Several Kinds Of Silence:

Several Kinds of Silence Marilyn Singer, 1988 Faced with her beloved grandmother's illness and her own attraction to a boy her parents would disapprove of Franny tries to shut off her feelings completely

Cultural Histories of Ageing Margery Vibe Skagen, 2021-05-12 Drawing on sixteenth to twenty first century American British French German Polish Norwegian and Russian literature and philosophy this collection teases out culturally specific conceptions of old age as well as subjective constructions of late life identity and selfhood The internationally known humanistic gerontologist Jan Baars the prominent historian of old age David Troyansky and the distinguished cultural historian and pioneer in the field of literature and science George Rousseau join a team of literary historians who trace out the interfaces between their chosen texts and the respective periods medical and gerontological knowledge The chapters in depth analyses of major and less known works demonstrate the rich potential of fiction poetry and autobiographical writing in the construction of a cultural history of senescence These literary examples not only bear witness to longue dure representations of old age and epochal transitions regarding cultural attitudes to the aged they also foreground the subjectivities that produced some of these representations and that continue to communicate with readers of other times and places By casting a net over a variety of authors genres periods and languages the collection gives a broad sense of how literature is among the richest and most engaging sources for historicizing the ageing self

The Radetzky March Joseph Roth, 2002-08-01 The author's masterpiece an epic saga of a family and an empire in decline is full of psychological penetration and tragic force The New Yorker The Radetzky March Joseph Roth's classic novel of the Austro Hungarian Empire follows three generations of the privileged von Trotta family as Europe advances inexorably toward World War I With a breadth and richness that draws comparison to Tolstoy it encompasses the entire social fabric of Austro Hungarian society Shot through with dark humor and tragic irony The Radetzky March is an unparalleled portrait of a civilization in decline and as such a universal story for our times A masterpiece The totality of Joseph Roth's work is no less than a tragédie humaine achieved in the techniques of modern fiction No other contemporary writer not excepting Thomas Mann has come close to achieving the wholeness that Lukács cites as our impossible aim Nadine Gordimer

The Spirit of Mourning Paul Connerton, 2011-09-29 How is the memory of traumatic events such as genocide and torture inscribed within human bodies In this book Paul Connerton discusses social and cultural memory by looking at the role of mourning in the production of histories and the reticence of silence across many different cultures In particular he looks at how memory is conveyed in gesture bodily posture speech and the senses and how bodily memory in turn becomes manifested in cultural objects such as tattoos letters buildings and public spaces It is argued that memory is more cultural and collective than it is individual This book will appeal to researchers and students in anthropology linguistic anthropology sociology social psychology and philosophy

Five Pedagogies, a Thousand Possibilities Michalinos Zembylas, 2007-01-01 Five Pedagogies A Thousand Possibilities aims at providing the groundwork for articulating sites of enriching pedagogies so that critical hope and the possibility of transformation may stay alive The emotional experiences of unknowing silence passion desire forgiveness and reconciliation play an important political role in constituting critical resistance The implications of these ideas are discussed in the context of contemporary concerns about social justice conflict hope and despair These implications help us realize the potential of unknowing silence passion desire forgiveness and reconciliation as crucial pedagogical tasks and negotiate a hope that is truly critical As an alternative to pedagogies that negate the ethical and political implications of teachers and students emotional lives the present book demonstrates the need for pedagogies that enable the development of criticality without being overcome by despair The book will be of interest to academics researchers educators undergraduate and graduate students in the fields of social sciences and education and particularly in the subfields of philosophy of education curriculum theory teacher education and multicultural education

God's Englishwomen Hilary Hinds, 1996 This book offers a detailed study of the spiritual autobiographies and prophecies produced by Quaker Baptist and Fifth Monarchist women and asks how such a proliferation of texts was produced in a culture dismissive of women's writing

Spiritcarvers Antonella Sarti, 2022-06-08 In a land caught between the sea and cloud where the natural landscape still refuses civilization there are those the composers of words tellers of tales that help shape the minds of the people that live on its shores They are spiritcarvers New Zealand writing today is engaging in an intent struggle to subvert multiple shapes into voices These interviews as a record of biographical orature are shaped into presenting the figure of the storyteller through memory and language explorations of how we imagine and create ourselves with and into words Here we encounter the dichotomy of fiction and non fiction myth and consensual reality imagination and truth do we live within our own selected fictions Identity is shaped by the authors sense of displacement as well as of belonging meeting otherness with dispossession discovering connection through isolation Among the focal points of the interviews are the role of women's writing Maori writing interrelations among different cultures and the influence of literary and oral tradition within New Zealand

The Analytic Situation Peter F.

Drucker, 2017-07-05 Significant as has been the role of psychoanalysis and psychotherapy in contemporary culture and society its importance continues to grow at an accelerating rate as more specific focused and involving forms of therapy are devised The contributions of eminent practitioners that make up this volume deal with specific types of occurrences in the confrontation between patient and therapist such as silence crying sleeping touching use of first names gifts note taking termination etc The views expressed here demonstrate how the rigidity of early psychoanalytic theory has yielded to fundamental changes in the handling of the analytic situation numerous new schools of thought have arisen in attempts to give deeper fulfillment to the needs of patient analyst and society The persuasions of these new schools Gestaltist existentialist neo Freudian behaviorist ego psychologist rational emotive encounter and many others underlie the material presented here Impulsiveness and originality mark all of these departures from orthodoxy The therapist becoming more open and more manifestly responsive in his interaction with the patient is clearly shifting his role from that of an objective listener and interpreter to that of an overt participant in therapy. These trends are further intensified by the fact that the practice of psychotherapy is now carried on by a vast number of clinical psychologists, personality psychologists, social psychologists and social workers who have taken up psychotherapy as a professional activity in urban mental health clinics and in a variety of settings outside the major American metropolitan areas. The Analytic Situation provides informative, revealing reading for everyone involved in the psychotherapeutic process. It also offers provocative insights to students and therapists in training.

On the Move Geetha Ganapathy-Doré, Helga Ramsey-Kurz, 2012-12-18. In the postcommunist world of organized mobility, commodified hospitality and portable devices, the category of people labelled as migrants, the displaced and refugees symbolize a different kind of movement. Among them, the postnational figure of the refugee stands out. Fleeing their land alone or in a group, on foot or on buses and trains or via makeshift boats and commercial flights, dressed in unfamiliar clothes and borrowed identities, the refugees travel to dare a future from the taken roads. Their journey of escape is fraught with danger and despair, their survival complicated by the politics of suspicion and their right to return compromised by the power game between sovereign states. Waiting for ever in transit zones or living underground like animals but exploited for their labour, the refugees are the untouchables of the 21st century who put to test the universal and moral duty of hospitality. When the international legal regime of human and humanitarian rights does not come to their rescue, refugee women and children feel twice abandoned. This volume of collected essays tries to explore the journey of refugees as represented in New Literatures in English. Who are these refugees? What circumstances triggered their movement? At what point in history? Where do they go? How do they cope? What are their dreams? When does the refugee's silence break into speech and story? How does life assert itself in spite of impending death? Could the death of a refugee be as insignificant as her bare life of exile? Scholars from Europe, Africa, India and Sri Lanka give here a comprehensive picture of the refugee movement across the globe since the Second World War. The refugee narratives highlight the need to extend the logic of protection from persecution to asylum from economic crisis and ecological imbalance in order to offset the after effects of imperial outreach and industrial expansion. With a short story by Chika Unigwe by way of a foreword and contributions from Petra Tournay, Theodotou Helga Ramsey Kurz, Marta Cariello, Stavros Karayanni, Jean Marie Soungoua, Federico Fabris, Evelyne Hanquart, Turner Annie Cottier, Geetha Ganapathy Doré, G. Sujatha and V. Vinod Kumar. Therapeutic Expedition John C. Thomas, Lisa Sosin, 2011-04-01. Based on fifty years of clinical and classroom experience, a comprehensive basic helping skills textbook for undergraduates as well as master's degree students in counseling psychology, social work or pastoral counseling. Ordinary Paradise Richard Teleky, 2018-04-09. While representing the best of human endeavor, works of art have become ordinary features of our lives, familiar and reliably present, writes Richard Teleky. They are, however, extraordinary. So extraordinary in fact that in themselves they are a kind of paradise. In Ordinary Paradise, acclaimed author, critic and editor Richard Teleky considers a variety of artistic forms from novels and poems to paintings and sculptures to movies and musical compositions in celebration of the creative achievements that surround us and affect our daily lives He examines as well some of the challenges and tensions in any artist's life The essays in Ordinary Paradise challenge conventional wisdom and exemplify a dynamic and lively critical approach pointing out troubling trends in contemporary appreciation of art and culture They reveal the rewarding complexities of the demanding art of translation the nostalgic power of re-reading in provoking self-assessment and the fraught connection between language silence and identity as they relate to marginalized voices Teleky immerses himself into ideas of truth beauty and humanity and in so doing provides a compelling exemplar for engaging with contemporary culture and learning the innumerable lessons that artistic accomplishments have to teach us Group Action Martin Ringer, 2002-01-15 Martin Ringer an internationally known consultant and writer on group psychology here outlines techniques for understanding groups that will be relevant to those who lead teams in any setting The result is an accessible guide both to leading a group and to understanding the necessary dynamics that will result in the best team work
