Long, 2025-07-16 A reflection on the evolution of physical media into metaphor through the history of music curation Obsolescence makes the heart grow fonder at least in the case of the mixtape Not all technologies are so lucky Some say wax cylinders fade almost completely from cultural memory A lucky few pass into metaphor we still hang up our smartphones cut film and patch computer code As digital streaming completes the obsolescence of physical media what will become of the humble cassette In The Last Mixtape Seth Long offers a microhistory of music curation anchored by the cassette from which he explores the meanings of obsolescence ownership nostalgia and the speed of cultural change A moving meditation on our relationship with music memory and curation in the digital century Long ultimately calls for a return to the media ecology represented by the mixtape a world in which media is cheap and abundant but tactile and meaningfully engaged

Between Specters of War and Visions of Peace Gerald M. Mara,2019-04-03 Since the beginning of the twenty first century recurring political violence at both state and non state levels has eroded confidence in the progressively peaceful character of international relations and has unsettled the parameters of political thought Frames of peace and frames of war have throughout Western thought colored the questions that we ask about politics the descriptions of the pragmatic and moral alternatives that we face and the ideas and metaphors that we use at any given moment These frames as this book argues also obscure too much of political life Gerald M Mara proposes instead a political philosophy that takes both war and peace seriously and a style of theory committed to questioning rather than closure He challenges two powerful currents in contemporary political philosophy the verdict that premodern or metaphysical texts cannot speak to modern and postmodern societies and the insistence that all forms of political theory be some form of democratic theory Mara reexamines seminal texts in the history of political theory from Thucydides to Jacques Derrida and from Machiavelli to Judith Butler to examine how frames of reference of war and peace have structured both the writing of these texts as well as interpretations of them The result is not a linear history of ideas but a series of conversations between them and a democratic justification for moving beyond democratic theory Report Commonwealth Shipping Committee,1915 Creating Memory John Warkentin,2010 Toronto has over 600 public outdoor sculptures works of art that provide a sense of the rich variety of life and work in the city its peoples cultures and aspirations Interest in commissioning public sculpture began slowly in the nineteenth and early twentieth century but increased rapidly after the 1950s This is a book about the sculptures and how they disclose the city to itself Creating Memory s two introductory sections examine the factors behind this expansion over time and the changes in style as one generation of sculptors succeeded another It looks at the reasons behind the changes as sculptures were conceived sculpted and erected More than 10 categories of sculptures are defined and discussed including Founding the City Natural Environment Immigration Ethnic Groups Economic Activities Disaster and Calamity War And Conflict Leaders Ordinary Citizens Community Life and Works of the Imagination All Music Guide to Rock Vladimir Bogdanov,Chris Woodstra,Stephen Thomas Erlewine,2002-04 This fun to read easy to use reference has been completely updated expanded and revised with reviews of over 12 000 great albums by over 2 000 artists and groups in all rock genres 50 charts The New Records ,1966 Pearls of Wisdom, 1978 Mark L.
