Robert Adams Turning Back A Photographic:

Turning Back Robert Adams, 2005 Photographs by Robert Adams Turning Back Robert Adams, Haus der Kunst München, 2005 Along Some Rivers Robert Adams, 2006 Robert Adams one of America's foremost living photographers has spent decades considering and documenting the landscape of the American West and the ways it has been altered disturbed or destroyed by the hand of man A professor of English before turning to photography Adams is also a skilled writer and acute thinker on aesthetic questions Aperture's previous bestselling collections of his essays Beauty in Photography and Why People Photograph assembled his thoughts on a range of subjects including writing teaching photography's place in the arts and a host of fellow photographers Along Some Rivers collects Adams's correspondence and conversations some of which have never been published before with writers and curators including William McEwan Constance Sullivan and Thomas Weski In so doing it provides another point of entry offering a portrait of the artist in debate and elucidating his thoughts on a number of his now legendary projects including Cottonwoods and What We Bought Adams also expounds on why in his view Marcel Duchamp has not been a helpful guide for art and he discusses which filmmakers and painters have influenced him which cameras he prefers and how he approaches printing his pictures Along Some Rivers also includes a selection of 28 unpublished landscapes The Environmental Uncanny Brian A. Irwin, 2024-06-27 The Environmental Uncanny argues that the increasing destitution of our world is the result of a certain forgetfulness we have forgotten that the basis of our knowledge is not calculative reason but our participation in the natural world The modern built environment is exemplary of this forgetfulness and induces an uncanniness that can help us to understand the nature of our environmental crisis This book offers a unique interdisciplinary perspective on the global environmental crisis Ranging from traditional phenomenology including substantial discussion of both Merleau Ponty and Heidegger to philosophy of biology to architectural and urban design theory to landscape photography it makes illuminating connections to paint a multifaceted picture Tracing the root causes of dwindling biodiversity deforestation and suburban sprawl we can find how might we mark the path back toward a mode of rich inhabitation in a contemporary age In charting out how it is that we are losing our world Irwin offers a thought as to how we might regain it Stories from the Camera Michele M. Penhall, 2016-03-15 The remarkable photography collection of the University of New Mexico Art Museum owes its unique character and quality to the directors curators scholars and artists who have taught worked and studied at the museum and in the university's Department of Art and Art History In this indispensable book these distinguished scholars and artists reflect on the pictures from the collection that hold significance to them Through their own professional and artistic practice they represent different generations of aesthetic voices and intellectual directions As one of the earliest collegiate institutions to begin collecting photography the University of New Mexico Art Museum holds a stunning array of images that span photography's 175 year history In addition to iconic works by famous photographers this book also features less familiar but equally masterful pictures Together these essays represent a unique history of photography and this renowned museum

Writing with Light Mick Gidley,2010 Contributor Martin Padget s essay Native Americans the Photobook and the Southwest Ansel Adams and Mary Austin s Taos Pueblo was awarded the 2010 Arthur Miller Essay Prize This book offers a collection of essays on the interface between literature and photography as exemplified in important North American texts

Undermining Lucy R. Lippard,2006-09-13 A marvelous slim book that weaves ideas facts images and histories into a whole about the ecology of the manmade world Rebecca Solnit In Undermining the award winning author art historian and social critic Lucy R Lippard delivers another trademark work that combines text and full color images to explore the intersection of art the environment geography and politics Kirkus Reviews Working from her own experience of life in a New Mexico village and inspired by the gravel pits in the surrounding landscape Lippard addresses a number of fascinating themes including fracking mining land art adobe buildings ruins Indian land rights the Old West tourism photography and water In her meditations she illuminates the relationship between culture industry and the land From threatened Native American sacred sites to the history of uranium mining she offers a skeptical examination of the subterranean economy Featuring more than two hundred gorgeous color images Undermining offers a provocative new perspective on the relationship between art and place in a rapidly shifting society Lippard s strength lies in the depth of her commitment her dual loyalty to tradition and modernity and her effort to restore the broken connection between the two Suzi Gablik The New York Times Book Review Where We Live Judith Keller,Anne Lacoste,2006 This is a collection of more than 150 images from the Bruce and Nancy Berman Collection of contemporary photographs These images concentrate on the American landscape and the people and structures to be found in it Aperture ,2005 Material Meanings Matthew S.
