Education Roads Less Traveled Mitch Pearlstein, 2019-02-15 Every year large numbers of American young people who are not terribly interested in attending a four year college reluctantly enroll anyway effectively pressured by combinations of parents peers teachers guidance counselors and the normative air they breathe More than occasionally they wind up confirming that collegiate life is not for them and sooner or later drop out From there again more than occasionally they find themselves unemployed or underemployed in big time student debt and quite possibly feeling like a failure Cratered paths like these routinely stunt entries to middle class jobs and careers These are often needless delays and losses because other education and career routes are primed to better serve millions of young men and women especially those who enjoy working with their hands Taking advantage of these routes also simultaneously enriches our economy Digging deeply into issues like these is the book's main aim Helping teenagers think through what they want to do with their lives occupationally is its main educational mission Recognizing the economic and other dangers posed by severe skill gaps made worse by the retirement of skilled baby boomers adds urgency to the mix

Roads Less Traveled and Other Perspectives on Nationally Competitive Scholarships Suzanne McCray, Joanne Brzinski, 2017-08-01 Applying for nationally competitive scholarships can be a daunting process for students Thousands apply each year for scholarships with familiar names like the Rhodes Marshall Gates Cambridge Schwarzman Fulbright Truman Goldwater Udall and Madison or for one of many STEM opportunities like National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships or National Defense Science and Engineering Fellowship For many the applications present an unfamiliar territory so students seek out informed advisors who can help them navigate the terrain This volume of essays is a great way for anyone advising students through an application to become an expert Roads Less Traveled and Other Perspectives on Nationally Competitive Scholarships provides critical information from scholarship foundations about the best ways to guide students from considering a career path to completing the application to preparing for an interview Experienced advisors also share helpful tips on practical topics like writing letters of endorsement or assisting those who want to study abroad and they provide programmatic advice on how to broaden the pool of applicants address those with financial needs and make all who apply feel the process has value beyond winning Roads Less Traveled and Other Perspectives on Nationally Competitive Scholarships is a must for anyone advising students on scholarships

College Knowledge for the Community College Student David Schoem, Lynn Dunlap, 2011-07-07 Most students arrive at college not fully aware of just how different the college experience is from other prior experiences The intellectual and social expectations as well as the rules and regulations are different and not just different from high school While all college students must learn to negotiate the transition to college the challenges for those who enroll in community colleges are unique Many community college students work and many work full time Many also have family responsibilities children partners and aging parents A majority of community college students are the first in their family to enroll in college Some students both from abroad and from the United States do not speak English fluently Some students are retired military personnel and some are seeking to make a career change This book strives to speak to this diversity as well as to situations specific to today s U S community college students College Knowledge for the Community College Student is a road map and tour guide for a successful community college experience and education Tips are based on research and the wisdom and advice of other community college students and are designed to help students learn succeed graduate and have a rewarding and fulfilling community college experience
