Ronald Reagan The Great Speeches Volume 1:

American History through Its Greatest Speeches Jolyon P. Girard, Darryl Mace, Courtney Michelle Smith, 2016-12-05

What did America's greatest orators say regarding significant issues and concerns throughout United States history? This three-volume set examines hundreds of the most historically significant speeches from colonial times to the modern era, allowing readers to consider exactly what the speakers said and to better understand the motivations behind each speech as well as the effect on the audiences that heard them. This essential reference work presents the most important and historically significant speeches delivered since colonial times, providing in essence a documentary history of the United States through these public utterances. Readers can witness American history unfold firsthand through these stirring and at times controversial speeches from Patrick Henry's fiery words calling for an American revolution through the words of the 19th-century abolitionists and Lincoln's immortal Gettysburg Address and up through the 20th century with President Wilson's famous Fourteen Points, FDR reminding Americans that the only thing they had to fear was fear itself, and George W. Bush responding to the attacks of September 11. For students, teachers, librarians, and general readers, this indispensable work provides essential reference resources on the speeches of great significance in American history. Each speech is prefaced by a contextual headnote that provides essential background information and specific details about the speech. This three-volume set also includes a timeline, a historical review of each era, biographical sketches of each speaker, and anecdotal sidebars containing additional information about the speech or speakers.

An Empire of Ideals Justin D.

Garrison, 2013-03-05 Justin D. Garrison provides an original and groundbreaking analysis of Ronald Reagan's imagination as it was expressed mainly in his presidential speeches. He argues that the predominant strain of Reagan's imagination is chimeric, that is, imbued with a high degree of optimism, romantic dreaminess, naiveté, and illusion. Reagan spoke often about religion, democracy, freedom, conservatism, progress, America's role in the world, the American people, the American Founding, and peace. These are for him important symbols which together express his general vision of politics and human existence. These symbols have to be analyzed in depth in order to understand who Reagan really was and what he represented to his admirers. The book concludes that Reagan's vision contains many dubious elements that present dangers for practical politics and claims that the popularity of Reagan's imagination among Americans suggests a problematic self-understanding. Surpassing existing works on Reagan's ideas and speeches, this book systematically explains the general quality and major components of Reagan's vision and it draws upon political theory, aesthetics, and American political thought to analyze his imagination.

The World's Great Speeches Lewis Copeland, Lawrence W. Lamm, Stephen J. McKenna, 2012-04-24 Nearly 300

speeches provide public speakers with a wealth of quotes and inspiration from Pericles' funeral oration and William Jennings Bryan's Cross of Gold speech to Malcolm X's powerful words on the Black Revolution. Includes 7 selections from the Common Core State Standards Initiative.

Howells, 1999-03-29 The first critical analysis of the Titanic as modern myth this book focuses on the second of the two Titanics The first was the physical Titanic the rusting remains of which can still be found twelve thousand feet below the north Atlantic The second is the mythical Titanic which emerged just as its tangible predecessor slipped from view on 15 April 1912 It is the second of the two Titanics which remains the more interesting and which continues to carry cultural resonances today The Myth of the Titanic begins with the launching of the unsinkable ship and ends with the outbreak of the war to end all wars It provides an insight into the particular culture of late Edwardian Britain and beyond this draws far greater conclusions about the complex relationship between myth history popular culture and society as a whole

The Triumph of Improvisation James Graham Wilson, 2014-02-15 In The Triumph of Improvisation James Graham Wilson takes a long view of the end of the Cold War from the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan in December 1979 to Operation Desert Storm in January 1991 Drawing on deep archival research and recently declassified papers Wilson argues that adaptation improvisation and engagement by individuals in positions of power ended the specter of a nuclear holocaust Amid ambivalence and uncertainty Mikhail Gorbachev Ronald Reagan George Shultz and George H W Bush and a host of other actors engaged with adversaries and adapted to a rapidly changing international environment and information age in which global capitalism recovered as command economies failed Eschewing the notion of a coherent grand strategy to end the Cold War Wilson paints a vivid portrait of how leaders made choices some made poor choices while others reacted prudently imaginatively and courageously to events they did not foresee A book about the burdens of responsibility the obstacles of domestic politics and the human qualities of leadership The Triumph of Improvisation concludes with a chapter describing how George H W Bush oversaw the construction of a new configuration of power after the fall of the Berlin Wall one that resolved the fundamental components of the Cold War on Washington's terms Dispatches Volume One Roy Blount, 2018-10-09 Laugh out loud observations from America's foremost humorist Chicago Tribune What Men Don't Tell Women Well that's just for starters Roy Blount Jr realized that nearly all of his writing involved things people don't tell people what Southerners don't tell Northerners what the sick don't want to hear from the well what no one would ever tell their mother and what authors rarely admit to their readers That all changes in this honest funny collection of confessional essays about sex friendship marriage male bonding female patience and Elvis The Boston Globe One Fell Soup A deliciously funny stew of reviews diatribes investigations meditations assorted grumblings and verse about the absurdities of American life death fears and ambition Included in these fifty nine easy pieces the truth as Blount sees it about nudism cricket fighting bowling macaroni and cheese black holes and black socks nuclear holocausts the CIA domesticated fowl pork bellies God and more The whole shebang from one of the most clever see sly witty cunning nimble wordsmiths cavorting in the English language Carl Hiaasen Camels Are Easy Comedy's Hard Flesh eating piranha Synchronized swimming Rubber chickens Edith Wharton Crossword puzzles All and then some in this giddy compendium of essays celebrity profiles silly games and side trips Parts sports journalism literary criticism travel writing and aborted novel tossed with a few poems and a neo Biblical one act play this is an uproarious and sometimes heartening anthology of adventures from one writer who never fails to please The Village Voice Reagan at Bergen-Belsen and Bitburg Richard Jay Jensen, 2007 Ronald Reagan's inability to sway the American public and press with his speeches at the former site of the infamous Bergen Belsen concentration camp and later at the U S Air Force base in Bitburg Germany has been marked by many as the first major failure of the Great Communicator's second term Richard J Jensen highlights the qualities of the speeches that make them in his estimation models of presidential discourse But he also looks at the setting for the speeches political and historical that doomed them despite their eloquence Telescoping in from the broadest perspective on Reagan's rhetorical career to the circumstances surrounding the decision to make the speeches to the drafting delivery and reception of the texts Jensen contrasts these two speeches with two very successful ones Reagan had delivered in Normandy the previous year The result is a vivid picture of a man and a moment in history Students and all those interested in public discourse and the presidency will deeply benefit from this mature work by a major scholar of rhetoric Ronald Reagan and the Politics of Freedom Andrew Busch, 2001

In Ronald Reagan and the Politics of Freedom Andrew E Busch goes beyond economic and foreign policies to examine Reagan's understanding of statesmanship Busch analyzes Reagan's conscious attempt to strengthen the separation of powers federalism and traditional rhetoric and his efforts to revive the notion of limited government in a Constitutional Republic In this important new study Busch concludes that Ronald Reagan's politics of freedom found in his discourse policy and coalition building achieved significant successes in the 1980s and beyond The Lost Art of the Great Speech Richard

Super-History Jeffrey K. Johnson, 2014-01-10 In the less than eight decades since Superman's debut in 1938 comic book superheroes have become an indispensable part of American society and the nation's dominant mythology They represent America's hopes dreams fears and needs As a form of popular literature superhero narratives have closely mirrored trends and events in the nation This study views American history from 1938 to 2010 through the lens of superhero comics revealing the spandex clad guardians to be not only fictional characters but barometers of the place and time in which they reside Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here Presidential Speechwriting Kurt Ritter, Martin J. Medhurst, 2004-03-15 The rise of the media presidency through radio and television broadcasts has heightened the visibility and importance of presidential speeches in determining the effectiveness and popularity of the President of the United States Not surprisingly this development has also witnessed the rise of professional speechwriters to craft the words the chief executive would address to the nation Yet as this volume of expert analyses graphically demonstrates the reliance of individual presidents on their speechwriters has varied with the rhetorical skill of the officeholder himself his managerial style and his personal attitude toward public speaking The individual chapters here two by former White House speechwriters give fascinating insight into the process and development of presidential speechwriting from Franklin D Roosevelt s administration to Ronald Reagan s Some contributors such as Charles Griffin writing on Eisenhower and Moya Ball on Johnson offer case studies of specific speeches to gain insight into those presidents Other chapters focus on institutional arrangements and personal relationships rhetorical themes characterizing an administration or the relationship between words and policies to shed light on presidential speechwriting The range of presidents covered affords opportunities to examine various factors that make rhetoric successful or not to study alternative organizational arrangements for speechwriters and even to consider the evolution of the rhetorical presidency itself Yet the volume s single focus on speechwriting and the analytic overviews provided by Martin J Medhurst not only bring coherence to the work but also make this book an exemplar of how unity can be achieved from a diversity of approaches Medhurst s introduction of ten myths in the scholarship on presidential speeches and his summary of the enduring issues in the practice of speechwriting pull together the work of individual contributors At the same time his introduction and conclusion transcend particular presidents by providing generalizations on the role of speechwriting in the modern White House
