Seven Dada Manifestos and Lampisteries Tristan Tzara, 2018-06-21 This volume contains Tristan Tzara's famous manifestos which first appeared between 1916 and 1921 and became essential texts of the modern movement and models for Breton's Surrealist manifestos. Art for Tzara was both deadly serious and a game and the playfulness of his character is apparent not only in his polemic which often uses dadaist typography but in the delightful drawings contributed by Francis Picabia. In addition, this volume also contains Tzara's Lampisteries articles that throw light on various art forms contemporary with his own work at a time when art weary of the old certainties turned into subjective and often abstract forms favouring the reality of the mind over that of the senses.

Dada's Subject and Structure Brandon Pelcher, 2023-07-11 Dada's Subject and Structure argues that Dadaist praxis was far more theoretically incisive than previous scholarship has indicated. The book combines theoretical frameworks surrounding ideological subject formation with critical media and genre histories in order to more closely read Dadaist techniques (e.g. montage, irony, nonsense, etc.) across multiple works. These readings reveal both Dada's preternatural focus on the discursive aspects of subject formation (linguistic sign, literary manifesto, photographic image, commodity form, aesthetics) which comprise the project's chapters and on Dada's performative sabotage and subversion of them. In addition to highlighting commonalities between Dadaist works, artists, and chapters previously imagined disparate, the book shows how Dada simultaneously prefigured structuralist theories of subject formation and pre-performed post-structuralist critiques of those theories.

Beckett's Imagined Interpreters and the Failures of Modernism Nick Wolterman, 2022-07-20 Samuel Beckett's work is littered with ironic self-reflexive comments on presumed audience expectations that it should ultimately make explicable sense. An ample store of letters and anecdotes suggests Beckett's own preoccupation with and resistance to similar interpretive mindsets. Yet until now such concerns have remained the stuff of scholarly footnotes and asides. Beckett's Imagined Interpreters and the Failures of Modernism addresses these issues head-on and investigates how Beckett's ideas about who he writes for affect what he writes. What it finds speaks to current understandings not only of Beckett's techniques and ambitions but also of modernism's experiments as fundamentally compromised challenges to enshrined ways of understanding and organizing the social world. Beckett's uniquely anxious audience targeting brings out similarly self-doubting strategies in the work of other experimental twentieth-century writers and artists in whom he is interested. His corpus proves emblematic of a modernism that understands its inability to achieve transformative social effects all at once but that nevertheless judiciously complicates too neat distinctions drawn within ongoing culture wars. For its re-evaluations of four key points of orientation for understanding Beckett's artistic ambitions, his arch critical pronouncements, his postwar confections of value and valuelessness, his often ambiguous self-commentary, and his sardonic metatheatrical play as well as for its running dialogue with wider debates around modernism as a social phenomenon this book is of interest to students and researchers interested in Beckett modernism and the relations between modern and contemporary artistic and social developments

Dada and Its Later Manifestations in the Geographic Margins Ronit Milano, Raya Zommer-Tal, Noam Gonen, 2024-06-14 This volume focuses on the unstudied geographic margins of Dada delving into the roots of Dada in Israel Romania Poland and North America Contributors consider some of the practices and experiments that were conceived a century ago surfaced in art throughout the twentieth century and are still relevant today Unearthing its Israeli origins examining Dadaist expressions in Poland and shedding light on overlooked facets of Dadaist art in Romania and North America the authors cast a spotlight on the less explored geographical peripheries of Dada The book is organized around four thematic trajectories space language materiality and reception which are dissected through the lens of micro histories Recognizing the continuing validity of questions raised by Dadaist artists this volume argues that Dada persists as an ongoing endeavor a continual reexamination of the fundamental tenets of art and its ever evolving potential manifestations The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history modernism and history of the twentieth and twenty first centuries

DADA, Surrealism, and the Cinematic Effect R. Bruce Elder, 2015-10-15 This book deals with the early intellectual reception of the cinema and the manner in which art theorists philosophers cultural theorists and especially artists of the first decades of the twentieth century responded to its advent While the idea persists that early writers on film were troubled by the cinema s lowly form this work proposes that there was another largely unrecognized strain in the reception of it Far from anxious about film s provenance in popular entertainment some writers and artists proclaimed that the cinema was the most important art for the moderns as it exemplified the vibrancy of contemporary life This view of the cinema was especially common among those whose commitments were to advanced artistic practices Their notions about how to recast the art media or the forms forged from those media s materials and the urgency of doing so formed the principal part of the conceptual core of the artistic programs advanced by the vanguard art movements of the first half of the twentieth century This book a companion to the author s previous Harmony Dissent examines the Dada and Surrealist movements as responses to the advent of the cinema
