The Defense Policies of Nations Douglas J. Murray, Paul R. Viotti, 1994 Now in its third edition The Defense Policies of Nations has been thoroughly updated to take into account the dramatic developments of recent years the dissolution of the Soviet Union the resurgence of East Asian powers the emergence of newly independent nations in Eastern Europe the continuing instability of the Middle East and the growing importance of third world nations in global security matters For those dealing with national defense issues on a daily basis or even for those interested in the subject because of its current relevance The Defense Policy of Nations is must reading Gen Theodore J Conway Military Review American Academy of Political and Social Science      Problems of Communism ,1992      War Reporters Under Threat Chris Paterson, 2014-06-20 War Reporters Under Threat describes the threat of violence facing war reporters from the United States government and some of its closest allies Chris Paterson argues that what should have been the lesson for the press following the invasion of Iraq that they will be treated instrumentally by the US government has been mostly ignored As a result even nominally democratic states cannot be counted upon to protect journalists in conflict and urgent reform of legal protections for journalists is required War Reporters Under Threat combines critical scholarship with original investigation to assess the impact of the US government's obsession with information control and protection of its own troops While the press military relationship has been well researched this book is the first to elaborate the US government threat to journalists      Defending the West James Gow, 2005 This text provides a timely contribution to current debates about 21st century security challenges and draws on a range of contemporary world events to illustrate its arguments      North Atlantic Treaty Organization Phil Williams, 2024-11-01 This volume consists of major books written in the English language on NATO as well as an extensive listing of journal articles that deal with various aspects of the Alliance All the major debates that have taken place over the last forty years are discussed      European Security and Hybrid Threats Zeynep Arkan, 2025-03-21 Hybrid threats have been defined in various ways by different security actors with their scope continuously expanding to encompass emerging insecurities within the evolving security environment As an umbrella term encompassing a wide spectrum of threats with complex and multidimensional features the notion of hybrid threats remains inherently vague and amorphous This lack of clarity presents significant challenges for policymakers who must constantly identify potential dangers anticipate risks and formulate effective responses to safeguard their polities and populations Consequently a persistent sense of insecurity has become a defining characteristic of the current European security landscape This new normal of European security is characterised by a series of un known unknowns that fall under the elusive concept of hybrid threats However rather than accepting this evolving security paradigm at face value this study calls for a critical examination of its underlying assumptions core concepts and broader political implications It argues that the hybrid threat narrative demands a re evaluation of what security means in contemporary Europe and how it is operationalised Moreover the study underscores the expansive nature of the hybrid threat framework which has the potential to include virtually any domain ranging from education and technology to research and public infrastructure thereby contributing to the securitisation of all aspects of social and political life This expansive and ambiguous framing raises important questions about the limits of security and allocation of resources carrying considerable implications for democratic governance in Europe Dr Zeynep Arkan is an Associate Professor of International Relations at Hacettepe University Ankara and a Visiting Fellow at the österreichisches Institut für Internationale Politik Vienna She holds a BSc from Middle East Technical University Ankara an MA from Exeter University Exeter and a PhD from the University of Kent Canterbury

NATO's Durability in a Post-Cold War World Joe Burton, 2018-02-20 Examines how NATO has adapted and endured after the end of the Cold War transforming itself to deal with a host of new security challenges Why is it that despite the end of the Cold War and the almost constant controversies surrounding the alliance's role in the world the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO is still a prominent and vital player in international security Joe Burton provides an in depth analysis of NATO's changing role in the post Cold War era and its ability to survive adapt and meet the needs of its members in an increasingly turbulent globalized security environment He offers a historically and theoretically informed account of NATO that isolates the core dynamics that have held the alliance together in troubled times In particular he examines a series of processes and events from the 1990 Gulf War to the rise of the Islamic State that help explain NATO's continuing relevance This book does an excellent job of chronicling key events that have led to NATO's ongoing presence in international relations as a key provider of global security Ryan C Hendrickson author of Diplomacy and War at NATO The Secretary General and Military Action after the Cold War Professional Journal of the United States Army, 1997

Ontological Insecurity in the European Union Catarina Kinnvall, Ian Manners, Jennifer Mitzen, 2020-05-21 The European Union EU faces many crises and risks to its security and existence While few of them threaten the lives of EU citizens they all create a sense of anxiety and insecurity about the future for many ordinary Europeans This comprehensive volume explores the concept of ontological security which was introduced into international relations over a decade ago to better understand the security of being found in feelings of fear anxiety crisis and threat to wellbeing The authors make use of this concept to explore how narratives of European integration have been part of public discourses in the post war period and how reconciliation dynamics national biographical narratives and memory politics have been enacted to create ontological security Within this context they also discuss the anxiety of the remainers in the Brexit referendum and the consequences of its failure to address the ontological anxieties and insecurities of remain voters The book also explores how European security firms market ontological security and provide an ontological security inspired reading of the EU's relations with post communist states the EU and NATO's engagement with hybrid threats and the EU as an anxious community This book was originally published as a special issue of the journal European Security
