Fryirs,2013-04-29 This book outlines a generic set of procedures termed the River Styles Framework which provides a set of tools for interpreting river character behavior condition and recovery potential Applications of the framework generate a coherent package of geomorphic information providing a physical template for river rehabilitation activities management and restoration of rivers is a rapidly growing topic for environmental scientists geologists and ecologists this book provides a learning tool with which to approach geomorphic applications to river management describes the essential geomorphological principles underlying river behaviour and evolution demonstrates how the River Styles Framework can turn geomorphic theory into practice to develop workable strategies for restoration and management based on real case studies and authors extensive experience applicable to river systems worldwide synthesises fluvial geomorphology ecology and management

Nathan,2013-05-03 Since the publication of the first edition 1994 there have been rapid developments in the application of hydrology geomorphology and ecology to stream management In particular growth has occurred in the areas of stream rehabilitation and the evaluation of environmental flow needs The concept of stream health has been adopted as a way of assessing stream resources and setting management goals Stream Hydrology An Introduction for Ecologists Second Edition documents recent research and practice in these areas Chapters provide information on sampling field techniques stream analysis the hydrodynamics of moving water channel form sediment transport and commonly used statistical methods such as flow duration and flood frequency analysis Methods are presented from engineering hydrology fluvial geomorphology and hydraulics with examples of their biological implications This book demonstrates how these fields are linked and utilised in modern scientific river management Emphasis on applications from collecting and analysing field measurements to using data and tools in stream management Updated to include new sections on environmental flows rehabilitation measuring stream health and stream classification Critical reviews of the successes and failures of implementation Revised and updated windows based AQUAPAK software This book is essential reading for 2nd 3rd year undergraduates and postgraduates of hydrology stream ecology and fisheries science in Departments of Physical Geography Biology Environmental Science Landscape Ecology Environmental Engineering and Limnology It would be valuable reading for professionals working in stream ecology fisheries science and habitat management environmental consultants and engineers Restoration of Puget Sound Rivers David R. Montgomery,Susan Bolton,Derek B. Booth,Leslie Wall,2015-12-31 The recent listing of Pacific salmon under the Endangered Species Act has led to substantial interest in the scientific basis for river restoration in the Pacific Northwest Millions of dollars in state and federal funding have been programmed for habitat restoration efforts to stem the decline of salmon populations in the region This volume addresses the need for a solid understanding of fluvial processes and aquatic ecology in order to predict both river and salmonid response to restoration projects In the Pacific Northwest as in most regions of the United States we are still learning about the processes that create habitat and river structure how those processes influence aquatic ecosystems and how to gauge the response of river systems to both land use changes and restoration efforts River systems are still responding to historic changes and degraded habitat may not be restored successfully if natural conditions are not well understood particularly if massive changes in watershed hydrology or other processes are the root cause These issues faced in the development of regional river restoration programs are by no means unique to the Northwest and so the initiation of a regional program of river restoration provides an opportunity to evaluate the state of river restoration in general The eighteen chapters of Restoration of Puget Sound Rivers presented by the region s experts at a symposium of the Society for Ecological Restoration examine geological and geomorphological controls on river and stream characteristics and dynamics biological aspects of river systems in the region and the application of fluvial geomorphology civil engineering riparian ecology and aquatic ecology in efforts to restore Puget Sound Rivers This volume will be of interest to geomorphologists aquatic biologists civil engineers planners and all those interested in the interface of science and policy in addressing one of the fundamental environmental challenges of the twenty first century
