Stegner said absolutely American they are no less part of the world at large National Parks beyond the Nation tells us as much about the multifarious and changing ideas of nature and culture as about the framing of those ideas in geographic temporal and national terms The Mount Washington Cog Railway: Climbing the White Mountains of New Hampshire Bruce D. Heald, 2011-04-18 The surprising story of the Cog Railway on Mount Washington and how one eccentric man's dream paved the way On July 3 1869 the three and one third mile track leading to the summit of picturesque Mount Washington opened for public use Once only those daring enough to scale the 6 288 feet could enjoy the splendor of the scenery but now everyone could journey to the summit using the invention of retired businessman Sylvester Marsh who dreamed of this mountainous mode of transportation Created at the height of the age of rail the Cog Railway continues to chug up the mountain and into the hearts of tourists each year Local historian Bruce D Heald ties the history of its construction together with the grand romance of the railway as they triumphantly converge at the top of Mount Washington Bodies of Nature Phil Macnaghten, John Urry, 2001-08-15 This book examines the embodied nature of people's experience in and of the modern world It is therefore part of the deep seated turn towards the body However it is partly critical of this development in as much as it affirms that the sociology of the body has downplayed the extent to which the body is located in and involved with nature the countryside the outdoors landscape and wilderness The book argues that bodies in nature are subject to novel complex and contradictory opportunities of freedom and escape surveillance and monitoring The book guides readers through the various ways in which these bodily opportunities and constraints are temporally and spatially organized and managed Landscape, Natural Beauty and the Arts Salim Kemal, Ivan Gaskell, 1993 Landscape Natural Beauty and the Arts offers probing studies of the complex structure of aesthetic responses to nature Each chapter refines and expands the terms of discussion and together they enrich the debate with insights from art history literary criticism geography and philosophy To explore the interrelation between our conceptions of nature beauty and art the contributors consider the social construction of nature the determination of our appreciation by artistic media and the duality of nature's determining in gardening Showing that natural beauty is impregnated with concepts derived from the arts and from particular accounts of nature the volume occasions questions of the distinction and relation between art and nature generally and culminates in a set of philosophical studies of the role of scientific understanding engagement and emotion in the aesthetic appreciation of nature A General System of Gardening and Botany ...
