Nat I Lissabon:

National Parliaments After the Lisbon Treaty and the Euro Crisis Davor Jančić, 2017 A critical assessment of the role of national parliaments in the EU after the Lisbon Treaty and the sovereign debt crisis in the Eurozone this book examines whether national parliaments have become resigned or resilient actors in these new socio economic and politico legal circumstances Achieving the Lisbon Goals in Cyprus: The Role of a National Youth Policy ,2006 National and

Regional Parliaments in the EU-Legislative Procedure Post-Lisbon Anna Jonsson Cornell, Marco Goldoni, 2017-01-12 Much has changed in European constitutional law after the Lisbon Treaty not least the efforts to increase democratic legitimacy by engaging national legislatures and introducing a stricter subsidiary review process namely the Early Warning Mechanism EWM This collection looks at how national parliaments have adapted to their new roles and looks at how the new system has impacted on relations between the EU legislative bodies and national parliaments A team of experts from across Europe explore the effect of the EWM on the national constitutional orders analyse the regional impact of EWM and evaluate the new system of scrutiny After Lisbon: National Parliaments in the European Union Katrin Auel, Thomas

Christiansen, 2017-10-02 The role of national parliaments in EU matters has become an important subject in the debate over the democratic legitimacy of European Union decision making Strengthening parliamentary scrutiny and participation rights at both the domestic and the European level is often seen as an effective measure to address the perceived democratic deficit of the EU the reason for affording them a prominent place in the newly introduced Provisions on Democratic Principles of the Union in particular Article 12 TEU Whether this aim can be met however depends crucially on the degree to which and the manner in which national parliaments actually make use of their institutional rights This volume therefore aims at providing a comprehensive overview of the activities of national parliaments in the post Lisbon Treaty era This includes the classic scrutiny of EU legislation but also parliamentary involvement in EU foreign policy the use of new parliamentary participation rights of the Lisbon Treaty Early Warning System their role regarding the EU s response to the Eurozone crisis and the so far under researched role of parliamentary administrators in scrutiny processes This book was originally published as a special issue of West European Politics Subsidiarity, National Parliaments and the Lisbon Treaty Great Britain. Parliament.

House of Commons. European Scrutiny Committee, 2008 The Lisbon Treaty contains provisions which are intended to encourage greater involvement of national parliaments in the activities of the European Union and to enhance their ability to express their views on draft legislative acts as well as on other matters which may be of particular interest to them This report examines these provisions The referendum on the Treaty in the Republic of Ireland took place during the course of the inquiry The no vote in Ireland raised the question of whether to continue it was decided to do so for two main reasons the first is that irrespective of the Lisbon Treaty the principle of subsidiarity will remain an important part of EU and Community law and the second is that the UK will retain its right to decide whether to opt into European legislation on visas asylum and immigration under Title IV of the present EC treaty The conclusions on the provisions of the Lisbon Treaty on subsidiarity include the substance of the subsidiarity Article in the Lisbon Treaty is the same in its effect as the existing Article in the EC Treaty examination of EU proposals for compliance with the principle of subsidiarity is a long established and fundamental part of the scrutiny process of the European Scrutiny Committee of the House of Commons whether a proposal does or does not comply is a matter of political judgement and is unlikely to be capable of an entirely objective assessment

Radaelli, 2014-06-03 In the year 2000 in Lisbon the European Union launched an agenda for growth jobs sustainability and competitiveness with a ten year target In 2010 the agenda was re launched with different specific objectives but with the same final goals Why do the European Union leaders engage with these ten year plans What exactly do they commit to when they do so Do they learn from the results or is this a rhetorical exercise that complex organizations need to raise attention to certain issues This volume is the first ever systematic study of the Lisbon agenda of the European Union now called Europe 2020 It explains the rise of the Lisbon agenda as governance architectures and examines its components across time and sectors This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of European Public Policy
