broken sense of Blackness but rather to see the Black self as beautifully layered and complex They developed a shared set of methods and motives driven by the belief that art must involve a sense of community O Meally s readings of these artists and their work emphasize how they have not only contributed to understanding of Black history and culture but also provided hope for fulfilling the broken promises of American democracy We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger,2022-10-04 A richly illustrated history of self taught artists and how they changed American art Artists without formal training who learned from family community and personal journeys have long been a presence in American art But it wasn t until the 1980s with the help of trailblazing advocates that the collective force of their creative vision and bold self definition permanently changed the mainstream art world In We Are Made of Stories Leslie Umberger traces the rise of self taught artists in the twentieth century and examines how despite wide ranging societal racial and gender based obstacles they redefined who could be rightfully seen as an artist and revealed a much more diverse community of American makers Lavishly illustrated throughout We Are Made of Stories features more than one hundred drawings paintings and sculptures ranging from the narrative to the abstract by forty three artists including James Castle Thornton Dial William Edmondson Howard Finster Bessie Harvey Dan Miller Sister Gertrude Morgan the Philadelphia Wireman Nellie Mae Rowe Judith Scott and Bill Traylor The book centralizes the personal stories behind the art and explores enduring themes including self definition cultural heritage struggle and joy and inequity and achievement At the same time it offers a sweeping history of self taught artists the critical debates surrounding their art and how museums have gradually diversified their collections across lines of race gender class and ability Recasting American art history to embrace artists who have been excluded for too long We Are Made of Stories vividly captures the power of art to show us the world through the eyes of another Published in association with the Smithsonian American Art Museum Exhibition Schedule Smithsonian American Art Museum Washington DC July 1 2022 March 26 2023 Life Narratives, Creativity, and the Social in the Americas Wilfried Raussert,Susana Rocha Teixeira,2024-12-02 Resorting to life narratives as a comprehensive umbrella term and embracing hemispheric American studies paradigms this edited volume explores the interrelations between life narratives the social world creativity and different forms of media to narrate and re present the self to see in which way these expressions offer new means of self representation within cultural productions from the Americas Creativity in the context of life narratives nourishes the act of narrating and propels among others the desire to link individual life stories with larger stories of social embeddedness conditioning and transformation thus pushing new forms of historiography and other forms of nonfictional writing Accordingly the creative impulse fuses individual and collective experience with a larger understanding of the social including the latter s local and global embeddedness The contributions in this volume analyze the ways in which the dynamics tensions and reciprocities between narrative creativity and the social world unfold in life narratives from the Americas In particular this volume addresses scholars and students of life writing cultural and literary studies gender

Envisioning Black Feminist Voodoo Aesthetics Kameelah L. Martin, 2016-09-30 In the twenty first century American popular culture increasingly makes visible the performance of African spirituality by black women Disney s Princess and the Frog and Pirates of the Caribbean franchise are two notable examples The reliance on the black priestess of African derived religion as an archetype however has a much longer history steeped in the colonial othering of Haitian Vodou and American imperialist fantasies about so called black magic Within this cinematic study Martin unravels how religious autonomy impacts the identity function and perception of Africana women in the American popular imagination Martin interrogates seventy five years of American film representations of black women engaged in conjure hoodoo obeah or Voodoo to discern what happens when race gender and African spirituality collide She develops the framework of Voodoo aesthetics or the inscription of African cosmologies on the black female body as the theoretical lens through which to scrutinize black female religious performance in film Martin places the genre of film in conversation with black feminist womanist criticism offering an interdisciplinary approach to film analysis Positioning the black priestess as another iteration of Patricia Hill Collins notion of controlling images Martin theorizes whether film functions as a safe space for a racial and gendered embodiment in the performance of African diasporic religion Approaching the close reading of eight signature films from a black female spectatorship Martin works chronologically to express the trajectory of the black priestess as cinematic motif over the last century of filmmaking Conceptually Martin recalibrates the scholarship on black women and representation by distinctly centering black women as ritual specialists and Black Atlantic spirituality on the silver screen

All Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio, 2011-05-17 In All Stories Are True Tracie Church Guzzio provides the first full length study of John Edgar Wideman s entire oeuvre to date Specifically Guzzio examines the ways in which Wideman b 1941 engages with three crucial themes history myth and trauma throughout his career showing how they intertwine Guzzio argues that for four decades the influential African American writer has endeavored to create a version of the African American experience that runs counter to mainstream interpretations using history and myth to confront and then heal the trauma caused by slavery and racism Wideman s work intentionally blurs boundaries between fiction and autobiography myth and history particularly as that history relates to African American experience in his hometown of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania The fusion of fiction national history and Wideman s personal life is characteristic of his style which due to its complexity and smudging of genre distinctions has presented analytic difficulties for literary scholars Despite winning the PEN Faulkner award twice for Sent for You Yesterday 1984 and Philadelphia Fire 1990 Wideman remains under studied Of particular value is Guzzio s analysis of the many ways in which Wideman alludes to his previous works This intertextuality allows Wideman to engage his books in direct intentional dialogue with each other through repeated characters images folktales and songs In Wideman s challenging of a monolithic view of history and presenting alternative perspectives to it and his allowing past present and future time to remain fluid in the narratives Guzzio finds an author firm in his notion that all stories and all perspectives have merit
