Guide to Standard Floras of the World David G. Frodin, 2001-06-14 This 2001 book provides a selective annotated bibliography of the principal floras and related works of inventory for vascular plants The second edition was completely updated and expanded to take into account the substantial literature of the late twentieth century and features a more fully developed review of the history of floristic documentation The works covered are principally specialist publications such as floras checklists distribution atlases systematic iconographies and enumerations or catalogues although a relatively few more popularly oriented books are also included The Guide is organised in ten geographical divisions with these successively divided into regions and units each of which is prefaced with a historical review of floristic studies In addition to the bibliography the book includes general chapters on botanical bibliography the history of floras and general principles and current trends plus an appendix on bibliographic searching a lexicon of serial abbreviations and author and geographical indexes Flora of Australia Anthony Edward Orchard, 1984 Flora of Australia A. E. Orchard, Australian Biological Resources Study, 2001 The information in the Flora of Australia online website was first published in the Flora of Australia series Australian Rainforest Woods Morris Lake, 2015-05-25 Australian Rainforest Woods describes 141 of the most significant Australian rainforest trees and their wood The introductory sections draw the reader into an understanding of the botanical evolutionary environmental historical and international significance of this beautiful but finite Australian resource The main section examines the species and their wood with photographs botanical descriptions and a summary of the characteristics of the wood A section on wood identification includes fundamental information on tree growth and wood structure as well as images of the basic characteristics With more than 900 colour images this is the most comprehensive guide ever written on Australian rainforest woods both for the amateur and the professional wood enthusiast It is the first time that macrophotographs of the wood have been shown in association with a physical description of wood characteristics which will aid identification This technique was developed by Jean Claude Cerre France and his macrophotographs are included in the book List of Exotic and Indigenous Trees and Shrubs for Cultivation New South Wales.
