Serving Print Disabled Library Patrons:

Serving Print Disabled Library Patrons Bruce E. Massis, 1996 To a large extent library schools have provided little training for librarians who serve visually or physically impaired patrons Left to their own devices librarians have developed a myriad of programs often through a combination of professional savvy and creative instinct While librarians have made an admirable effort to develop programs for print disabled patrons many are unaware of or unable to access information on programs and services in place elsewhere This work written by experts in the field provides a detailed course in serving the print impaired patron The areas covered include education and training accessing the library services to students the impact of technology production practices and awareness issues for librarians

Humanizing LIS Education and Practice

Keren Dali, Nadia Caidi, 2020-10-29 Humanizing LIS Education and Practice Diversity by Design demonstrates that diversity concerns are relevant to all and need to be approached in a systematic way Developing the Diversity by Design concept articulated by Dali and Caidi in 2017 the book promotes the notion of the diversity mindset Grouped into three parts the chapters within this volume have been written by an international team of seasoned academics and practitioners who make diversity integral to their professional and scholarly activities Building on the Diversity by Design approach the book presents case studies with practice models for two primary audiences LIS educators and LIS practitioners Chapters cover a range of issues including but not limited to academic promotion and tenure the decolonization of LIS education engaging Indigenous and multicultural communities librarians professional development in diversity and social justice and the decolonization of library access practices and policies As a collection the book illustrates a systems thinking approach to fostering diversity and inclusion in LIS integrating it by design into the LIS curriculum and professional practice Calling on individuals organizations policymakers and LIS educators to make diversity integral to their daily activities and curriculum Humanizing LIS Education and Practice Diversity by Design will be of interest to anyone engaged in research and professional practice in Library and Information Science
