Nato And The New Technologies:

NATO and the New Technologies David Hobbs, 1989 NATO has traditionally relied on its technological superiority to offset the Warsaw Pact's numerical advantage. This equation however is becoming increasingly difficult to sustain. Despite NATO's considerably greater outlays for defense, the numerical balance continues to favor the Warsaw Pact and the technological gap between East and West is narrowing. To rectify this situation, NATO has two courses of action: embrace a spectrum of new technologies which offer the prospect of dramatic improvements in capability or extract better value for the money from its defense allocations. These two possibilities need not be mutually exclusive, although historically they have been. Clearly, NATO must reform its approach to weapons procurement if it is to exploit new technology as effectively as possible in periods of budgetary stringency. The need for reform is evident. The Warsaw Pact spends less than NATO on defense but outproduces NATO in virtually every weapons category. This volume examines these problems and shows that in order to exploit available technologies at an affordable cost, NATO clearly must organize its defense procurement more efficiently. Co-published with the Atlantic Council of the United States. Technologies for NATO's Follow-On Forces Attack Concept Alan Shaw, 2008-09 This unclassified version of a report on Improving NATO's Defense Response contains primarily the executive summary of the classified report as well as the chapter on delivery systems and munitions with classified material removed. The discussions of other areas, esp. surveillance systems and the threat, were omitted because little more than what appears in the summary could be said in an unclassified report. Contents: 1. Issues Before NATO and Before Congress; Topics for this Report; 2. Basic Observations: NATO Strategy and the Threat to the Central Region; Concepts for Follow-On Forces Attack; Requirements; Capabilities; Opportunities; Remaining Questions; Delivery Systems and Munitions; and Glossary, Charts and tables. Technologies for NATO's Follow-on Forces Attack Concept, 1986 New Technologies and the Arms Race Carlo Schaerf, Brian Holden Reid, David Carlton, 2016-01-07 This volume contains the proceedings of the International Conference on Technology, Arms Race and Disarmament which took place at Castiglione della Pescaia, Italy, in September 1987. The papers examine strategic defence policies, nuclear weapons proliferation and arms control among many other topics. New Technology and Western Security Policy Robert O'Neill, 1985-06-18 NATO's Future Stanley R. Sloan, 1995-09 Examines the role of the U.S. in NATO. The author finds the sources of many current problems and singles out two basic weaknesses: the failure of the European NATO Allies to form a European defense community and the parallel U.S. decision to rest NATO's defense on U.S. nuclear forces. Suggests some directions for NATO strategy, force posture, arms control policies and East-West relations. Photos, tables and figures. Glossary. Index. NATO's Conventional Defences Stephen J. Flanagan, 1988-10-07 A review of the full range of recent official and non-official schemes for improving NATO's conventional posture from exploitation of emerging technologies to non-provocative defenses in the light of prevailing military, political, economic and demographic trends. NATO's Changing Strategic Agenda Colin McInnes, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1990.

is an incisive examination of NATO's strategy for the defence of the central front the concern that has lain at the heart of NATO since its formation Politically the central front marked the post war division of Europe into two competing blocs militarily it has represented the area of greatest force concentration and greatest threat As NATO's strategic agenda changed with the end of the Cold War the central front remained a critical concern This book analyses the structure strategy and doctrines of both East and West and examines the relationship of NATO strategy to conventional force doctrines

Practical Applications of Advanced Technologies for Enhancing Security and Defense Capabilities: Perspectives and Challenges for the Western Balkans I. Djugumanov, 2022-08-31 Recent technological advances have transformed the sectors of security and defense While creating challenges for NATO and its partner countries this has also led to opportunities Technology has facilitated the emergence of new and unprecedented threats as terrorists and other non NATO state actors utilize new technologies to exploit personal data gather and misuse information and devise new methods On the other hand AI technology in particular has the potential to detect cyber intrusions predict terrorist acts and contribute to the development of better surveillance and reconnaissance systems and more effective responses It is therefore of vital importance that NATO and its partners keep their knowledge of these modern technologies up to date This book presents papers from the NATO Advanced Research Workshop ARW entitled Practical Applications of Advanced Technologies for Enhancing Security and Defense Capabilities Perspectives and Challenges for the Western Balkans held online from 14 to 21 October 2021 The main objective of the ARW was to explore the application of advanced technology for security and defense purposes and explore the development of strategies for regional cooperation between public academic and private actors The book also covers the legal technical and ethical challenges which can emerge in the deployment of AI and other advanced technologies in the defense and security sectors The book will be of interest to all those seeking a better understanding of the technical aspects of the threat environment and responses in the region and wishing to explore the use of AI and other advanced technologies in counter terrorism

NATO 2030 Jason Blessing, Katherine Kjellström Elgin, Nele Marianne Ewers-Peters, Rakel Tideman, 2021-11-30 The North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO is the world's largest most powerful military alliance The Alliance has navigated and survived the Cold War the collapse of the Soviet Union and the post 9 11 era Since the release of the 2010 Strategic Concept NATO's strategic environment has again undergone significant change The need to adapt is clear An opportunity to assess the Alliance's achievements and future goals has now emerged with the Secretary General's drive to create a new Strategic Concept for the next decade an initiative dubbed NATO 2030 A necessary step for formulating a new strategic outlook will thus be understanding the future that faces NATO To remain relevant and adjust to new circumstances the Alliance must identify its main challenges and opportunities in the next ten years and beyond This book contributes to critical conversations on NATO's future vitality by examining the Alliance's most salient issues and by offering recommendations to ensure its effectiveness moving forward Written by a diverse multigenerational group of policymakers and academics from across Europe and the United States this book provides new insights about NATO's changing threat landscape its shifting internal dynamics and the evolution of warfare The volume's authors tackle a wide range of issues including the challenges of Russia and China democratic backsliding burden sharing the extension of warfare to space and cyberspace partnerships and public opinion With rigorous assessments of NATO's challenges and opportunities each chapter provides concrete recommendations for the Alliance to chart a path for the future As such this book is an indispensable resource for NATO's strategic planners and security and defense experts more broadly

New Technologies, Defense Policy, and Arms Control Kosta Tsipis, 1989 The Defence Industrial Base and the West David G. Haglund, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1989 analyses the effect that interdependence has had on the defence industrial base concentrating upon those defence industries situated at the hi tech end and paying particular attention to the procurement decisions that affect the production of sophisticated military aircraft Interdependence raises questions of importance to international relations strategic studies and defence economics and Western industrialised states have an ongoing dilemma over the degree to which they should subject their defence industrial bases to the forces of economic interdependence Despite worries over strategic vulnerability most Western states have been showing increased interest in arms collaboration with the aim of maximizing the amount of weaponry available for defence As this book shows such a goal becomes increasingly important as the technological sophistication of weapons grows Professional Journal of the United States Army ,1984 International Security Studies and Technology Tobias T. Gibson,Kurt W.

Jefferson,2024-10-03 International Security Studies and Technology applies an interdisciplinary perspective to the study of emerging technologies and issues related to their development governance laws ethics understanding and mis use considering their impact on international security and established international norms Bringing together a diverse collection of experts Tobias T Gibson and Kurt W Jefferson analyse international security and technology through three conceptual frameworks approaches assessments and frontiers Humanitarian Violence Neda Atanasoski,2013-12-01 When is a war not a war When it is undertaken in the name of democracy against the forces of racism sexism and religious and political persecution This is the new world of warfare that Neda Atanasoski observes in Humanitarian Violence different in name from the old imperialism but not so different in kind In particular she considers U S militarism humanitarian militarism during the Vietnam War the Soviet Afghan War and the 1990s wars of secession in the former Yugoslavia What this book brings to light through novels travel narratives photojournalism films news media and political rhetoric is in fact a system of postsocialist imperialism based on humanitarian ethics In the fiction of the United States as a multicultural haven which morally underwrites the nation s equally brutal waging of war and making of peace parts of the world are subject to the violence of U S power because they are portrayed to be homogeneous and racially religiously and sexually intolerant and thus permanently in need of reform The entangled notions of humanity and atrocity that follow from such mediations of war and crisis have refigured conceptions of racial and religious freedom in the post Cold War era The resulting cultural narratives Atanasoski suggests tend to racialize ideological differences whereas previous forms of imperialism racialized bodies In place of the European racial imperialism U S settler colonialism and pre civil rights racial constructions that associated racial difference with a devaluing of nonwhite bodies Humanitarian Violence identifies an emerging discourse of race that focuses on ideological and cultural differences and makes postsocialist and Islamic nations the potential targets of U S disciplining violence North Atlantic Treaty Organization Phil Williams,2024-11-01 This volume consists of major books written in the English language on NATO as well as an extensive listing of journal articles that deal with various aspects of the Alliance All the major debates that have taken place over the last forty years are discussed

Mind the gap promoting a transatlantic revolution in military affairs ,1999 When American defense officials meet informally with their allies and friends from other North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries the conversation often turns to the growing disparity in combat capability between European and U S forces The problem is bemoaned but the participants are not stirred to action This is unfortunate We need a cross Atlantic debate that seeks feasible solutions to this problem Mind the Gap responds directly to that need It not only dissects the problem of a growing disparity but also rejects its inevitability Instead it lays out a multitiered strategy for its solution which is specific and practical including processes and procedures for implementation The proposed strategy is complicated and would be difficult to execute it would raise questions and even objections That is as it should be The alliance nevertheless has solved larger more complex problems We urgently need to find a way to close the gap because the problem is getting worse The United States continues to implement its vision of a globally mobile military force equipped with the latest technology The European members of NATO are not investing in similar capabilities As a result the gap will widen and be increasingly difficult to close      Congressional Record United States. Congress,1984 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress It is published daily when Congress is in session The Congressional Record began publication in 1873 Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789 1824 the Register of Debates in Congress 1824 1837 and the Congressional Globe 1833 1873      Strategic Review ,1978 dedicated to the advancement and understanding of those principles and practices military and political which serve the vital security interests of the United States
