Cheer, 2021-03-29 Over the last decade while many scholars have maintained their interest in the classical debate concerning the impacts of tourism some have attempted new conceptualisations while others have converged towards critical narratives promoted by a number of social movements and have become involved in subsequent discussions on overtourism and tourismphobia The terms overtourism and tourismphobia have their genesis in the rapid unfolding of unsustainable mass tourism practices and the responses that these have generated amongst academics practitioners social movements and grassroots organizations concerned with the detrimental use of urban rural and coastal spaces among others for tourism purposes The renewed interest in the study of the adverse impacts of tourism as implied in the term overtourism is related to a variety of well established causes Travel and Tourism in the Age of Overtourism builds on existing knowledge and makes a theoretical and practical contribution the overtourism debate and the system dynamics underlining it This collection suggests ways to address this from a tourism and planning perspective It offers critical reflections on the contemporary evolution of tourism development and the implication of such processes on people places and spaces The chapters in this book were originally published as a Special Issue of the journal Tourism Planning Development

Cultural Congruence: Contemporaneity and Confluence Dr. Muralikrishnan T.R., Dr. Amitha P Mani, 2022-04-17 We are happy to publish this book Cultural Congruence Contemporaneity and Confluence for the academic community interested in Cultural Studies This book is an outcome of the discussions and deliberations based on the National seminar held on 28th and 29th January 2020 conducted by the Post Graduate Department of English MES Asmabi College P Vemballur Kodungallur Thrissur Kerala The editors do admit to the fact that a dynamic phenomenon such Cultural Studies cannot be compressed in a few papers but the concepts and applications illustrated by the research scholars and participants should not go unnoticed and unrecognised That is the very reason for the publication of this seminar volume We are aware that topics in Cultural Studies are constantly evolving and constantly challenged The concepts are always renewed and reinvigorated through negation and negotiation But they present a paradigm which is surely valuable in the real academic sense The ideas proposed by the writers are their own and the editors do not subscribe to or endorse them The editors would like to express the sincere support and goodwill shown by the publisher in this regard We do acknowledge the moral support by the department colleagues and the academic fraternity at large We would surely welcome comments and criticism from the readers

Football, Fandom and Consumption Oliver Brooks, 2019-02-05 Modern football is an industry and capitalism is its engine However this book argues for a more nuanced understanding of contemporary football culture and the self identity of football fans Drawing on original ethnographic research conducted with fans at all levels from international to lower league the book explores the tensions between fans as consumers and traditional football cultures arguing that modern football fans are able to negotiate the discourses of capitalism and tradition operating upon them to enact their own power and identity within football culture Featuring case studies of Norwich City MK Dons and Chelsea fans this is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in sport and society or cultural studies

Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today Joni Boyd Acuff, Laura Evans, 2014-07-08 Aimed at museum educators

Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today seeks to marry museum and multicultural education theories. It reveals how the union of these theories yields more equitable educational practices and guides museum educators to address misrepresentation, exclusivity, accessibility, and educational inequality. This contemporary text is directive; it encourages museum educators to consider the critical multicultural education theoretical framework in their day-to-day functions in order to illuminate and combat shortcomings at the crux of museum education. Museum Educators as Change Agents: Inclusion versus Exclusion Collaboration with Diverse Audiences Responsive Pedagogy. This book adopts a broad definition of multiculturalism which names not only race and ethnicity as concerns but also gender, sexual orientation, religion, ability, age, and class. While focusing on these various facets of identity, the authors demonstrate how museums are social systems that should offer comprehensive, diverse educational experiences not only through exhibitions but through other educational activities. The authors pull from their own research and practical experiences which exemplify how museums have been and can be attentive to these areas of identity. Multiculturalism in Art Museums Today is hopeful and inspiring as it identifies and commends the positive and effective practices that some museum educators have enacted in an effort to be inclusive. Museum educators are at the front line interacting with the public on a daily basis. Thus, these educators can be the real vanguard of change, modeling critical multicultural behavior and practices. Media and the Global South Mehita

Iqani, Fernando Resende, 2019-03-06 What does the notion of the global south mean to media studies today? This book interrogates the possibilities of global thinking from the south in the field of media communication and cultural studies. Through lenses of millennial media cultures, it refocuses the praxis of the global south in relation to the established ideas of globalization, development, and conditions of postcoloniality. Bringing together original empirical work from media scholars from across the global south, the volume highlights how contemporary thinking about the region as a theoretical framework, an emerging area of theory in its own right, is incomplete without due consideration being placed on narrative forms, both analogue and digital, traditional and sub-cultural. From news to music cultures, from journalism to visual culture, from screen forms to culture jamming, the chapters in the volume explore contemporary popular forms of communication as manifested in diverse global south contexts. A significant contribution to cultural theory and communications research, this book will be of interest to scholars and researchers of media and culture studies, literary and critical theory, digital humanities, science and technology studies, and sociology and social anthropology. Libraries - Traditions and Innovations Melanie A.

Kimball, Katherine M. Wisser, 2017-05-08 Many consider libraries to be immutable institutions deeply entrenched in the past, full of dusty tomes and musty staff. In truth, libraries are and historically have been sites of innovation and disruption. Originally presented at the Library History Seminar XII: Libraries, Traditions, and Innovations, this collection of essays offers examples of the enduring and evolving aspects of libraries and librarianship. Whether belonging to a Caliph in 10th century

Spain built for 19th century mechanics or intended for the segregated Southern United States libraries serve as both a reflection and a contestation of their context These essays illustrate that libraries are places of turmoil where real social and cultural controversies are explored and resolved where invention takes place and where identities are challenged and defined reinforcing tradition and commanding innovation

Communicating Fashion Brands Emily Huggard, Jon Cope, 2020-02-19 This book demonstrates how fashion brands communicate why the practice is significant within wider society and how it can be perceived as culturally meaningful Enabling readers to connect the tools and techniques of communication with their theoretical underpinnings and historical antecedents the book shows how these methods can be applied in practice The authors utilise social consumer and cultural theory and frameworks rooted in psychology sociology and economics as mechanisms to analyse and deconstruct current communication strategies used by fashion brands The book presents insights and strategies for communicating authentic values conveying a clearly defined aesthetic and visual language and generating shareable content that resonates with audiences With insights into strategies used by brands including Burberry Gucci Dior COS Rapha Warby Parker and Maryam Nassir Zadeh each chapter outlines ways of maintaining relevant and consistent brand narratives in the 21st century From how to sustain a dialogue with a brand's community to the use of brand collaboration co creative storytelling and fashion spaces the book aims to develop reflective communication practitioners who have a deep understanding of the cultural landscape brand strategy and industry innovation Written for scholars and practitioners this book is a valuable blend of theory and practice across the fields of fashion communication and branding
