Delgado, 1998-01-01 How much extra net income growth can be had in rural areas of Africa by increasing the spending power of local households The answer depends on how rural households spend increments to income whether the items desired can be imported to the local area in response to increased demand and if not whether increased demand will lead to new local production or simply to price rises For every dollar in new farm income earned at least one additional tional dollar could be realized from growth multipliers according to Agricultural Growth Linkages in Sub Saharan Africa Research Report 107 by Christopher L Delgado Jane Hopkins and Valerie A Kelly with Peter Hazell Anna A McKenna Peter Gruhn Behjat Hojjati Jayashree Sil and Claude Courbois Except-Africa Emery Roe, 2018-01-18 It is a commonplace that the problems of African rural development are becoming increasingly complex that is they have grown more numerous interrelated and varied This complexity has generated a multitude of development scenarios Such scenarios encourage decision making along rigid and narrow patterns that ignore the diversity of local situations and national cultures Among these is the doomsday scenario applied to every nation on the continent best captured in the phrase Everything works except in Africa Emery Roe argues that crisis scenarios generated by an expert usually non

African elite are self serving and counterproductive Despite this they go largely unchallenged even when they fail to explain or predict Except Africa takes up the challenge of devising development scenarios that do justice to the continent s variegated reality The book begins by defining what the author means by a development narrative The subsequent chapters provide alternate scenarios to such dominant models Chapter 2 sketches four counter narratives to the tragedy of the common argument while chapter 3 constructs the most innovative challenge to conventional ways of thinking about Sub Saharan pastoralism in decades Chapter 4 develops an alternative scenario of expatriate advising in Africa while chapter 5 devises a counter narrative to the all too common views about government budgeting in Nigeria Kenya and Ghana Chapter 6 presents a case study and counter narrative from Zimbabwe of a complex local government reform The book concludes by moving beyond case material and specific situations to answer the most imperative question in African studies and rural development What would a politics of complexity look like in Africa if complexity were seriously engaged Contemporary African studies are dominated by narratives about power Yet in African rural development power interests are by no means always clear Development issues are frequently contingent and provisional Surviving the tangled fusion of narrative and reality requires a politics of complexity Except Africa will be an essential work in meeting that challenge Small African Towns Poul Ove Pedersen,2019-07-23 First published in 1997 this study sees the small enterprise as performing specific tasks within the larger societal system of production and distribution and as being shaped and adapted to the specific social and economic locally specific environment of which it is a part Research was focused on fieldwork in Kenya Tanzania Uganda Zimbabwe and Bangladesh examining rural small towns serving rural hinterlands Areas explored include the building sector in Zimbabwean district service centres the building sector in small Tanzanian towns small enterprises and the public sector in Kenya and Bangladesh and the structure of small scale grain marketing in a small Ugandan town Research Report ,1997 Periodic Markets as an Organizing Framework for Rural Small Business Development, Sekhukhuneland ,1997 Smallholder Horticulture in Zimbabwe John Ellwood Jackson,Anne Turner,Margaret Matanda,1997 The Management of Irrigation Systems in the Dambos of Zimbabwe Marc Andreini,1993 Bibliography of Agriculture with Subject Index ,1993-10 Land and Agrarian Reform in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo,Walter Chambati,2013-05-13 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme implemented during the 2000s in Zimbabwe represents the only instance of radical redistributive land reforms since the end of the Cold War It reversed the racially skewed agrarian structure and discriminatory land tenures inherited from colonial rule The land reform also radicalised the state towards a nationalist introverted accumulation strategy against a broad array of unilateral Western sanctions Indeed Zimbabwes land reform in its social and political dynamics must be compared to the leading land reforms of the twentieth century which include those of Mexico Russia China Japan South Korea Taiwan Cuba and Mozambique The fact that the Zimbabwe case has not been recognised as vanguard nationalism has much to do with the intellectual structural adjustment which has accompanied neoliberalism and a hostile media campaign This has entailed dubious theories of neopatrimonialism which reduce African politics and the state to endemic corruption patronage and tribalism while overstating the virtues of neoliberal good governance Under this racist repertoire it has been impossible to see class politics mass mobilisation and resistance let alone believe that something progressive can occur in Africa This book comes to a conclusion that the Zimbabwe land reform represents a new form of resistance with distinct and innovative characteristics when compared to other cases of radicalisation reform and resistance The process of reform and resistance has entailed the deliberate creation of a tri modal agrarian structure to accommodate and balance the interests of various domestic classes the progressive restructuring of labour relations and agrarian markets the continuing pressures for radical reforms through the indigenisation of mining and other sectors and the rise of extensive albeit relatively weak producer cooperative structures The book also highlights some of the resonances between the Zimbabwean land struggles and those on the continent as well as in the South in general arguing that there are some convergences and divergences worthy of intellectual attention The book thus calls for greater endogenous empirical research which overcomes the pre occupation with failed interpretations of the nature of the state and agency in Africa

Contemporary Issues in Regional Development Policy Wilbert Gooneratne,Robert A.
