National and Class Conflict in the Horn of Africa John Markakis, 2012      National and Class Conflict in the Horn of Africa, 1987      State Crises, Globalisation and National Movements in North-East Africa Asafa Jalata, 2004-08-02 By identifying the critical central contradictions that are built into the politics of the Horn of Africa this book demonstrates that the crises of the Horn states stem from their political behaviour and structural forces such as internal social forces and global forces that have become involved on the sides of these states without requiring accountability the rule of law or the implementation of at least limited democracy The contributors provide a deep understanding of structural and conjunctural forces that have interacted in the processes of state power the role of intervention of global powers and the consequent failure to build state as a public domain The book also enriches our social scientific knowledge that is essential to develop pragmatic policy measures to address these problems      The Ethiopian Army Fantahun Ayele, 2014-10-30 The Ethiopian popular revolution of 1974 ended a monarchy that claimed descent from King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba and brought to power a military government that created one of the largest and best equipped armies in Africa In his panoramic study of the Ethiopian army Fantahun Ayele draws upon his unprecedented access to Ethiopian Ministry of Defense archives to study the institution that was able to repel the Somali invasion of 1977 and suppress internal uprisings but collapsed in 1991 under the combined onslaught of armed insurgencies in Eritrea and Tigray Besides military operations The Ethiopian Army discusses tactical areas such as training equipment intelligence and logistics as well as grand strategic choices such as ending the 1953 Ethio American Mutual Defense Agreement and signing a treaty of military assistance with the Soviet Union The result sheds considerable light on the military developments that have shaped Ethiopia and the Horn in the twentieth century      China and Middle East Conflicts Guy Burton, 2020-07-30 How do aspiring and established rising global powers respond to conflict Using China the book studies its response to wars and rivalries in the Middle East from the Cold War to the present Since the People's Republic was established in 1949 China has long been involved in the Middle East and its conflicts from exploiting or avoiding them to their management containment or resolution Using a conflict and peace studies angle Burton adopts a broad perspective on Chinese engagement by looking at its involvement in the region's conflicts including Israel Palestine Iraq before and after 2003 Sudan and the Darfur crisis the Iranian nuclear deal the Gulf crisis and the wars in Syria Libya and Yemen The book reveals how a rising global and non Western power handles the challenges associated with both violent and nonviolent conflict and the differences between limiting and reducing violence alongside other ways to eliminate the causes of conflict and grievance Contributing to the wider discipline of International Relations and peace and conflict studies this book will be of interest to students and scholars of peace and conflict studies Chinese foreign policy and the politics and international relations of the Middle East      Crisis and Terror in the Horn of Africa Pietro Toggia, Pat Lauderdale, 2017-03-02 Contemporary social life in the Horn of Africa is generally a state orchestrated experience that terrorizes the majority of the people This collection of carefully selected essays explores the different aspects of the current crisis in the Horn region of Africa where to marginalized indigenous groups the crisis materializes itself as social experiences of terror The result is a far reaching and important book which critically examines a state terror manifested in the violation of human rights democracy justice and freedom A Strategic Vision for Africa Francis M. Deng, I. William Zartman, 2004-06-23 Increasingly marginalized since the end of the Cold War the continent of Africa is struggling to identify both the root causes and possible solutions to the maladies that continue to plague it The problems read like a laundry list of misrule in the aftermath of decolonization rampant political corruption internecine wars widespread disease underdevelopment and economic collapse In the early 1990s a group of statesmen academics and civil leaders from all over Africa gathered to put together a comprehensive plan to make the continent become less dependent on the rest of the world and prepare it to compete in the new globalizing economy Those who gathered to write what would come to be known as the Kampala Document envisioned an organization which would succeed where the Organization for African Unity OAU had failed This new organization the Conference on Security Stability Development and Cooperation in Africa CSSDCA will provide a forum for discussion of democratization security issues and sustainable development This new book by noted scholars Francis Deng and I William Zartman provides a mid course appraisal of the progress of the CSSDCA as well as charting its future in relation to other regional organizations With a preface by President Olusegun Obasanjo this book will undoubtedly become an important tool in understanding Africa s present and future Francis Deng is a nonresident senior fellow in the Foreign Policy Studies program at the Brookings Institution His books include Masses in Flight The Global Crisis of Internal Displacement Brookings 1998 with Roberta Cohen The Forsaken People Case Studies of the Internally Displaced Brookings 1998 co edited with Roberta Cohen I William Zartman is Jacob Blaustein Professor of International Organizations and Conflict Resolution and Director of African Studies at the Paul H Nitze School of Advanced International Studies Severed States Robert K. Schaeffer, 1999 Russia Bosnia Palestine Ireland and many other nations are torn by seemingly intractable conflict in which partition has played a major role Globalization, Self-Determination and Violent Conflict V. FitzGerald, F. Stewart, R. Venugopal, 2006-05-05 The authors show that with violent conflict in the developing world as the critical issue for the twenty first century and conflict prevention a central security problem for the developed and developing world self determination movements can only be understood and conflict prevented in the context of global economic and cultural forces Historical Dictionary of Somalia Mohamed Haji Mukhtar, 2003-02-25 Despite advances in modern communication and the proliferation of information there remain areas of the world about which little is known One such place is Somalia The informed public is aware of a political meltdown and consequent chaos there but few comprehend the causes of this tragic crisis This new edition covers Somalia s origin history culture and language as well as current economic and political issues The alphabetical arrangement of this Dictionary with a complete chronology list of acronyms and in depth bibliography provide useful information about the country in a convenient format A vital addition to reference collections supporting undergraduate and graduate programs on Africa and the Middle East international relations and economics a useful fact filled compendium for government and public libraries NGO s and other special libraries

International Armed Conflict Since 1945 Herbert K. Tillema, 2019-04-08 International Armed Conflict Since 1945 is a bibliographic handbook that briefly describes each of 269 international wars and other war threatening conflicts occurring between 1945 and 1988

Africa Patrick Chabal, 2013-04-04 The question usually asked about Africa is why is it going wrong Is the continent still suffering from the ravages of colonialism Or is it the victim of postcolonial economic exploitation poor governance and lack of aid Whatever the answer increasingly the result is poverty and violence In Africa The Politics of Suffering and Smiling Patrick Chabal approaches this question differently by reconsidering the role of theory in African politics Chabal discusses the limitations of existing political theories of Africa and proposes a different starting point arguing that political thinking ought to be driven by the need to address the immediacy of everyday life and death How do people define who they are Where do they belong What do they believe How do they struggle to survive and improve their lives What is the impact of illness and poverty In doing so Chabal proposes a radically different way of looking at politics in Africa and illuminates the ways ordinary people suffer and smile This is a highly original addition to Zed s groundbreaking World Political Theories series

Warfare Since the Second World War Torsten Schwinhammer, 2018-04-24 Warfare Since the Second World War presents a wealth of analysis and data about one of the most pressing questions of our time why does war continue to plague us fifty years after World War II This book argues that the nature of war has shifted from inter state conflicts toward internal conflicts above all civil war Low intensity conflict helps explain the constant increase in wars over the last fifty years and makes it probable this trend will continue Gantzel and Schwinhammer argue that modern warfare reflects a continuation of the nation state building process begun in nineteenth century Europe In their analysis economic modernization and social integration destroy traditional relations and create instability in the developing world While these forces were successfully harnessed by the modern state in Europe and North America economic and political globalization make a similar resolution considerably more complex In addition to their insightful analysis the authors provide a detailed list of all wars fought from 1945 to 1995 The authors lucid explanatory commentaries are accompanied by lists tables and charts In addition to a detailed war register upon which all statistical data and analyses for the volume are based there are appendices with directories useful for locating specific wars as well as several supplementary lists An afterword brings the reader closer to the world situation as we conclude the twentieth century including the impact of political developments in Eastern Europe Beyond its historical dimension this book offers a policy relevant empirical demonstration of the ongoing increase in internal civil wars and addresses the inability of modern society to prevent this scourge Warfare Since the Second World War is an indispensable resource for anyone concerned with issues of war and peace development and the future of international relations      War, Hunger, and Displacement: E. Wayne Nafziger, Frances Stewart, Raimo Väyrynen, 2000-10-19 Since the end of the cold war the number of civil wars in developing countries has escalated to the point where they are the most significant source of human suffering in the world today Although there are many political analyses of these emergencies this two volume work is the first comprehensive study of the economic social and political roots of humanitarian emergencies identifying early measures to prevent such disasters Nafziger Stewart and Väyrynen draw on a wide range of specialists on the political economy of war and on major conflicts to show the causes of conflict The first volume provides a general overview of the nature and causes of the emergencies including economic political and environmental factors The second volume provides detailed case studies of thirteen conflicts including Rwanda Burundi the Congo Afghanistan and the Caucasus that originated in the weakness of the state or where economic factors predominate The volumes emphasize the significance of protracted economic stagnation and decline high and increasing inequality government exclusion of distinct social groups state failure and predatory rule They debunk beliefs recurrent in the literature that emergencies are the result of deteriorating environmental conditions structural adjustment and deep seated ethnic animosity By analysing the causes and prevention of war and humanitarian emergencies in developing countries this work outlines a less costly alternative to the present strategy of the world community of spending millions of dollars annually to provide mediation relief and rehabilitation after the conflict occurs

Frontiers of Violence in North-East Africa
Richard J. Reid, 2011-03-24 Relates violent conflict through the 19th and 20th centuries in the region of Ethiopia and Eritrea and the Sudanese and Somali frontiers to ethnic political and religious conflict and the violent state and empire building processes which have defined the region

In Whose Image? Abdou Maliqalim Simone, 1994-07-13 A Muslim scholar with extensive experience in Africa T Abdou Maliqalim Simone was recruited by the Islamic fundamentalist Shari'a Movement in Sudan to act as consultant for its project to unite Muslims and non Muslims in Khartoum's shanty towns Based on his interviews with hundreds of individuals during this time plus extensive historical and archival research In Whose Image is a penetrating examination of the use of Islam as a tool for political transformation Drawing a detailed portrait of political fundamentalism during the 1985-89 period of democratic rule in the Sudan Simone shows how the Shari'a Movement attempted to shape a viable social order by linking religious integrity and economic development where religious practice was to dominate all aspects of society and individuals daily lives However because Sudanese society is remarkably diverse ethnically and religiously this often led to conflict fragmentation and violence in the name of Islam Simone's own Islamic background leads him to deplore the violence and the devastating psychological economic and cultural consequences of one form of Islamic radicalism while holding to hope that a viable form of this inherently political religion can in fact be applied As a counterpoint he ends with a discussion of South Africa's Call of Islam which seeks political unity through a more tolerant interpretation of Islam As an introduction to religious discourse in Africa this book will be widely read by students and scholars throughout African Studies Religious Studies Anthropology and Political Science     Democratization in Late Twentieth-Century Africa Jean-Germain Gros, 1998-09-24 Few would disagree that since 1990 Sub Saharan Africa has undergone a process of political transformation Where one party systems once stood multi parties are now dominant where heads of state once ruled autocratically open elections have emerged In this study both African and non African scholars take a critical look at the evolution and contradictions of democratization in seven African nations Malawi Cameroon Nigeria Ethiopia Tanzania Ghana and Gabon each at a different stage in the democratization process Some of these countries historically have not received much attention in North America For example little is known about Malawi and Gabon has escaped notice outside the Francophone world While other works have focused primarily upon the role that institutions have played in the democratization process this study looks at individual leaders Some of the authors were themselves participants in the reform movements in their home countries and they examine the role that the military and the church played in the process This volume also includes a discussion of why democratization has stagnated or been reversed in some nations

Out of Africa Giovanni Carbone, The EU is struggling to cope with the so called migration crisis that has emerged over the past few years Designing the right policies to address immigration requires a deep understanding of its root causes Why do Africans decide to leave their home countries While the dream of a better life in Europe is likely part of the explanation one also needs to examine the prevailing living conditions in the large and heterogeneous sub Saharan region This Report investigates the actual role of political economic demographic and environmental drivers in current migration flows It offers a comprehensive picture of major migration motives as well as of key trends Attention is also devoted to the role of climate change in promoting migration and to intra continental mobility two thirds of sub Saharan migrant flows start and end within the region Two country studies on Eritrea and Nigeria are also included to get a closer sense of local developments behind large scale migration to Europe     Eritrea and Ethiopia Tekeste Negash, 1997 This book examines the rise and fall of the Ethio Eritrean federation which existed from 1952 to 1962 The author argues that the federation was abolished by Eritrean social and political forces rather than by Ethiopia The UN imposed federation and its constitution was doomed to fail as these were foreign to Eritrean and Ethiopian conceptions of power     The Eritrean National Service Gaim Kibreab, 2017 Gives voice to the conscripts who are forced to serve indefinitely without remuneration under the ENS in a powerful critical survey of its effect from the Liberation Struggle to today The Eritrean National Service ENS lies at the core of the post independence state not only supplying its military but affecting every aspect of the country s economy its social services its public sector and its politics Over half the workforce are forcibly enrolled into it by the government driving the country s youth to escape national service by seeking employment and asylum elsewhere Yet how did the ENS which began during the 1961-91 liberation struggle as part of the idea of the common good in which individual interests were sacrificed in pursuit of the grand scheme of independence and the country s development degenerate into forced labour and a modern form of slavery. And why when Eritrea no longer faces existential threat does the government continue to demand such service from its citizens. This book provides for the first time an in depth and critical scrutiny of the ENS achievements and failures and its overarching impact on the social fabric of Eritrea. The author discusses the historical backdrop to the ENS and the rationales underlying it its goals and objectives its transformative effects as well as its impact on the country's defence capability national unity national identity construction and nation building. He also analyses the extent to which the national service functions as an effective mechanism of transmitting the core values of the liberation struggle to the conscripts and through them to the rest of country's population. Finally the book assesses whether the core aims and objectives of the ENS proclaimed by various governments have been or are in the process of being accomplished and drawing on the testimony of the hitherto voiceless conscripts themselves its impact on their lives and livelihoods.
