Lauer, 2021-03-01 Neighbourhood Houses draws on a five year study to document and contextualize the neighbourhood house movement in Vancouver Social disconnection has led many observers to declare that urban communities are weakening and fragmenting Nonetheless the local community is where most aspects of everyday life occur where people establish their homes and pursue their ambitions It offers a secure haven in an unpredictable globalized world Neighbourhood houses are community hubs providing services such as public recreation child care health care and adult literacy classes bringing urban newcomers and neighbours together Contributors to this book outline the history of the Vancouver network its relationship with local government and other organizations in the region the programs and activities offered and the experiences of participants While globalization and migration create fragmented and disconnected societies in modern urban cities this timely study demonstrates that place based community organizations can provide an antidote Ethics, Accountability and the Social Professions Sarah Banks, 2018-06-26 This book explores the far reaching ethical implications of recent changes in the organization and practice of the social professions social work community and youth work drawing on moral philosophy professional ethics and new empirical research by the author What does the development of external regulation and audit mean for the autonomy discretion and creativity of practitioners How does inter professional working in community mental health youth offending or neighbourhood regeneration challenge conceptions of professional identities and roles What relevance does an ethics of proximity care or virtue have for professional ethics alongside more abstract principle based approaches Family Centres and their International Role in Social Action Chris Warren-Adamson, 2017-10-05 This title was first published in 2001 Family centre practice is one of the success stories of the past twenty years As well as contributing creative ideas to centre practice this important edited collection highlights the role of practitioners as developmental or informal educationalists International contributors challenge care management in child protection as the dominant discourse in child care social work and instead advance integrated practice in the internationally developing role of family centres as a more authentic and hopeful practice for children and families The contributors outline ways of avoiding reductionism social work reduced to a protective and assessment role and show how socially inclusive practice can be sustained with very marginalized families The book argues that there is a need for the social work training curriculum to emphasize social work's debt to social and informal education and concludes with a call for an international forum of family centre practice

Settlement Houses Under Siege Michael Fabricant, Robert Fisher, 2002 This book focuses on the externally driven difficulties of service workers and agencies in shaping services such as the consequences of recent conservative social policies on agency life and the way in which the present political environment influences services through privatization
