Richards,2024-10-28 From the mid 16th to the early 18th centuries the Mughal empire was the dominant power in the Indian subcontinent

Contrary to what is sometimes suggested John Richards argues that this centralised state was dynamic and skillfully run. The studies here consider its links with the wider early modern world and focus on three related aspects of its history. The first concerns the nature of imperial authority in terms both of the dynastic ideology created by Akbar and his successors and the extent to which this authority could be enforced in the countryside. The second aspect is that of fiscal and monetary policy and administration: how did the Mughals collect, track and expend their vast revenues and what effects did this have? Finally, the author asks why the system could not cope with the changes it had helped engender and what were the weaknesses and pressures that led to the breakup of the empire in the first decades of the 18th century.

De la moitié du 16<sup>e</sup> siècle au début du 18<sup>e</sup>, l'empire moghol était le pouvoir dominant du sous-continent indien. Contrairement à ce qui peut parfois être suggéré, John Richards soutient que cet état centralisé était dynamique et adroitement mené. Les études examinent ses liens avec le reste du monde moderne et se concentrent sur trois aspects de son histoire. Le premier concerne la nature de l'autorité impériale en termes d'idéologie dynastique telle qu'elle avait été créée par Akbar et ses successeurs et du point jusqu'auquel cette autorité pouvait être imposée dans les milieux ruraux. Le second aspect est celui de l'administration et de la politique fiscale et monétaire: comment les Moghols faisaient-ils pour collecter, retrouver et dépenser leurs vastes revenus et quel était l'effet d'une telle politique? Enfin, l'auteur cherche à savoir pourquoi ce système n'arrivait pas à faire face aux changements qu'il avait contribué à engendrer et quelles étaient les faiblesses et les pressions qui ont conduit à la décomposition de l'empire.

Museums and empire John M. MacKenzie, 2017-03-01. Museums and Empire is the first book to examine the origins and development of museums in six major regions of the British Empire in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. It analyses museum histories in thirteen major centres in Canada, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India and South East Asia, setting them into the economic and social contexts of the cities and colonies in which they were located. Written in a lively and informative style, it also touches upon the history of many other museums in Britain and other territories of the Empire. A number of key themes emerge from its pages: the development of elites within colonial towns and cities; the emergence of the full range of cultural institutions associated with this; and the reception and modification of the key scientific ideas of the age. It will be essential reading for students and academics concerned with museum studies and imperial history, and to a wider public devoted to the cause of museums and heritage.

Intervale Betty Adcock, 2001-01-01. With a penetrating eye and a deep and spiritual intelligence, Betty Adcock writes poems that range from elegy to dark humor as they confront both loss and possibility. Intervale, selections from her first four books plus a new collection, traces the continuity of her vision and shows that lyric intensity can bring light to even the most obdurate darkness. Moving from the original loss of a world at her mother's death during the poet's sixth year to the world's loss of the arboreal leopards of Cambodia and Vietnam, from vanishing farmland to the endangered Sacred Harp music that once flourished in backwoods churches, from the difficult history of a little-known rural place to the weighted ruins of Greece, these poems frame lessening, divestations and devastations in the midst of plenty. A wilderness disappears into cozy myth, farming into industry, tiger and elephant into zoos the very ground underfoot with its attendant necessities and contingencies can seem to fade into fabrications we take for reality The seam where such themes touch Adcock s personal history is the path these poems travel toward a harsh but luminous transcendence      Gandhi the Man Eknath Easwaran,2011 A portrait of the great Indian leader seeks to uncover the personal and spiritual qualities which shaped Gandhi s life and made him the charismatic leader of millions Original      Inquisition Kazim Ali,2018-03-06 Finalist for Lambda Award for Gay Poetry given by Lambda Literary 2019 During the 1982 air strikes on Beirut Faiz Ahmed Faiz asked his friend Mahmoud Darwish Why aren t the poets writing this war on the walls of the city Darwish responded Can t you see the walls falling down Queer Muslim American Kazim Ali has always navigated complex intersections and interstices on order to make a life In this scintillating mixture of lyrics narrative fragments prose poem and spoken word he answers longstanding questions about the role of the poet or artist in times of political or social upheaval although he answers under duress An inquisition is dangerous after all especially to Muslims whose poetry and art and spiritual life has always depended not on the Western ideal of a known God or definitive text but on the concepts of abstraction geometry vertigo Someone always asks where are you from Ali writes and I want to say a body is a body of matter flung from the far corners of the universe and I am a patriot of breath of sin of the endless clamor out the window Ali engages history politics and the dangerous regions of the uncharted heart in this visceral new collection      Entangled Lives Imran Omer,2018-07-27 Raza a poor orphan trapped in the slums of Pakistan is sent to a strict madrassah where he meets and falls in love with Perveen They attempt to flee the city to escape their respective fates but fail Perveen pregnant is sent back to her family and Raza is sent to Afghanistan to fight as a Taliban soldier American journalist Rachael Brown travels to Afghanistan to cover the political unrest When she meets Raza for a brief interview she sees for the first time the true face of the Taliban poor and desperate young men with nowhere else to go As the war unfolds their paths cross again and each must decide what they owe the other      A Travel Junkie's Diary Dina Bennett,2018-08-21 Dina Bennett s on the road again and she can t stop Having completed the 7 800 mile Peking to Paris Classic Car Challenge while braving carsickness and patching rocky marital relations she s once more in over her head enduring 100 000 miles of road trips through the world s out of the way places Drawn to strange foods and intriguing views into the kaleidoscope of local life and with a knack for getting into and out of awkward situations Dina gives you the world in all its glory She s a born storyteller uncovering the curious and unusual in the ordinary bringing you along on vivid experiences in laugh out loud style Neither particularly brave nor wild she opens her diary of personal triumphs and embarrassments suspense and discovery in places most will never get to Join her as she stands knee to knee with a Tajik border guard in his bedroom hunts down camel pad meat in the street markets of China and seeks out the source of mare s milk in Kyrgyzstan Whether stranded on a sandbar in Myanmar s Chindwin River or sharing barley beer with an ex Black Panther in Ethiopia Dina s observations are half prying neighbor half best friend gossiping together on the crooked path to enlightenment The tales in A Travel Junkie s
