North American Indian Music Richard Keeling, 2013-10-15 First Published in 1997, the present volume contains references and descriptive annotations for 1,497 sources on North American Indian and Eskimo music. As conceived here, the subject encompasses works on dance, ritual, and other aspects of religion or culture related to music, and selected classic recordings have also been included. The coverage is equally broad in other respects, including writings in several different languages and spanning a chronological period from 1535 to 1995. The book is intended as a reference tool for researchers, teachers, and college students. With their needs in mind, the sources are arranged in ten sections by culture area, and the introduction includes a general history of research. Finally, there are also indices by author, tribe, and subject. At Sea with the Marine Birds of
