Romance Of Reality:

The Romance of Reality Bobby Azarian, 2022-06-28 Why do we exist For centuries this question was the sole province of religion and philosophy But now science is ready to take a seat at the table According to the prevailing scientific paradigm the universe tends toward randomness it functions according to laws without purpose and the emergence of life is an accident devoid of meaning But this bleak interpretation of nature is currently being challenged by cutting edge findings at the intersection of physics biology neuroscience and information theory generally referred to as complexity science Thanks to a new understanding of evolution as well as recent advances in our understanding of the phenomenon known as emergence a new cosmic narrative is taking shape Nature's simplest parts come together to form ever greater wholes in a process that has no end in sight In The Romance of Reality cognitive neuroscientist Bobby Azarian explains the science behind this new view of reality and explores what it means for all of us In engaging accessible prose Azarian outlines the fundamental misunderstanding of thermodynamics at the heart of the old assumptions about the universe's evolution and shows us the evidence that suggests that the universe is a self organizing system one that is moving toward increasing complexity and awareness Cosmologist and science communicator Carl Sagan once said of humanity that we are a way for the cosmos to know itself The Romance of Reality shows that this poetic statement in fact rests on a scientific foundation and gives us a new way to know the cosmos along with a riveting vision of life that imbues existence with meaning nothing supernatural required

Drs Scott and Carolyn Buss authors of numerous books recording artists co founders and directors of the Institute of Music Worship concert artists teachers missionaries speakers Their passionate love for music has led them to the nations where they have ushered people from varying ethnic generational and denominational backgrounds into the presence of the Lord as they ve played in great concert halls ministered in numerous churches and schools entertained thousands in elegant hotel ballrooms performed in the historical East Wing of the White House and other governmental buildings The key point is not what they have accomplished or where they have been but that they have played their violin and piano no differently for the audiences of a few in the remotest of mission fields or in small local gatherings The reason being is because they like Johann Sebastian Bach minister unto the greatest audience wherever they are and that is God Almighty the honored KING He is worthy of the deepest of expressions from the heart combined with excellence which is ministered from worshiping priests before the Lord for His glory Whether in song spoken messages or in the books they write their message is the same More Love More Unity More Peace for the heart cries of broken relationships in marriages and families split churches damaged friendships People hurt and don't know what to do

The Arbiters of Reality Peter West, 2008 The Arbiters of Reality Hawthorne Melville and the Rise of Mass Information Culture disrupts our critical sense of nineteenth century American literature by examining the storytelling strategies of both Nathaniel Hawthorne and Herman Melville in light of an emerging information industry Peter West reveals how these writers invoked telegraphic and penny press journalism daguerreotypy and moving panoramas in their fiction to claim for themselves a privileged access to a reality beyond the reach of a burgeoning mass audience Locating Hawthorne and Melville in vivid and overlooked contexts the Salem Murder scandal of 1830 which transformed Hawthorne's quiet city into a media manufactured spectacle and Melville's New York City of 1846-47 where the American Telegraph was powerfully articulating a nation at war West portrays the romance as a reactive deeply rhetorical literary form and a rich historical artifact In the early twenty first century it has become a postmodern cliché to place the word reality in scare quotes The Arbiters of Reality suggests that attending to the construction of the real in public life is more than simply a language of critique it must also be understood as a specific kind of romantic self invention

Flirting in the Era of #MeToo Alison Bartlett, Kyra Clarke, Rob Cover, 2019-04-30 This book provides a contemporary review of the social practices and representations of flirting In the wake of MeToo flirting has become entangled with stories of harassment and abuse that have generated both outrage and confusion Nevertheless this book argues that negotiating intimacy has always been an ambiguous social practice that can be risky and fraught and examines how the presiding perception of flirting is constructed in contemporary cultural media The book interrogates the relation between flirting and scandal the kinds of scripts available in popular culture and relations to feminism and other current social theories around gender and sexuality It asks the questions how can desire be declared How can playfulness be understood And what kind of language is available to speak about these complexities Drawing from a range of media forms such as public scandal reality television and teen film Flirting in the Era of MeToo argues that contemporary flirting is both provocative and conservative in its negotiation of an assemblage of shifting values and considers possibilities for social innovation and change in light of these competing tensions
